Twin Cities Merger: What Man On The Street Thinks

'YES, I'D SIGN A PETITION' — Mrs. Anthony F. Vranjos of 40 Lakeside drive, Corte Madera, tells Independent-Journal reporter William L. Earle she thinks it would be beneficial for Larkspur and Corte Madera to merge. Like many of those questioned in a spot survey, Mrs. Vranjos said she thought the matter should be put to a vote. By WILLIAM L. EARLE

For many years, the possibility of merging Larkspur and Corte Madera has been the subject of desultory discussion, but only in the past 18 months has it received serious high-level consideration.

Now, with one professional survey and two citizens' committee reports completed, the matter appears headed for a showdown.

The Larkspur City Council this month declared the proposal should be put to a vote of the people for "a proper decision." Corte Madera's five councilmen have not committed themselves.

What does the average citizen of the Twin Cities have to say about Larkspur-Corte Madera consolidation? The Independent-Journal took a random sampling of man-in-the-street opinion yesterday. Here are some of the comments:

MRS. J. S. SPROUL, 46 Paloma drive, Corte Madera: "I suppose that for reasons of efficiency and economy a merger would be feasible. But I'm afraid it might end our country way of living. I like being in a small town."

DALE EUBANKS, 110 Acacia avenue, Larkspur: "I am for it, and I would vote for it, but a Larkspur-Corte Madera merger wouldn't go far enough. As an individual, I would like to see a city and County of Marin."

REV. J. B. PENNELL, 76 Mohawk avenue, Corte Madera, retired Episcopalian minister who has just returned to Marin after a year's absence: "I have thought for a long time it might be a good thing for the two cities to merge."

R. D. LAYMAN, 50 Mohawk avenue, Corte Madera: "I think the towns should merge."

J. J. WAGNER, 210 William avenue, Larkspur: "This has been talked about for years, and I always thought it would be a pretty good idea, provided it's handled right . . . a vote at least would give an idea what all the people think of it."

MRS. ANTHONY F. VRANJOS, 40 Lakeside drive, Corte Madera: "Actually, I think it would be beneficial. I think we would have more efficient operation of the two cities if they combined . . . I don't particulary care what the new city would be named . . . Yes, I'd sign a petition for an election."

E. L. NININGER, 24 Liberty street, Larkspur: "I would favor it if they could achieve a more efficient municipal government at a smaller combined payroll cost . . . I think it's

West Gives Russia Plan For Reuniting Germany

'Package' Includes Disarm Proposals

GENEVA (AP) — The Western powers confronted Russia today with a sweeping 30-month package plan for uniting divided Berlin, merging East and West Germany and making a start on global disarmament.

Soviet Foreign Miinster Andrei Gromyko passed up a chance to denounce it immediately, although he had rejected it in advance yesterday.

Foreign Minister Lothar Bolz of Communist East Germany was quoted by a British press officer as telling the Big Four foreign ministers conference "this is of such importance that it deserves to be carefully studied."

WILL SPEAK LATER

A Soviet spokesman declared following the Big Four session that Gromyko later "will make his position known in detail."

French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, today's conference chairman, had asked Gromyko whether he wanted to speak. The Russian smiled but said nothing.

The massive, four-phase Western program was introduced in the fourth session of the Big Four foreign ministers conference as the Western response to Russia's demand that West Berlin be made a free city. It also countered Premier Nikita Khrushchev's call for a peace settlement with divided Germany.

MANPOWER LIMITS

The proposals provide for successive disarmament measures, including initial limits of two and one-half million men in the armed forces of the United States and Russia, and leading eventually to limitation and possible withdrawal of all foreign troops (Soviet and Western) from Germany and neighboring areas.

It would unify Germany in 30 months. United Germany would be free to elect membership in either the Atlantic Alliance (NATO) or the Soviet bloc's Warsaw Pact or to choose a neutral policy.

Whatever the choice, the big powers, Germany and other European countries would take steps to avoid any change in the East-West balance of power and could enter into agreements against aggression. Western leaders have long expressed confidence Germany would line up with the West.

PRESENTS PLAN

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, presenting the package on behalf of the United States, Britain and France, told Gromyko the plan "clearly shows that our governments

Board Plans On Smaller Juvenile Hall

20-Bed Institution Recommended By Probation Group

On the basis of a recommendation by the Marin County Probation Committee, the Marin County Board of Supervisors today voted to plan on a new 20-bed juvenile hall, in place of a 40-bed hall which the board previously had favored.

The probation committee reported to the board on this matter and others in presenting its recommendations concerning a recent California Youth Authority survey of youth needs and services. The CYA had recommended against a new hall.

FORESTRY CAMP

The board instructed County Administrator Donald A. Jensen to investigate the probation committee's recommendation that a forestry camp be built to relieve the crowding at juvenile hall.

Jensen is to report also on a possibility that the camp might be formed on the basis of joint use with Sonoma County.

The board delayed action on the committee's recommendation for increasing the staff until final consideration of the 1959-60 budget.

The committee recommended the addition of two adult deputies next July, one adult deputy in January, two juvenile deputies and two stenographers. The CYA differed in recommending only one juvenile deputy and one stenographer, and a deputy for crime.

VOLUNTEER COUNCIL

The committee recommended against the crime deputy, but asked for the formation of a volunteer council for the prevention of crime and delinquency under "the aegis of the probation committee." This would mean an $8,000-a-year deputy would not have to be hired, the committee said.

Other committee recommendations:

1. That the expansion of a juvenile hall is an immediate necessity.
2. Construction of a 10-bed forestry camp to be located in the county, but not at the Lucas Valley site.
3. Agreement with the CYA report that juveniles be directly delivered to juvenile hall rather than booked and fingerprinted at the county jail. (The board wanted this matter investigated further with a report on its handling as it concerns various police chiefs.)
4. Formation of a juvenile

KILLER SHARK ROAMING OFF MARIN PIER?

A 14-foot white shark, which may be the one that attacked and killed a youth at Baker's Beach in San Francisco last Thursday, was reported seen in shallow waters near Marin Rod and Gun Club pier yesterday afternoon.

Gordon Dixon, a director of the club, said the club caretaker, Ellis Springer, was among several who saw the shark swimming close to the pier in plain view of several fishermen.

The only description given by the witnesses was that it was white, about 14 feet long.

A shark attacked and killed Albert Kogler, 18, Thursday while he was swimming off Baker's Beach. Kogler was a son of Albert E. Kogler, Corte Madera town Councilman.

Big Tree Falls At Park, Just Misses Auto

A big Douglas fir crashed across Sir Francis Drake boulevard at Samuel P. Taylor Park at noon today, just missing an automobile.

Ranger Jack Schlotter said no one was hurt, and park personnel immediately began to reroute traffic through the park. The tree fell just opposite the main entrance to the park.

He said he did not know the occupant of the car, but added, "if he had been a second later he would have been clobbered."

Schlotter said the tree severed both high power electric lines and telephone lines and knocked down a telephone pole.

The California Highway Patrol was assisting in detouring traffic through the park. Pacific Gas and Electric Co. and Pacific Telephone crews were expected to untangle wires.

"It's a touchy situation," Schlotter said, "because of the danger of the wires."

He said the 100-foot tree may have fallen because of rotting around the base, but that no one has been able to get close enough to it for an inspection because of the danger from the broken power lines.

Schlotter traveled to Forest Knolls to report the incident.

HAFB Airmen Deny Attack On Petaluman

Two airmen from Hamilton Air Force Base, accused of battery on a Petaluma cafe operator, pleaded innocent today in Petaluma Justice Court and their preliminary hearing was set for 10 a.m. Monday.

Four other airmen, accused of kidnapping a San Rafael man and forcing indignities on him at knifepoint in a crime with many features similar to the one in Petaluma, were picked out of a 10-man lineup at the county jail yesterday by the victim of the attack.

PLEAD INNOCENT

A/2c Luther C. James, 22, and A/3c Andrew Crowe, 28, both of the 78th Fighter Wing at Hamilton, entered pleas of innocent in the Petaluma Justice Court of Judge Rolland Webb.

They were remanded to the Sonoma County Jail at Santa Rosa to await preliminary hearing Monday at 10 a.m. They are under bail of $1,000 each. They had not obtained an attorney on their appearance today.

James and Crowe are accused of beating Grant Miller, Petaluma cafe operator, who said he met them in a bar Sunday night, drank with them and accompanied them on a ride that ended near a quarry south of Petaluma.

LOSES SHOES

There, he said, the pair attacked him. One thrust a beer can opener up Miller's nose and threatened to tear his nose off if he did not submit to indignities. Miller escaped, but lost his shoes in the struggle.

Blimp Crashes Into Hanger; Crewman Dies

LAKEHURST, N. J. (AP)—One crewman was killed early today when a silvery Navy blimp crashed into a hangar while attempting to land in a dense fog. Six crewmen were hospitalized and several others suffered minor injuries.

The wreckage was wedged in the hangar roof 150 feet above the ground.

LIEUTENANT DIES

The dead man was identified as Lt. (j.g.) David Malcolm Loyd of Vega, Tex., He had been crushed in the wreckage.

The freak accident left the wreckage near the top of the 150-foot high hangar. The whole rooftop was shrouded by the limp folds of the blimp's great gas bag.

Rescuers had to reach the scene with aerial ladders and then tunnel beneath the deflated bag to reach the gondola car where the injured lay. It had rammed partially through the hangar roof and remained stuck fast.

ROUTINE PATROL

The ZPG2 blimp was returning from a routine 21-hour anti-submarine patrol early today. It was making a radar-controlled instrument approach through a swirling fog that blanketed out everything more than 100 feet away.

The huge bag was ripped by the wreckage and its million cubic feet of helium wooshed

Hallinan: Russian Prisons Superior

MOSCOW (UPI)—Vincent Hallinan of Ross, onetime U.S. presidential candidate who served two prison terms in the United States, said after a visit to one Moscow jail and one court yesterday that he liked the Soviet prison system better.

Attorney Hallinan, whom the State Department once barred from visiting Canada because of his leftist activities, said he saw in the prison he visited "reforms I've been trying to get through California courts for 30 years."

Hallinan was a candidate for president on the Independent Progressive Party ticket. He came here earlier this month with his wife and two of their six sons to pick up some ideas he hopes to take back to California.

He served five months in federal prison for contempt of court in the Harry Bridge perjury trial and 14 months for income tax evasion.

Hallinan said the jail he saw had five physicians, a surgeon, two dentists, X-ray technicians and a psychiatrist. He said it had a library with 16,000 books and five librarians, four recreation halls and a movie theater.

"I was told a committee of 15 persons, including 10 trade unionists, visits the jails monthly to hear the prisoners' complaints," Hallinan said.

"To prevent degradation of a prisoner, he works eight hours and receives the same pay as if he were not in prison. When he leaves prison he has accumulated money. He also gets a job immediately.

"In the United States an ex-convict is practically destroyed. He goes out of prison with $20 and buys a gun."

Hallinan watched a trial in the Moscow People's Court.

He liked the idea of no jury. Instead, a judge is helped in deciding a verdict and sentence by two "assessors"—elected by factory unions.

Hallinan also conferred with a group of lawyers from the Moscow bar.

He said he was told that abortion was legal as long as it was performed by a physician, and the patient was entitled to full sick pay.

He said he was told that in the Russian Republic—one of the 15 republics of the Soviet Union—free narcotics were made available for addicts who are considered old and harmless and "thus there is no reason for narcotics traffic."

He said he was told narcotics figures were not available for the other 15 republics.

Hallinan said he was told that homosexuality between men was a punishable offense in the Soviet Union.

He said he had decided that the Soviet Union was ahead of both Britain and the United States in its penal system, including laws and persons.

General Twining Has Lung Cancer

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A cancerous tumor was found in the lung of Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the Defense Department announced today.

The department said the entire diseased portion of the left lung was removed in an operation Tuesday, and there was no evidence of involvement in any other areas of the chest.

Defense officials said they expected Twining to be out of the hospital in three or four weeks and to be back on the job a couple of weeks after that.

Steel Union Chief, Ike Due To Meet

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower arranged to meet today with David McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers Union.

Arrangements for the conference at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel were announced as representatives of the union and steel industry concluded a two-hour contract negotiation session.

The announcement was made by White House press secretary James C. Hagerty, who said the Eisenhower-McDonald meeting would be "just a social call."

Asked whether Eisenhower and McDonald were likely to discuss the union-industry wage negotiations, Hagerty replied:

"I wouldn't know."

Eisenhower has called repeatedly on both labor and industry to exercise statesmanship and avoid another wage-inflation spiral.

Senate Unit Favors Curb On Billboards

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A bill which would restrict the number of billboards along scenic highways was approved by the Senate Finance committee today.

The bill was introduced by Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael).

Opponents of the bill, principally representatives of the Foster and Kleiser outdoor advertising company, said the bill if enacted into law would cost the state indemnities for depriving property owners of their right to fees from advertising signs on their properties.

McCarthy said, however, that this would be doubtful since the bill merely sets up machinery for counties to zone billboard signs off scenic routes.

One Escapee Back At Juvenile Hall

One of two girls, who leaped out of a car in San Rafael last Friday noon to escape from Marin Juvenile Hall, was found last night crouching on the floorboard of a car under a blanket in Mill Valley.

She is a 16-year-old from Mill Valley, who jumped from a car with a 14-year-od redhead to escape the girls' supervisor, who was taking the two back to juvenile hall. The younger girl is still missing.

Deputy Sheriff Edward Klementovich was sent to 32 Midway in Mill Valley on a tip that the missing girls could be found. He checked twice, and on the second call, about 8 p.m., he found the girl hiding in the car. She said she knows nothing about the other missing girl.

$200 Damage In Danish Home Fire

An unattended electric iron set off a $200 blaze at Aldersly Danish Home at 326 Mission avenue, San Rafael, last evening. Estimate of the damage was made by Capt. B. E. Cook of San Rafael Fire Department.

The iron, on top of a trunk in the storeroom, burned the trunk, a nearby stand, and several other objects. Wall surfaces were blistered by the flames and will require repainting, firemen said. Six firemen under Captain Cook were able to confine the fire to the storeroom.

I-J Salutes Outdoor Living

In Marin, the outdoors is an integral part of everyday life.

Some of the ways the Marvelous Marin outdoors enters into daily life of residents are described in the Independent-Journal's annual "Outdoor Living" supplement, which appears today. It's full of ideas, too, about outdoor cooking, backyard design, pools, boating and other activities linked to the out-of-doors.

JUDGE SEES BOY

Father Held To Answer On Charges Of Beating Child

A Marin Municipal Court judge ordered a Mill Valley mechanic held to answer on child beating charges after hearing testimony and getting a look at the bruised body of the boy this morning.

Lowell Francis Sherman, 25, of 338 Morningsun avenue will face felony charges in Marin Superior Court.

Judge Albert F. Scheidecker of Sebastopol, sitting on the Marin bench, decided there was enough evidence to warrant prosecution of the father.

Mrs. June Hockin of 405 Ash way, Mill Valley, said she babysat for the Sherman child, Nicholas, 2. Last Friday, she noticed bruises over the lower body and buttocks of the child.

Both Inspector Carl Sears and Deputy Sheriff Arthur Wiggins testified the boy had a black eye and severe bruises as well as puncture wounds on his body. They said they asked Sherman how the child was bruised, and the father replied, "I make my child mind."

Deputy Dist. Atty. P. Roy Vallarino asked the judge to take a look at the boy. Defense attorney Fred R. Winn of San Francisco did not object. The boy walked into the judge's chamber, holding to the hand of his father. The mother was not present in court.

Ceramics Firm Will Build At Marinship

The Sausalito Planning Commission last night granted a use permit to Heath Ceramics, to construct a 15,000-square-foot factory building in the Marinship area north of the former Mold Loft Building.

Owner Brian Heath said the 12-year-old firm, now located in the Village Fair Building on Bridgeway, would move to the new quarters upon their completion.

The planners also:

1. Recommended to the city council that the Waldo Point property on which Rudy Lang Jr. plans an apartment project be zoned for such use when it is annexed to the city. The recommendations carries a series of stipulations on its use.

2. Recommended to the council that the interim zoning ordinance be revised to require a minimum of 2,500 square feet of land for each living area in multiple housing zones. There is now no minimum.

3. Granted a use permit to Norman Johnson to construct eight studio apartments in the Marinship area adjacent to the sportfishing pier.

4. Granted a permit to Dr. Frank J. Bruchia to construct a nine-unit apartment building at Valley and Second streets.

5. Postponed action on an application from Lloyd S. Linton to construct three duplexes on Edwards avenue, due to offstreet parking problems.

6. Postponed action on an application from Roger Heiser for approval to build apartments at the head of Hurricane Gulch near U.S. Highway 101.

7. Decided to confine the June 10 meeting for discussion of the city's general plan.

Restaurant In Hub Opens Tomorrow

The Fleur de Lys restaurant, which first took root in San Anselmo and then was transplanted to San Francisco, will open again in San Anselmo tomorrow.

The French cuisine of Robert Charles and his wife will be served in a new dining room at 112 Spaulding avenue.

Peach-tinted windows will give an outlook to the castle-like lines of the San Francisco Theological Seminary and Mt. Tamalpais looming past it.

The Fleur de Lys will be open daily from 5:30 p. m., except on Monday and Tuesday.

Monsieur and Madame Charles first established their Fleur de Lys restaurant in San Anselmo in 1955. The new dining room, which can seat about 50 persons, will be operated concurrently with their San Francisco restaurant scheduled to reopen on May 26.

U.S. Seizes Liner To Satisfy Debts

ALAMEDA (AP) — The U.S. government seized the 650-passenger liner Leilani Tuesday to satisfy claims of the Federal Maritime Administration.

Deputy U.S. Marshal Tom McGowan taped the writ of arrest to a window and announced: "The ship is in the custody of the United States of America and cannot be removed."

The Federal Maritime Administration has asked the U.S. District Court to approve the ship's auction to satisfy debts of almost five million dollars.

Hawaiian Textron laid up the liner last December because she was not profitable.

Plumbers To Have Retirement Spot

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Ninety acres of land on the shores of Clear Lake in Lake County will be used as a retirement spot for Bay Area plumbers, it was reported today.

Employers of plumbers here paid $275,000 for the site where a pensioners' housing project and recreational facilities will be built. Funds were contributed by employers to a trust fund over a three-year period.

The property, bought from Albert Engle of San Francisco, already has several houses and a boat dock.

Catholic High Students Pick Officers For Next Year

Arthur Quinn, 16-year-old junior from San Rafael, yesterday was elected 1959-60 president of the Marin Catholic High School student body.

Quinn, whose term wil start in September, defeated juniors Blake Rodgers and James Klein in the schoolwide balloting.

The number of votes cast for candidates for the various school offices was not disclosed by Marin Catholic officials.

Kathy Marcone, 16, of San Anselmo won the student body vice presidency. A junior, she outpolled Melinda Hilton and Judy Munch.

Lynn Rising of Mill Valley, a 16-year-old junior, defeated Suzy Adam for secretary. Sophomore Mike Garvey, 16, of San Anselmo was elected student body treasurer. His opponent was Will Guerrero.

Malcolm McLorg, 16, a junior from San Anselmo, was named rally commissioner. He defeated Joseph Behm.

Yesterday's election climaxed a week of poster campaigning and speeches by the candidates and their managers.

MARIN FIRE CALLS

Two Officers Rated Command Pilots

Two Hamilton Air Force Base officers who went through pilot training together and were awarded their wings in 1944, Lt. Col. Robert R. Osborn and Lt. Col. Mark J. Brown, were awarded command pilot ratings this week.

Both are members of the 4th Weather Squadron at the base.

Osborn is staff weather officer for Western Air Defense Force Headquarters. Brown is staff weather officer for the 28th Air Division.

The command pilot rating requires a minimum of 15 years and 3,000 hours flying time as a rated pilot.

College Board May Hold Closed Meet

The Marin Junior College Board will be asked by President Ward H. Austin to go into executive session at its meeting tonight to discuss personnel matters.

Asked by the Independent-Journal to elaborate today, Austin said only that he will request "an executive session for discussion of , personnel matters permissible under the Brown Act," California's anti-secrecy law.

During the open portion of the meeting, scheduled for 8 p.m., the board will further discuss the question of installing new lights at the college football field.

Austin will request that the college commencement be set June 17 to avoid conflict with those of Tamalpais, San Rafael and Sir Francis Drake High Schools. He will also request authorization to advertise for bids for painting, paving and other summer maintenance work.

Burdell School Losing Its Veteran Teacher

The Burdell School District, which lost its historic one-room school house in a spectacular fire last Nov. 23, is now losing its teacher, Mrs. Florence Adams.

Mrs. Adams last night announced her intention to retire after 16 years as the district's teacher.

Trustees accepted the resignation with expressions of regret.

Mrs. Adams, who started teaching in the Burdell School in September of 1943, will leave at the end of the present term to join her husband in retirement, "to take trips, keep up our flower garden and do all the things that retired people do," she said. They reside at 758 Plaza Hermosa, Novato.

Mrs. Adams now is teaching Burdell's dozen pupils in a rented classroom at Our Lady of Loretto Parochial School in Novato, where classes have been conducted since the fire.

Looking back on her 26 years of teaching, Mrs. Adams said "I've enjoyed it all the way through. It's been an interesting experience— but a busy one."

Since she obtained her teaching credentials from Humboldt State College, she has taught school — always at one-room, rural schools — in Sonoma, Humboldt, and finally Marin Counties.

"The larger schools offer many advantages," she says. "But in the one-room school there is a personal relationship between the child and the teacher. It's almost a tutoring job. And I believe they advance faster because of the personal help a teacher is able to give them.

Sausalito School Hopefuls Invited

Candidates for the Sausalito Elementary School District board have been invited to speak at an 8 o'clock meeting of the Sausalito Citizens Council tonight at the IDESSI hall on Caledonia street, according to Carl Spring, corresponding secretary.

The council will also elect directors at the meeting.

County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel will be present to discuss assessment procedures.

School board candidates are incumbent Mrs. Minnie Sivers, Dr. John S. Wellington and Walter E. Lord.

Hinton Again Heads North Scout District

Dr. E. Mark Hinton, superintendent of San Rafael Military Academy, last night was re-elected chairman of the Marin Boy Scout Council's Northern District. The district stretches from San Rafael to Novato.

Re-elected as vice chairmen were Roane Sias of Terra Linda and Ray Muir of Novato.

New district commissioner is Victor Myers of Novato, who will head the staff of commissioners that assist all Scout troops, Explorer units and cub packs in the northern district.

Special awards for outstanding service to scouting were presented to James Otis of Novato, Charles Convis of Marinwood, Burton Stutz of Marinwood (retiring district commissioner); Joseph A. Wruburton of San Rafael; Mrs. Robert A. Money of Novato, and Harold Kwan of Novato.

A calendar of events for the 1959-60 year was planned at last night's meeting, reported David A. Rice, district staff executive.

ROBERT C. MORRIS

Marin Man Gets New Railroad Job

Robert C. Morris, a veteran railroad man of San Rafael, has joined the San Francisco staff of the Western Pacific Railroad's marketing division.

Morris began working in the railroad's mechanical department in Sacramento in 1942, served as Oakland roundhouse foreman in 1948-49, and transferred to the research section of the president's office in 1956.

A native of Glenn's Ferry, Ida., and a graduate of the University of California, Morris resides with his wife, Norene, and two children at 651 Idylberry road, Lucas Valley.

Building Permits Continue Upward Trend During April

Building permit totals in Marin during April continued their appreciable gain over 1958 as building inspectors in the county issued $5,244,239 in new authorizations, according to the monthly tabulation prepared by the Marin Development Foundation.

The total for April is 62.2 per cent above the same month last year and brought the accumulated total for the first four months of 1959 to $20,393,799, which is 35 per cent more than a year ago.

The county's incorporated areas, particularly San Rafael, contributed heavily to the total.

Assisted mainly by permits for apartment projects, San Rafael led the county with $1,232,750 in new authorizations. It was followed closely by the Novato area with a total of $1,197,965. Corte Madera continued its healthy activity with $520,868.

Included in San Rafael's total were four apartment projects aggregating 88 dwelling units valued at $695,000.

Countywide during April, the permits included seven duplexes and eight apartment projects totaling 132 dwelling units. This is the highest privately built total for any month since the foundation started keeping a separate record of multiple dwelling unit construction in January.

So far this year, 724 of the 1,299 dwelling units authorized have been in multiples, including 424 for private construction and 300 public in Marin City.

Residential Chief Named For Crusade

Mrs. E. Gould Ingram of 2 Lagoon road, Belvedere, has been appointed Marin County residential division chairman of the 1959 United Crusade, it was announced today by Edward W. Bullard Jr., Marin's United Crusade campaign chairman, and Mrs. Thomas J. Mellon, Marin United Fund president.

The Marin Chapter of American Red Cross has assumed leadership for the residential solicitation this year and named Mrs. Ingram as chairman from its board of directors.

Mrs. Ingram will be responsible for the residential organization and solicitation in Marin's United Crusade October drive.

Each agency receiving funds in Marin County will assist her by taking the responsibility for a given area, said Bullard.

Marshall Trustees Set Budget Study

Trustees of the Marshall School District in northwest Marin have set for 3 p.m., June 23 in the Marshall School a special board meeting to consider the district's 1959-60 budget.

The budget is expected to be in the neighborhood of $10,000. The district maintains a single first-through-sixth grade school, currently serving 26 pupils.

Virgil S. Hollis, county superintendent, will attend the June 23 session to assist in preparation of the budget. Hollis was present at Tuesday's board meeting, speaking briefly on school unification and reporting on his visits to Marin's smaller school districts during Public Schools Week.

Two Marshall eighth graders are expected to be graduated this year. Trustees set an evening graduation party for June 16 in the schoolhouse.

TWO BIG PENNEY STORES TO SERVE YOU — SAN RAFAEL and CORTE MADERA

NOT A SURE THING

Reason For Merger Reluctance Told

"What is the real reason behind Corte Madera's reluctance to have a vote on merger with Larkspur?" asked a listener to this morning's KTIM broadcast of the "Marin Sounding Board."

"For myself," replied Corte Madera Councilman William R. Hansen, "it's lack of definite indication there is a gain. I feel we should wait until the two councils can say to the voters, "Here, we agree on these facts . . . They're irrevocable . . . We can make X dollars savings.'

"I don't think we can go before the people and say, 'Do you want to go on a chance we can save?' "

WOULD FAVOR, IF

This view was backed up by Phil Arnone, chairman of the Corte Madera merger study committee, who said he would favor a vote "if we were sure of a tax saving."

The other two panelists, both from Larkspur, argued that a study prepared by Public Affairs Research of Oakland demonstrated a saving could be made for both cities.

The program will be heard again from a tape-recording at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

Daniel Allen, mayor of Larkspur, and Arthur Storhaug, member of a Larkspur group that studied the financial aspects of the proposed merger, both urged that the voters be given a chance to decide on the merger proposal.

NEEDS UPDATING

All four agreed that the merger study, prepared more than a year ago, needed updating. But Mayor Allen said, "I don't see how you can discount the actual savings shown in the Zion (research study) report."

"It isn't fair to ask people to vote on something they can't understand," said Arnone. He described the job of delving into the research study as a "chore" which required an "analytical mind."

Storhaug said the research study showed a tax reduction of about 73 cents per $100 assessed valuation for Corte Madera residents and a 16-cent tax reduction for Larkspur residents.

When the Larkspur study group gathered updated figures they came up with about the same proportion of reduction, Storhaug said: A 67-cent reduction in Corte Madera and a 12-cent reduction in Larkspur.

TAX RATE

He said a consolidated city would have a tax rate between 85 and 90 cents.

Mayor Allen said William R. Zion, the man who prepared the original study, would update the figures at no extra cost to the councils. They paid $2,500 for the research study.

Councilman Hansen protested that the 30 or 40 hours Zion is still obligated to give are not enough to obtain "the more comprehensive figures we will need."

Allen replied that it would be fairly easy to insert the current fiscal year's tax rate and expenditures and the 1959-60 budgets of the two towns.

Hansen, however, did not consider this additional data sufficient to predict savings "for the next 40 to 100 years." Until the current fiscal year, when both Larkspur and Corte Madera used county appraisals and the same assessment rate, their tax rates have been difficult to compare.

BIG FOUR

have gone very far to meet Soviet preoccupations"

He declared there were important modifications in Western policy as it has stood since 1955.

"We earnestly hope," he said, "that the Soviet government will for its part make a comparable effort and thus make it possible to find at least a basis for mutual understanding."

Berlin, in the first phase of the package program, would be united by "free elections to be held through all Berlin under supervision" of either the big powers or the United Nations. The United States, Russia, Britain and France would keep their troops until the final German peace settlement provided for in the fourth phase.

CITY COUNCIL

A city council would be responsible for administering the whole city under the general supervision of the Big Four, but the powers could intervene in city affairs only by unanimous vote.

The West made a compromise approach to Russia's demand that East and West Germany must negotiate reunification directly between themselves . It proposed in the second phase the creation of a mixed German committee of 25 West and 10 East Germans to make plans for increased contacts between the two Germanys and to draft an all-German electoral law.

THIRD PHASE

In the third phase, an all-German parliament or assembly would be elected at the end of the 30-month period. The free and secret elections would be supervised by East and West Germans plus either United Nations or Big Four representatives

The Western powers said the all-German assembly would complete the unification process by drafting a constitution and forming an "all-German government on the basis of the constitution with freedom of decision in internal and external affairs." That would be the fourth phase.

Accident Didn't Amount To Much

An accident on Indian Valley road in Novato about 6 p.m. yesterday sent highway patrolmen, sheriff's deputies and an ambulance to the scene.

But apparently nothing much happened. Neither the sheriff's office nor the Highway Patrol had details of the mishap. The Bay Bridge office of the Highway Patrol said no one was hurt. Apparently a carload of juveniles had gone off the road.

too bad Redwood High School (partly in Larkspur, Corte Madera and unincorporated territory) can't be located within a single jurisdiction . . . if I were a Corte Maderan, I would feel a little different about it. It would be tough to be gobbled up by another city . . . If the cities do merge, maybe they should come up with a new name."

MRS J. T. ROSE, 55 Mohawk avenue, Corte Madera: "I'd have to think a little bit more about it before I could express an opinion."

LOUIS MALVINO, 75 Yale avenue, Larkspur, partner in Louis-George Men's Apparel Store at Corte Madera Center: "I guess it would be a saving to both communities inasmuch as a lot of the facilities—police, fire protection and so forth—would be combined for more efficient operation . . . Yes, I think there should be a vote."

BETTY LEE SIDARI, owner of May's Restaurant, 60 Corte Madera avenue, Corte Madera: "I actually don't believe it would help Corte Madera. I'm neutral, though. I don't really care one way or the other. But then if it doesn't help Corte Madera, why merge?"

JOSEPH GRANDE, co-owner of Marin Ambulance Service, 4 Ward street, Larkspur: "I think it's a good idea myself and has great possibilities for business—also tax-wise, population-wise and from the standpoint of increased efficiency of fire and police protection. The quicker we can vote on it the better."

MRS. C. U. CHAPMAN, 495 Chapman drive, Corte Madera: "I do personally believe that more towns should be merged. I think all these tax-eating governments are just expensive luxuries."

OAKLEY DEXTER JR., 330 Madrone avenue, Larkspur, owner of Dexter's TV and Radio Service, 25 Ward street, Larkspur: "I think it should definitely be brought to a vote. The facts should be made available to the people, and they should decide it themselves. As president of the Larkspur Chamber of Commerce, I don't think I should express my personal opinion on the question, but I certainly don't think it should be left up to 10 councilmen."

J. J. NIEBAUER, 10 Wiltshire avenue, Larkspur: "I doubt very much if my wife and I would be in favor—except for one thing: It would materially cut down the cost of governmental operations. Otherwise, we like our little city of Larkspur."

HARRY COOPER, owner of Cooper's Cleaners, 30 Tamalpais drive, Corte Madera, and former Corte Madera mayor: "I feel we (in Corte Madera) should stay by ourselves. I like home rule, and I like a small town . . . If enough people request it, I think the question should be brought to a vote. Some people think they'd save taxes, but it's pretty hard to tell about that. With our Corte Madera Shopping Center, the town's sales tax revenue eventually should hit about $100,000."

K. R. ANDERSON, owner of the Larkspur Pharmacy, 472 Magnolia avenue, Larkspur: "Their (Corte Madera's) sales tax structure, and the emphasis they place upon it, will not bring anywhere near what the property owners pay to their local government . . . I think it would be a good thing getting the two small communities together with a little larger voting power. It would provide a stronger government. But, of course, there has been a tradition of two towns—rival towns in a friendly way—and it's rather hard to change that conception . . . They'd better put it to a vote of the people."

bureau in the sheriff's office, a "cardinal point in the lowering of the juvenile hall population." "Note how low the commitments . . . from San Rafael have fallen compared to the unincorporated areas due to the work of only one juvenile officer in their department," the report said.

5. An increase in the subsidy now being paid to foster homes by the welfare department so they will be available at all times. "This susbsidy would be cheap at 10 times the price as it serves to reduce the population" at the hall and postpone outlays for construction, the report said.

The board generally agreed with this last recommendation. Funds for this are tentatively set up in the welfare department budget.

out through its rent sides. The gas is noninflammable and dispersed without harm into the fog.

Rescuers at first were unable to locate four officers and two men beneath the entangling sheets of the 343-foot long bag. They were found in the forepart of the metal alloy gondola.

After almost five hours one of the officers was pried loose. He was taken down a ladder strapped in a litter.

The crew members in the rear of the car were unhurt and made their way down ladders to safety.

There were eight officers and 10 enlisted men aboard. The blimp was about two years old. It is made up of a sausage-shaped balloon that holds the helium and the gondola car that hangs below it. The blimp's two motors are attached to the gondola.

Jazz Festival At College Opens Today

A three-day jazz festival featuring 12 bands, large and small, will start tonight at 8 o'clock in Olney Hall of College of Marin.

College bands from San Francisco, San Mateo, Vallejo and Marin, plus several amateur adult Marin bands, will compete for trophies.

The festival is sponsored by the College of Marin Music Club. Proceeds will go to the American Field Service's exchange student scholarship fund.

Buddy Webber, KGO radio personality, will be master of ceremonies . Thompson Chesnut, College of Marin instrumental music director, will be festival director.

The Saturday night program will include a lecture on jazz by Dr. S. I. Hayakawa of Mill Valley, professor of language arts at San Francisco State College His talk will be followed by presentation of awards and a dance.

moulder who lives at 43 Harbor street, San Rafael, watched through a small opening in the metal door of a Marin County Jail cell yesterday as 10 inmates, including the four airmen, paraded past on the other side.

Inspector Bowen Bridges of the sheriff's department, who traced the suspects to Hamilton Air Force Base, said Buenrosto picked out Thomas Samuel Michaels, 24; Richard P. Weitzel, 24; Norman Carl McCracken, 28, and Wayne R. Carr, 22 All are members of Detachment 1 of the 2347th Material Squadron.

The four appeared before Judge Albert F. Schneidecker in Marin Municipal Court and were granted a continuance until Monday afternoon to consult with a lawyer and enter pleas.

They are accused of kidnapping, felonious assault, committing lewd acts and conspiracy to commit such crimes. They are being held in jail in lieu of $5,000 bail each.

Buenrosto said he met the four men at Club Rio last Thursday night. He said they offered to drive him home. On the way, they pulled onto a side road, pressed a knife against his throat and beat him until he feigned unconsciousness, Buenrosto told officers.

Ronald F. May Service Slated

Funeral services for Ronald F. May of Sausalito will be held at Harry M. Williams Mortuary tomorrow at 2 p.m.

May, who was 55, died in a local hospital last Saturday. He had been hospitalized since April 3 and underwent lung surgery two weeks before his death.

A native of Minnesota, he lived at 209 Second street, Sausalito, since coming to Marin County. He was traffic manager for the Army at the Presidio of San Francisco.

He has no immediate survivors.

Bernard O'Hagan Funeral Tomorrow

Funeral services for Bernard O'Hagan, laboratory technician at the Kaiser Foundation Clinic in San Rafael, will be conducted tomorrow at 10 a.m. at Harry M. Williams Mortuary.

O'Hagan, 49, died Tuesday in a San Francisco hospital. He had been in ill health for a long time, but was hospitalized just Monday.

He resided at 301 G street the past year while working at the clinic. He was employed about seven years at Arequipa Center before returning to Ireland for a visit.

He was born in Ireland and came to the United States at the age of 19. He spent about 20 years in the San Jose vicinity .

O'Hagan is survived by a sister, Eileen O'Hagan of Canada, and a brother, Joseph O'Hagan of Ireland.

Percy R. Mahoney Dies In Rest Home

Funeral services for Percy R. Mahoney of Corte Madera will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Holy Innocents' Episcopal Church, Corte Madera.

Mahoney, 85, died yesterday at a local rest home, where he had been for two weeks. He had been in failing health for several years.

He came to Marin County with his wife, Laura, last September. They shared the home of their granddaughter, Mrs. Barbara Garrett, at 49 Paloma drive.

The Mahoneys lived in Anaheim for 10 years before coming here, but spent many years in Portland, Ore. Mahoney was a salesman for Sunstrand adding machine firm in Portland before retiring.

He was born in Richmond, Va. and lived in Washington, D.C. and Chicago before coming to the West Coast. He was affiliated with Woodmen of the World in Portland.

In addition to Mrs. Mahoney and Mrs. Garrett, survivors are his daughter, Mrs. Gladys Okerlund of Los Angeles; a grandson, Richard Okerlund of Torrance, Los Angeles County; and three great-grandchildren.

Interment will be in Forest Lawn Cemetery, Glendale, with Chapel of the Hills of San Anselmo making local arrangements.

Former Marinite Roy Marshall Dies

Roy Marshall, a former San Rafael resident, died at a Sebastopol hospital this week after three months illness, it was learned here today. He was 75.

He was owner-operator of the Marshall Apple Orchard near Sebastopol for the past 20 years. He grew up in San Rafael and later worked at the San Rafael Post Office.

His father, Rev. William Marshall, was minister of the Methodist Church here for many years before his death.

Roy Marshall was a member of Company D of the National Guard as a young man and served as captain for four years. He was member of the California State Rifle Team and in 1913 participated in the National Rifle Championships at Boston, Mass.

Survivors are his wife, Gay Marshall, who was formerly Gay Eastman of San Anselmo; two sons, Robert and William Marshall, and three grandchildren, all of Sebastopol; and two sisters, Mrs. Frances Winkler of Sebastopol and Mrs. Eleanor Valiant of Redwood City.

Rites Set For Blanche Eager

A Low Mass will be offered for Mrs. Blanche Eager, 65, of Novato, at 9:30 a.m. Saturday at St. Agnes Church, Masonic and Page street, San Francisco. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

Mrs. Eager, housekeeper for Rev. Charles J. Farrell of Our Lady of Loretto Church, Novato, died Tuesday night at the pastor's home. She had been ill several months ago and had apparently recovered, but had been under a physician's care for a heart condition.

She was a native of San Francisco and came to Marin County in September, 1956, to work for Father Farrell. She was the widow of Walter E. Eager, an electrical engineer for Western Electric Co., who died in 1937.

Mrs. Eager is survived by her son, Walter J. Eager, and three grandchildren, all of San Rafael.

The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Chapel of Arthur J. Sullivan and Co., San Francisco.

Texas Rites Held For Ex-Marin Man

Funeral services were held yesterday in Bowie, Tex., for J. A. (Shortie) Evans, former Novato and Marin City resident, who died at a hospital in Bowie Sunday after an illness of several years. He was 58.

Evans, a retired maintenance worker, had moved to Bowie only three months ago with his wife, Neoma. They had been residents of 670 Olive avenue, Novato, for three years, having moved there from Marin City.

Besides his wife, he is survived by a daughter and three sons; Mrs. Victor Johnson, Novato; Raymond Evans, Salt Lake City; Keith Evans, Stockton, and James Evans, Sacramento, and nine grandchildren.

Evans was a native of Texas. He was an active member of the Church of Christ in Novato.

3 County School Board Members Face Challenges For Re-Election

Three members of the Marin County Board of Education face opposition in their first tries for re-election Tuesday, in the only school election in which all registered voters in the county are eligible to cast ballots.

The county board became elective only three years ago. Prior to that, a board made up of educators was appointed by the elected county superintendent.

All but one of the first seven members of the elective county board are still serving.

The three who drew initial three-year terms are now candidates for re-election. They are Mrs. Adele J. Alpers of San Rafael, Mrs. Alce Ann Rust of Kentfield and Ted V. Cole of Novato.

Each of the county board members represents a geographical district. But all are elected by the county at large.

Zone 1, which Mrs. Alpers now represents, comprises San Rafael, Dixie and San Quentin Elementary School Districts. Candidate against Mrs. Alpers is Dennis V. Carey, also of San Rafael.

Zone 2, now represented by Mrs. Rust, includes Lagunitas, Fairfax, San Anselmo, Ross, Kentfield and Larkspur School Districts. Running against Mrs. Rust is Mrs. Ann Smart of Larkspur.

Zone 5, now represented by Cole, includes Novato and San Jose School Districts. Cole's opponent is Earl G. Marshall, now a member of the Novato School Board.

Here are the candidates in the three races that will be decided by countywide vote Tuesday:

MRS. ADELE J. ALPERS, 63, of 139 Bay View drive, San Rafael, was born in Oakland, educated at University of California and Northwestern University.

She is president of the Marin Council of Community Services, a member of the Marin County Recreation Commission, of the advisory committee studying projects for gifted children, of the board of the Marin United Fund, the Bay Area Welfare Federation, the board of the Marin YMCA, and the California Congress of Parents and Teachers.

She is a widow. She has a grown son and daughter.

DENNIS V. CAREY, 37, Mrs. Alpers' opponent for Zone 1 representative is executive manager of the Associated Plumbing Contractors of San Francisco. He resides at 210 Mark Twain avenue San Rafael.

Carey was born in San Francisco and completed his education at University of San Francisco where he majored in business administration. He also studied law at San Francisco Law School and by correspondence with LaSalle Extension University. He served about a year on the San Francisco police force and was subsequently in several positions for the Contractors State License Board until becoming executive manager of the California Insulation and Roofing Contractors Assn. in 1953. After a year on that job he moved to his present position.

He was a Navy Seabee petty officer during World War II and saw service in the Pacific. A great joiner he listed 12 organizations to which he belongs or has belonged. Carey is co-chairman of the school aids committee of the San Francisco Board of Education. He is also a former semi-pro baseball player.

Carey and his wife Pearl have no children.

MRS. ALCE ANN RUST, 48, is secretary of the Marin Development Foundation. Her husband, George W. Rust, is a mining geologist, and Mrs. Rust also holds a bachelor's degree in geology from University of Chicago. They reside at 37 Rancheria road, Kentfield.

Mrs. Rust, a native of Winnetka, Ill., is a board member of Kentfield, Drake and Redwood Parent-Teacher Assns. and a member of the Tam-Drake Education Council and the San Anselmo League of Women Voters. She has been active in Red Cross and Junior Theater.

The Rusts have been Marin residents since 1940. They have a son and daughter at home.

MRS. ANNE SMART, 46, Mrs. Rust's opponent for Zone 2 representative, lives at 7 Liberty street, Larkspur. She is divorced.

Mrs. Smart was born in Grand Rapdis, Mich., and completed her edueation at University of California in Los Angeles. She has also taken many special education courses.

Mrs. Smart gained national prominence a few years ago for her fight on "dirty books" on the Tamalpais High School library shelves—a fight she is continuing, despite rebuffs by the Tam district board.

She was a corporal in the Women's Army Corps in World War II. She is a member of the daughters of the American Revolution, the Marin Art and Garden Center and Ross Valley Players.

Mrs. Smart has one son, at home.

TED V. COLE, 42, incumbent from Zone 5, is president of Marin Machine, Inc., in Sausalito and resides at 66 Shields lane, Novato.

Cole was born in Peoria, Ill., and holds a bachelor's degree from Golden Gate College. He is the inventor of a special tool for removing and replacing interference type piston pins for automotive use. His factory in Sausalito manufactures this tool.

Cole is now president of the county board of education. His hobby is antique cars and he is a member of the Horseless Carriage Club of America. He served in the Navy in the Pacific during World War II.

Cole and his wife, Edith, have three children.

EARL G. MARSHALL, 41, Cole's opponent, is senior transmission engineer for Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. in San Francisco. He resides at 1801 Marion avenue, Novato.

Marshall was born in Pittsburgs, Pa., and completed his education at University of Pittsburgh. He is a past master of Excelsior Lodge 166, Free and Accepted Masons; a member of the Telephone Pioneers of America and the Institute of Radio Engineers. He attained the Eagle Scout rank and is active in Boy Scout leadership. He is a member of the County Committee on School District Organization and a trustee of Novato Unified School District.

Like his opponent, Marshall served in the Navy in World War II.

Marshall and his wife, Isabelle, have four children at home.

Planners Ask Use Permit Be Revoked

Mill Valley auto dealler Herb Shapiro Tuesday was rebuffed by the city's planning commission as it voted unanimously to recommend to the city council that an auto salesman use permit granted to Shappiro in January, 1957, be revoked.

Grounds for the action were that the building, on outer Miller avenue, was never started and further that "a building on the site would be incompatible with the surrounding area."

Two years ago, the planners recommended denial of a permit but were overridden by the council.

The commission also recommended that a permit granted to Bert Randolph for a simillar structure on the East Blithedale avenue extension, granted in January, 1958, but never used, also be revoked.

The commission gave approval to a final map of development of 12.3 acres of the Garden Hill tract by Sterling Development Co. to include drainage recommendations made by City Engineer Albert N. Siemer.

It also gave plan approval for a new real estate office to be constructed at 206 East Blithedale avenue for Cagwin, Seymour and Hamilton, replacing a building now occupied by the Tamal Treasure Chest.

Hendrickson Won't Appear Before Jury

Federal authorities investigating a possibie $3,500,000 bank embezzlement against manufacturer John R. Hendrickson of 27 Dellwood court, San Rafael, today decided against calling him before a grand jury in Los Angeles.

Bruce Bevan, assistant U..S. attorney in Los Angeles, who is in charge of the investigation, said the action was in keeping with not usually calling prospective defendants before the panel.

However, if Hendrickson wishes to appear, Bevan said, he may do so.

The jury has renewed its study of records of the East Long Beach Branch of the U.S. National Bank of San Diego and records of Hendrickson's heating and air conditioning businesses.

Hendrickson, 40, was implicated in the case in a letter left by George Albert Hewlett, 40, an officer of the bank who committed suicide in Long Beach May 2. Hendrickson is free on $50,000 bail.

Bevan said one witness last week was Arthur Sigman, vice president of Hendrickson's Regal Heating Co. Other Hendrickson executives will testify, Bevan said.

3 Drunken Drivers Fined $250 Apiece

Three drunken drivers were fined $250 apiece yesterday in Marin Municipal Court by Judge Albert F. Scheidecker of Sebastopol.

Joseph Gabriel, 52, of Oak Tree Inn, San Geronimo, admitted drunken driving on Highway 101 on May 5. He must pay the fine or spend 50 days in jail.

Robert Mobley, 38, of 40 Ridgewood drive, San Rafael, was fined $250 and put on six months probation He was caught on Highway 101 on April 27.

Richard Henry Turk, 43, of 266 Woodward avenue, Sausalito, must also pay a $250 fine or spend 50 days in jail. He was caught on Miller avenue, Mill Valley, last Sunday.

San Anselmo Educator To Head Two Schools

Mrs. Marion Barrett, teaching principal of San Anselmo's Yolansdale School, will be principal next year of both Yolansdale and Wade Thomas Schools, the San Anselmo School District board decided last night.

As Wade Thomas principal, Mrs. Barrett will succeed Valerie Ansell, long-time principal who announced her retirement this month.

Mrs. Barrett will abandon fourth grade teaching duties at Yolansdale in taking the double assignment as principal, said Supt. Harold R. DePue.

Mrs. Barrett has been 10 years in the San Anselmo school district, and previously had six years teaching and supervisory experience in Mill Valley, Sonoma County and Hayward schools. She holds a master's degree from San Francisco State College.

The San Anselmo board last night also hired six new teachers for the 1959-60 term. They are:

Lucinda Clark, from the Gladstone School District in Los Angeles County, to teach eighth grade at Isabel Cook School; Jan Jaegeling, graduating this year from San Francisco State College, second grade at Brookside; Mrs. Catherine Monceau, now teaching in Sleepy Hollow School as a substitute, to teach fourth-fifth grades there; Janice Reed, from Crescent City, fifth grade, Isabel Cook; Louise Pratt, graduating from Marysville (Tenn.) College, second grade, Yolansdale; Virginia Molinari, a San Anselmo resident graduating from San Jose State, third grade at Isabel Cook.

The board accepted resignations of Mrs. Jean Ghirozoe, second grade teacher at Hidden Valley, who is expecting a baby, and Millard Morgan, eighth grade teacher at Sleepy Hollow, who has accepted a position in the Novato Unified School District.

Baby Footprint Repeal Approved

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Repeal of the baby footprint law seemed near today.

The Assembly Public Health Committee yesterday approved a bill by Sen. Stephen Teale (D-West Point) abolishing mandatory footprinting of newborn babes in hospital delivery rooms.

Experts say the footprints proved practically useless for identification.

The repealer now goes to the Assembly floor, its last legislative hurdle.

Research Assistant

Gordon Finley, an Antioch (Ohio) College sophomore, has become an assistant in the Pulmonary Research Laboratory of the Veterans Hospital in West Haven, Conn. Finley is a son of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Finley, 280 Margarita drive, San Rafael.

Cabinets Gone From Incompleted Home

Three unpainted vanity cabinets, worth $100, are missing from a new duplex under construction at 1222 Fourth street in Novato, sheriff's deputies reported.

Henry J. Kaehler, Novato contractor, told investigators the cabinets were taken from an unlocked garage before they could be installed in the bathrooms. The vanities are made of one-half inch plywood.

Hub Trustees Urge Merger Study Continue

The San Anselmo School District board voted last night for continuance of the study of merger of all school districts within Tamalpais High School District by the County Committee on School District Organization.

The action was unanimous by the four members present, reported Supt. Harold R. DePue. Trustee W. P. Duhamel was absent.

The San Anselmo board thus ran counter to the action taken earlier this week by both the Mill Valley and Sausalito school boards. They both voted to call on the county committee to discontinue the Tam District unification study.

There are 13 elementary districts within Tamalpais High School District.

Also at last night's San Anselmo board meeting:

1. Trustees outlawed the playing of hardball on the Wade Thomas School yard, because of its small size.
2. Discussion of a proposed tentative budget was put over to an adjourned meeting on May 27. The budget is set up two ways: $689,250, with no pay raises for teachers, if the present state apportionment plan continues, and $718,200, with pay increases, if Gov. Edmund G. Brown's proposal for increased apportionments is passed by the Legislature. The current year's budget is $648,891.
3. Approved a plan presented by Superintendent DePue for participating in the "Point 1" program for mentally retarded youngsters during the next school year.

The Navy plans to build the world's biggest radio telescope in the hills of West Virginia.

College Invites Public To See Fine And Industrial Arts

Contemporary exhibits and art in action will be among the key attractions at the 10th annual open house to be hosted by College of Marin's art department from 7 to 11 p.m. tomorrow.

This year the event will be expanded to include the industrial arts department, which also will be open to visitors.

Featuring the work of both day students and adult evening classes, the art exhibits will include oils, water colors, sculpture, ceramics, photographs and many other arts and crafts.

Painters, sculptors, weavers, serigraphers, potters and design classes will be among those participating in the art in action section. This portion of the open house will be held in the art building under direction of Edwin A. Cadogan, art department chairman.

During the same hours, in the nearby industrial arts building, boating enthusiasts will not only see a variety of small sailboats and runabouts on exhibit but will see how they are built. The automobile machine shop also will be in operation instructors Ronald Wise and Charles Willis are the industrial arts department hosts.

Refreshments will be served. Directional signs will be posted to enable guests to find their way.

The open house is one of a series of public events sponsored by the college this month to acquaint the people with its educational programs, facilities and activities.

Fire Commission Meets Tonight

A special meeting of the Tiburon Fire Protection District Commission will be held at 7 o'clock tonight in the Tiburon boulevard firehouse.

"This meeting is being called to formally adopt by resolution a preliminary budget that was informally approved at our Sunday meeting," vice chairman Fred C. Hannahs said.

Junior Choirs Of 9 Churches To Sing Sunday

Junior choirs from nine Marin churches will present a public festival of religious music at 4 p.m. Sunday at the First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo.

They will sing under direction of Madie Bacon, director of the 75-voice San Francisco Boys Chorus.

Organist for the festival will be Wilbur Russell, organist-choir director of the San Anselmo church and assistant professor of music at the San Francisco Theological Seminary.

Participating choirs, made up of children from third to eighth grades, will be those of the Mill Valley Community Church, First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo, First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael, St. Stephen's Episcopal of Belvedere, First Baptist of San Rafael, First Missionary Baptist Church of Marin City, the Christ Presbyterian of Terra Linda, Redwood Presbyterian of Larkspur and Grace Lutheran of Novato.

The Mill Valley Community Church and the San Anselmo Presbyterian Church are sponsoring the festival, under chairmanship of Mrs. Herbert Hultgren of Mill Valley, assisted by Mrs. Weaver Hess of San Anselmo.

Fire claimed the lives of 11,000 Americans in the U.S. during 1957.

50 Attend Session On Kentfield Bonds

Questions on the Kentfield School District bond and state loan proposals were answered last night by three school district trustees at an A. E. Kent School meeting attended by about 50 persons.

Trustee J. R. B. Ellis said the bond issue would not increase the district's tax rate for two years After 1960 it could cost the owner of a $25,000 home about $2.40 a year, he said.

The $500,000 bond issue and a $300,000 state loan, to be voted on Tuesday, would finance additional classrooms at the three Kentfield district school sites. Primary grades will open this fall on double sessions, although most will be back on regular sessions when the six classroom Wolfe Grade School opens about December.

"Since teachers cannot by law teach two sessions in one day, we are obligated to pay more money for less educating time under a double-session program," said Mrs. Edward Bingham, a trustee and former Greenbrae Parent-Teacher Assn. president.

Mrs. Watson Conner, chairman of the board, explained that the bond and state loan proposals must win a two-thirds majority to pass.

Effort To Make BOE Elective Dropped

SACRAMENTO (AP)—An effort to make the state Board of Education elective instead of appointive has been dropped by Assemblyman Sheridan N. Hegland (D-La Mesa).

"I just didn't have the votes," he told a newsman after the Assembly Education Committee yesterday approved his motion to send it out for two-year study. The governor chooses the board members.

KING IS HOST TO EISENHOWERS

MANHATTAN VISIT

Ike Breaks Ground For Culture Center

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower broke ground today for a 75-million-dollar cultural center and predicted it will be a mighty influence for world peace.

The President took part in ceremonies marking the start of the Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts. He flew from Washington for the occasion.

The President's plane landed at the nearby Newark, N. J. airport and Eisenhower motored to New York after an airport greeting from Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey and others.

A 33-man motorcycle escort ushered the President's car into Manhattan by way of the Lincoln Tunnel under the Hudson River. Eisenhower stood up in a bubble-top limousine and waved to about 300 persons lined up near the tunnel exit.

The groundbreaking was just one of the activities which will keep the President buzzing busily about Manhattan during the day and into the night.

In his talk Eisenhower said the center—which will include a new Metropolitan Opera House and a new home for the New York Philharmonic—will enrich the lives of people generally.

He added: "The beneficial influence of this great cultural adventure will not be limited to our own borders. Here will occur a true exchange of the fruits of national cultures.

"From this will develop a growth that will spread to the corners of the earth, bringing with it a kind of human message that only individuals—not governments—can transmit.

"Here will develop a mighty influence for peace and understanding throughout the world."

The site of the center, an area of three and a half blocks on Sixty Fourth street west of Broadway, was cleared of rundown dwellings and other buildings for the huge construction project to be completed in 1963.

Eisenhower said the center symbolizes not only an increasing interest in America in cultural matters, but also is "a stimulating approach to one of the nation's pressing problem: Urban blight.

"It is a cooperative venture in which federal and local government, artistic groups, large foundations and private citizens are joining forces," he said.

The President noted, too, that Fordham University is planning a new campus and buildings adjacent to the cultural center.

"All of us salute this magnificent effort," Eisenhower added.

After the groundbreaking ceremony Eisenhower went to New York Coliseum to look over displays in the international show of export goods from 63 countries.

At the fair, exhibiting nations presented him with a truckload of exotic gifts.

Senate Delays Vote On Dillon

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate vote on C. Douglas Dillon's promotion to the No. 2 spot in the State Department has been delayed at the request of Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La.).

Dillon won a 16-1 vote of approval from the Senate Foreign Relations Committee yesterday of his nomination by President Eisenhower as first undersecretary of state.

Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.), acting majority leader of the Senate, said Long had requested a postponement of Senate action on the nomination until next week.

Mansfield, a strong supporter of Dillon, said that under senatorial courtesy he had no choice but to comply with Long's request. .

Long said that to him Dillon is the symbol of what Long called waste and mismanagement in the foreign aid program.

House Group Turns Down Funds For Super Carrier

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's request for 260 million dollars to build a new super aircraft carrier reportedly has been turned down by a House appropriations subcommittee.

Instead, the 17-man group has decided, the money should be spent to speed up anti-submarine and missile programs and to maintain stronger reserve and National Guard forces.

The subcommittee has agreed to almost the exact amount asked by the President—$40,800,000,000—in new appropriations for the Defense Department for the year starting July 1.

"The amount of new money won't vary substantially from what the President requested," a member disclosed. "The only disagreement between us and the President is how it should be spent."

Episcopal Church Province Elects

SPOKANE (AP)—The Pacific Province of the Episcopal Church elected officers at its 40th annual synod here yesterday.

Provincial Council—E. P. Fogg of Los Angeles.

Board of Trustees, Church Divinity School of the Pacific, Berkeley—Bishop Clarence R. Haden Jr. of Sacramento.

Provincial Court of Review—Rev. Richard Ayres of Santa Barbara, Merton C. Albee of Los Angeles.

Heads Roll As Marrying Season Opens On Luzon

MANILA (UPI)—Discovery of a headless body floating in a creek gave the first indication today the spring marrying season has hit the fierce Ilongot tribes of northern Luzon.

The body was one of three Christian farmers ambushed by Ilongots in the mountain area of Nueva Vizcaya Province earlier this week.

The Philippine Constabulary said the head no doubt already has been presented by an Ilongot brave to his lady love as proof he is man enough to protect a family.

The annual head-hunting spree of the Ilongots has troubled authorities for years and Brig. Gen. Isagani V. Campo, head of the constabulary, intensified foot patrols in the area.

"This is open season for the Ilongots—with Christian heads as their targets," Campo said.

The head is taken back to an Ilongot village, stuck on a pole and placed near the hut of the fair lady.

"This signifies to all and sundry that the man is brave and can protect his prospective bride," Campo sadi.

The Ilongots used to use two-foot long knives and spears, but in recent years they have been using Japanese rifles, a relic of the last war, and .12 gauge shotguns seized from hunters.

"And when the tradition revolves around the universal pattern of love," Campo said, "you've got a job on your hands."

Bill Barring Bias In Housing Tabled

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A bill to forbid racial discrimination in community redevelopment projects was tabled yesterday by the Senate Governmental Efficiency Committee.

"The majority of the people have some rights too," said Chairman Luther Gibson (D-Vallejo). "We've got enough of these laws now."

The bill was by Edward Elliott (D-Los Angeles)..

Daylight Savings Extension Shelved

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Legislation to extend daylight saving time by one month in the fall was shelved yesterday by a Senate committee.

"Why can't people go to work when they want to and let us run the trains without the confusion?" said Leonard Wickliffe a San Jose brakeman.

"This would force farm children to wait for the school bus in the dark," said George Sehlmeyer of the California State Grange.

Assemblyman Louis Francis (R-San Mateo), the author, said the bill would eliminate confusion now existing because California returns to standard time in September, one month before the East Coast. He said the extra daylight would save lives on the highway.

The bill was sent out for a two-year study.

Bolinas Parents To Host Picnic

The annual school picnic sponsored by the Bolinas Parents Club will be held June 14, President James Dougan announced.

Location of the picnic will be either at the school grounds or at Camp Lagunitas, Dougan said. The affair will be open to Bolinas children, their parents and friends.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Actor Faces Prison

SANTA MONICA (AP)—Actor Jay Robinson, 29, will be sentenced June 5 on four counts involving sale and possession of narcotics.

Robinson, convicted yesterday, faces a prison term of 1-10 years.

He was arrested at his Bel Air home last Nov. 13. He denied testimony by actor Robert Rodney Lynn, 20, who claimed Robinson sold him drugs. Robinson testified the narcotics had been planted in his home.

FBI Gets Its Man

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—A nationwide search for Emmett Bernard Kervan, one of the FBI's 10 most wanted men, ended last night with his arrest in a garage apartment here.

The 51-year-old Kervan, unarmed and clad in pajamas, didn't resist FBI agents.

Kervan had been sought in connection with the holdup of a bank in East Norwalk, Conn. A gunman robbed the bank of $29,445.

Newlyweds Resting

NEW YORK (AP)—Newlyweds Elizabeth Taylor and Eddie Fisher remained in seclusion yesterday at their Waldorf-Astoria hotel suite.

As soon as Fisher gets a passport, the couple will fly to Spain where they will board a honeymoon yacht.

The actress, 27, and the singer, 30, were married Tuesday in Las Vegas, Nev. They flew here yesterday morning.

Talks Way Out Of Bill

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—Jim Craft of Oklahoma City admits he is "a real talker"—but it would take "quite a few first-class talkers" to run up the telephone bill he received—$9,999,910.51 for the month of April. The Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. assured him there had been an error and a new bill would be issued.

Violence In Labor Fight

CLINTON, Tenn. (AP)—A barrage of shotgun and rifle fire from three hidden locations in the woods halted a convoy of coal trucks headed for TVA's Kingston steam plant last night.

Three sticks of dynamite were hurled, but did not explode.

No one was injured, but Anderson County deputies said bullets struck the radiators of two of the seven or eight trucks.

The ambush was the latest of a series of violent incidents reported in east Tennessee since the United Mine Workers Union began trying to organize non-union coal operations in the area. The trucks involved in the incident all were owned by non-union operators of small strip mines.

Brother Joins Lama

TOKYO (AP) — The Dalai Lama's older brother, Thubten Jigme Norbu, arrived by plane today en route to India for a reunion with Tibet's fugitive ruler. Norbu said he plans to return to the United States, where he's been living. He fled Tibet in 1951 after the Communists took over.

80 Died In Boat Sinking

CAIRO (UPI) — Frogmen carried on the search today for the bodies of persons still missing in a Nile River boat sinking last weekend.

The disaster took a known toll of 80 lives. The sunken vessel, the Dandarah, was refloated yesterday by salvage crews.

Movie Queen Divorces

PARIS (UPI)—Shapely French movie queen Martine Carol was granted a divorce yesterday from the producer-husband she said she "never saw."

A French court concluded the 35-year-old blonde, who became famous for her movie nude scenes and husband Christian Jacque were guilty of "reciprocal wrong" in neglecting each other.

Queen Appoints Negro

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II has appointed a Negro to the staff of Buckingham Palace for the first time.

Joseph Bennet Odunton, 38, from Ghana, starts work as assistant press attache Tuesday. He will help the Queen during her tour in Ghana next November.

Ciano's Mother Dies

VIAREGGIO, Italy (UPI) — Countess Carolina Ciano, 84, mother of executed Italian Fascist Foreign Minister Galeazzo Ciano, died here yesterday.

At her death bed was her daughter-in-law Edda Ciano, the daughter of the late Dictator Benito Mussolini. Countess Ciano was the widow of wealthy Costanzo Ciano, a leading Fascist figure. Her son Galeazzo was shot in 1943 on orders of his father-in-law Mussolini, for siding against him in a Fascist grand council vote.

Oldest Grad Dies

NEW YORK (UPI)—Samuel A. Chapin, 100, the oldest living graduate of Amherst College, died here yesterday.

He was a former editor of The Century and St. Nicholas magazines. He also served in editorial posts on "Pearson's" magazine and "Current Literature." On his 100th birthday last year, he expressed regret that he had never married, and voiced concern over the decline of literary and musical tastes in the U.S. today.

Actress' Mom Fined

PASADENA (UPI)—Mrs. Margaret Pearl Darnell, 69, the mother of actress Linda Darnell, was placed on six months probation and fined $100 yesterday for stealing $15 worth of costume jewelry April 21.

Municipal Judge Donald R. Wright made one of the conditions of the probation period an order that Mrs. Darnell stay out of department stores for six months unless she is accompanied by a responsible person.

Royalty Tours Spain

MADRID (UPI) — Prince Rainier and Princess Grace of Monaco motored through the countryside north of here yesterday on a second honeymoon. They visited El Escorial, traditional burial place of Spanish royalty, and toured ancient castles.

The royal couple will be on hand for Madrid's annual San Isidro festival which begins Friday.

Lil Piggies Stay Home

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has abandoned plans to lob a pig into space.

Pigs are "uncomfortable lying on their backs," Dr. Homer Joe Stewart, the program's planning director, told reporters yesterday.

It appears now that mice and monkeys will be used in testing the disign of a space capsule to put a man in orbit.

Travel Tax End Urged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Commerce Committee has gone on record in favor of repealing the tax on travel.

The committee approved a resolution yesterday urging passage of a bill which would repeal the 10 per cent excise levy on transportation tickets.

Guardsmen Bring Quiet In Mill Strike

HENDERSON, N. C. (AP)—National Guardsmen and a stiff court order brought the quietest night in a month to the struck Harriet-Henderson cotton mills.

With 300 rifle-carrying guardsmen standing watch, workers leaving the two plants at 11 p.m. last night entered empty streets Officers said it was the quietest night at the mills in a month.

The court order, signed yesterday by Judge William Y. Bickett, allows only eight pickets at the gates of the mills' two plants. The pickets must be 75 feet from the gates. No crowds will be allowed to congregate outside the mills.

There has been virtually no violence since the guardsmen were sent to the mills Tuesday.

The strike of the Textile Workers Union of America started last November after the company insisted on eliminating an arbitration clause from the contract Violence erupted periodically since the mills reopened on a lmited basis Feb. 16.

In issuing the latest restraining order, tougher than one issued Feb. 13, Judge Bickett said:

"These groups (strikers and strike sympathizers) have treated all suggestions of the governor and all law enforcement agencies in a callous and indifferent manner This court feels it must give protection to innocent people, workers and property."

Allied Arts Meeting

Stinson Beach Allied Arts will hold its May meeting tomorrow at 11 a.m. at the community center, according to Mrs. Alvin Eustis, president.

Mother, Three Daughters Die In Eureka Fire

EUREKA (UPI)—A woman and her three young daughters were killed last night when a fire raged through their 50-year-old frame house in a matter of minutes.

Fire Chief Allan Pettingill described the blaze, which occurred only five blocks from the fire station, as "the worst in Eureka fire department history, in terms of human life."

The victims were identified as Annie Jo Hallmark, in her late 20s, and her three daugters, Jannie, 7, Mary Ann, 4, and Patty, 3.

FATHER INJURED

The father, James, also in his late 20s, was taken to Eureka General Hospital with second degree burns, a gash on one leg and suffering from shock.

The fire was discovered by a neighbor, Norman Edwards, 32. Edwards, who wears a brace on one leg, told firemen he heard a woman scream, "My God, my God, someone save me," but was unable to get the brace on his leg in time.

"I never felt so helpless in my life," he said.

TRY TO ENTER

Shortly after Edwards heard Mrs. Hallmark's screams, two policemen passing by in a patrol car saw Hallmark leap from a second story window. The three then tried to enter the front door but the entire house had already been turned into an inferno.

The coroner's office said the victims all died of suffocation. Their bodies were found in the rear bedroom, lying near a window.

An adjoining home was partially burned. Firemen estimated total damage at $10,000.

Probation Given For Bad Checks

A 35-year-old Novato woman, who cashed two bad checks in Santa Rosa stores, got off with a year's probation.

Judge Albert F. Scheidecker of Sebastopol, sitting in Marin Municipal Court, sentenced Mrs. Opal A. Clark of 1805 Novato boulevard Tuesday. She pleaded guilty to petty theft.

Mrs. Clark was accused of cashing two checks worth $135, drawn on a San Anselmo bank. San Anselmo Asst. Police Chief Sam N. Serio and Sheriff's Deputy Gerald Fries arrested her at her home Manday evening.

FROM QUEEN TO CHARWOMAN

Waxing floor in San Diequito High School at Encinitas (San Diego County) was penalty 17-year-old Dorothy Mummert had to pay for being queen of the annual Orange Show. Her absence from classes during the show was classed as "unexcusable" by school officials, who permit students to make amends by doing such chores as Dorothy is doing here. Her comment: "It was worth it."

Dixie School Board Will Hire Own Curriculum Chief

Trustees of Dixie School District last night voted to hire a director of curriculum.

Supt. Dennie Willis said the board decided to hire its own director of curriculum instead of continuing the one-day-a-week contract for such services from the county superintendent of schools' office. Willis said the board felt that a full-time person is needed to gather materials, seek better methods and develop teaching guides.

The board said the job would open as of next fall, and the salary would range between $9,000 and $9,500.

At the same time the board signed two contracts with the county superintendent's office. One was for audio-visual aid services, and the other for two-day-a-week services by a psychologist at $3,900 a year.

Four new teachers were hired: Thomas Mill Brook, Marysville, at $4,800 a year, fifth grade; Eloise Knox, San Rafael, $4,800, kindergarten; Sylvia Guenza, Santa Rosa, $4,200, third grade, and Marguerite Grady, San Rafael, $4,200, third or fourth grade.

In other matters, the board:

1. Voted to hire a new custodian, a junior clerk for the superintendent's office and two new school secretaries.
2. Instructed Willis to apply to the state Finance Department for funds to make a survey for three new school sites.
3. Decided to hold eighth grade graduation exercises June 18 in the multi-use room of Pacheco School in the San Jose School District. The Dixie district does not have a suitable room, Willis said.

Jazz Great Sidney Bechet Dies At Paris

PARIS (AP)—Sidney Bechet, 68, famous jazz musician who came up from New Orleans to international prominence in the world of hot music, died today.

Death was caused by cancer.

Bechet had been in failing health for some time and declined rapidly the past few days.

He died at his home in Garches, a Paris suburb.

Driver Cited In Injury Accident

A Fairfax man was cited by the California Highway Patrol in a Highway 101 accident yesterday that sent an Oakland woman to a hospital.

Benjamin E. Bergue of 142 Dominga avenue was cited for following too closely and speeding.

The CHP said a car driven by Bergue and a station wagon driven by Oscar Lefayette Douglass of Oakland, collided in a rear-end accident at 11:15 a.m. one mile north of Atherton avenue on Highway 101.

Mrs. Edna D. Douglass, 58, a passenger in the Douglass car, was being treated at Petaluma General Hospital today for back pains. The hospital said her condition was "good."

Sutro Collection To Go To USF

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown has accepted recommendations by a committee of three librarians to take up the University of San Francisco on its offer to house the Sutro Library Collection.

Brown said het will ask $30,000 in his budget for moving and staff costs. The Sutro collection has been stored in the basement of the San Francisco Public Library for years.

Sausalito Assessments Meet Few Protests

Revised assessments on Sausalito properties meet with relatively few protests during two public sessions to hear grievances held this week in Sausalito City Hall, according to County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel.

The assessor had sent out more than 2,000 letters showing revised assessments based on a continuing reappraisal program started by the assessor. The revised assessments, some showing decreases and many more showing increases, indicate about 5 per cent increase in the assessed values of lands and improvements in Sausalito, not including the betterments made on properties since last year.

A total of 129 property owners appeared at the hearings Monday and Tuesday, making inquiries on 188 parcels. Many of them were satisfied by explanations, but 58 asked for reconsideration of their assessments, said Broemmel.

Broemmel said he plans to continue his policy of making assessment records available at each city hall and at the Novato firehouse on specified dates for the convenience of property owners.

On or before the first Monday in July, when the tax roll is turned over to the county board of supervisors, the assessor will send a staff with records to each of the communities.

Catholic High Fiesta Set May 23-24

More than 10,000 persons are expected at the May 23-24 Marin Fiesta of Marin Catholic High School which will feature booths, games and other entertainment, said chairman Albert Fox of Fairfax today.

"Last year 7,500 persons attended the fiesta and 1,500 chicken dinners prepared under direction of Nello Ragghianti, were served," Fox pointed out. Fox again is in charge of the dinners and entertainment will be more colorful.

Aiding Fox in staging the school's second annual fiesta are Rev. Francis Lacey, faculty coordinator, Leo Griese of Corte Madera, Frank Sousa of San Anselmo, Elmer Anderson of San Rafael and several score committee chairmen.

Tourist Information Center Project Deserves Support

The suggestion for a tourist information center on Vista Point at the Marin end of the Golden Gate Bridge is one of the best community promotion ideas advanced in a long time.

As put forth by the Marin Visitors Bureau, here is the way the project would be undertaken:

An appropriate Redwood structure would be erected at Vista Point. Design and construction, it is hoped, would be underwritten by an association of Redwood lumber producers.

When complete, displays and folders about interesting features of the Redwood Empire area would be assembled. It is hoped that the Redwood Empire Assn. would undertake this portion of the task, along with staffing and maintaining the center after it is in operation.

A good many tourists visiting San Francisco would unquestionably thus be attracted to extend their visit to include a tour of at least some more distant Redwood Empire points.

Even some of us "home folks" might, after a visit to the tourist information center, learn things we didn't know before about our neighboring communities' attractions. We might even join the parade of tourists to revisit some places we hadn't thought about for a long time.

The State Division of Highways has given preliminary approval to the proposal. The Army (on whose property Vista Point is situated) has indicated no objection.

The Golden Gate Bridge Board now has the proposal under study.

We hope the project doesn't suffer any serious delay in receiving Bridge Board approval.

And we hope the Redwood Empire Assn. gets behind the idea with effective enthusiastic support.

It will help us to rebuild a desirable "industry" in Marin and throughout the Redwood Empire—the tourist industry.

Plants Can Be Spoiled

Plants can become spoiled by overly protective maternal care, just as humans can. Take our common geranium. If it receives plenty of water, it grows, and grows and grows, then finally puts forth a few half baked blossoms.

If on the other hand, it is permitted to wilt and droop and look half dead before it is watered, some instinct tells it to get a move on and bloom while it still has a chance. It is pretty common knowledge that the uncared for geranium is the one that blooms best.

This may come as a nasty shock to some people who are laboring under the illusion that the more fertilizer and water they put on their garden, the better the results.

But it dosn't always work that way. Sometimes the more seemingly careless the gardener, the better the results.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

EVERYONE CAN PLAY A PART

No matter what your circumstances or background may be, you can contribute to the organization to which you belong. Here are a few typical instances:

(a) A lawyer does his bit to see that all issues at P-TA meetings are presented clearly and fairly.

(b) A junior in college finds that by participating in student organizations on his campus he has many opportunities to speak up for fundamental truths.

(c) A teacher discovered that she can accomplish much by attending educational association meetings.

(d) A union member whose only activity has been paying dues decided to live up to his obligations more fully. He found that his one voice encourages many others who think as he does to take a stand for integrity at meetings. His courage and initiative brought his local out of a rut.

See in every organization to which you belong an opportunity to reach the many with the good ideas which God has entrusted to you.

"If thou be diligent, thy harvest shall come as a fountain, and want shall flee far from the." (Proverbs 6:11)

Attitude Toward Cocktail Party Is One Way To Tell Person's Age

NEW YORK (AP) — One way to tell a person's age is by his attitude toward cocktail parties.

If he looks forward to cocktail parties and feels each one is exciting and different, he is very, very young.

But the more he attends the more all seem alike. The modern cocktail party, like the modern bull fight — which in a way it resembles — has its own ceremony and ritual. But in time cocktail parties become as hard to tell apart as mothballs.

The only difference between one's first cocktail party and one's thousand and first are the date — and a feeling of gathering numbness.

But that feeling of numbness is important. It is the hall mark of the successful cocktail party.

Everything about the cocktail party is formalized and more predictable than the weather. The food, the drink, the guests — even the conversation — follow an inexorable and changeless pattern.

There is always a tray of those gnat-bite-sized sandwiches made of new wallboard and old library paste. There is always a pot of caviar.

The guests at a cocktail party seem so normal and human when they first come into the room. Just a bit reserved perhaps. But an hour later all the shy Dr. Jekylls have magically turned into leering, pawing Dr. Hydes.

The sedate businessman suddenly wants to prove he can still drink a martini while standing on his head on the sofa, feat he learned in college. The prim housewife all at once begins to act like she was the daughter of a marriage between Dracula and Mata Hari.

AND EVERYONE who had so little to say on arrival now becomes a person with a message of salvation for all mankind. They put their foreheads together and begin shouting at the top of their lungs. This isn't conversation. It is baboon babble.

Psychiatrists are divided on why people throw cocktail parties. One school holds it is merely an easy way to pay off social debts en masse. The other school holds that it is an unconscious and sadistic attempt by the host to exact social revenge on people he secretly detests.

PROBABLY BOTH schools of thought are right.

The problem remains as to why a husband ever goes to a cocktail party. The answer here is very clear.

He goes because somebody mailed his wife the invitation. And the modern wife will drag her husband to everything she's invited to — including, probably, a blood transfusion. Anything to get out of the house.

A word of thanks for the informative discription in May 7th's I-J. Appreciation a plenty for the fine coverage you endeavor to give the various candidates that run for office.

My only wish — that your discription of my activity was correct. I would like nothing better than to have been an active member of the activity of Girl Scouts. This is a wonderful organization, doing a splendid job in the County for many girls. I wish you would correct this statement which has been called to my attention by any number of my friends.

I can boast many years of service with San Francisco Council of Camp Fire Girls. Three years as their Camp Chairman, a member of their Finance Committee and also as a member of their Training Committee. With this same organization, I am the boastful recipient of the Gulick Award, presented by the council for my contribution to American Girlhood.

Thanks for your interest in assisting the voters of Marin to "see" through the I-J the various candidates.

Teach Youth At Lower Cost

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal

Bond issues. Tax increases. For Education??? It's getting monotonous.

School trustees again asking for money without presenting a schedule of how it will be spent . . . or dissipated?

A thunderous NO vote might eventually lead to education at reasonable cost teaching young people how to read, write maybe even how to figure.

What Goes On In Poison Programs?

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I received the inclosed in the mail. If the situation is anywhere near as bad as stated, would it not be a good idea for the press and the Marin Rod and Gun club to look into the matter and let us know what goes on.

Anybody remember the great Kern County mouse invasion, after all or most of the skunks, hawks, coyoties had been killed off? Some time in the 1920, I believe.

WHO'S WHO AT GENEVA

World Waiting To See How Newer Diplomats Perform

By BRACK CURRY

GENEVA (AP) — The titans of the postwar diplomatic duels J Molotov, Dulles, Acheson, Eden and Bidault—are in political obscurity or retirement.

The world is waiting to see how their successors will measure up in dealing with some of the crucial problems facing the world.

Christian A. Herter of the United States, Andrei Gromyko of the Soviet Union, Selwyn Lloyd of Britain and Maurice Couve de Murville of France — all are experienced diplomats but none has led his country's delegation at a Big Four parley before.

HERTER, 64, is the dean of the group in age but the least experienced in international negotiations. Gromyko at 49 is the youngest but the veteran of the most conference tables. Lloyd is 54 and Couve de Murville 52.

Iron-visaged Gromyko was once called the boy wonder of the diplomatic world. Dark, heavy-set and square-shouldered, he is a veteran of Kremlin politics under Stalin, Malenkov and Khrushchev.

Much of his career has been spent in the United States, at the Soviet Embassy in Washington and at U.N. headquarters. He has been Soviet foreign minister since 1957.

AMERICA'S HERTER has had only a few scant weeks to move out from under the towering shadow of John Foster Dulles into the limelight of the west's ranking diplomat.

At the Paris conference with Lloyd and Couve de Murville last month — his first diplomatic mission abroad after succeeding Dulles — Herter displayed calm and competence in helping to bridge allied differences.

The lofty summit of responsibility here will test all the acumen Herter has built up since he was a fledgling diplomat in Berlin during World War I. Since then he has served in the Massachusetts Legislature, the U.S. House of Representatives, two terms as governor of Massachusetts and as Dulles' chief aide for two years.

TALL, LANKY, Couve de Murville has served France in top diplomatic posts since World War II but has just begun to make big international headlines. He has turned in a topflight job of assignments ranging from secretary of the Free French "war commission" to trouble shooter for then Foreign Minister Georges Bidault and ambassador to Washington and Bonn.

Selwyn Lloyd succeeded one of the outstanding foreign secretaries Britain has produced this century — Sir Anthony Eden.

Lloyd thinks and dressed like Eden. He was appointed minister of state at the Foreign Office when Sir Winston Churchill's Conservatives swept into power in 1951. Sent to Paris as a delegate to the U.N. Assembly, he quickly tangled with Soviet Union's acid-tongued Andrei Vishinsky

Vishinsky once told a colleague: "That young Englishman — he's tough."

REMEMBER WHEN

10 YEARS AGO

About 500 youngsters were up at the crack of dawn for the Junior Trout Carnival at Phoenix Lake, which was described as one of the biggest youth activities ever held in Marin County.

20 YEARS AGO

The county board of supervisors appointed a committee to study the possibility of erecting a county hospital. The committee was composed of Frank H. Eastman, county welfare director; Leon A. De Lisle, county auditor, and members of the board of supervisors.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Three stories brought home from school by my 12-year-old son, Jonathan:

1. Q. What weighs 1,000 pounds, sings, has four legs, and is yellow? A. — Two 500-pound canaries.

2. Did you hear about the man who fell out of a fourteenth story window but did not even suffer a scratch? The fortunate fellow was wearing a light fall suit.

3. Kid in class was asked if he knew the meaning of the word bachelor. "I sure do," answered the kid. "It's what my daddy wishes he was."

A phone operator icily informed an importunate college boy, "I'm sorry, sir, but that number has been taken out." "I know darn well she's been taken out," wailed the boy. "What I'm trying to find out is: by whom?"

There's a formidable character in the Broadway sector whose job is to keep sex out of the movies. No, he's not a member of the censorship board. He's a balcony usher.

From a pep talk delivered by the president of a banking group in Arizona: "One day as I sat musing, a kindly voice came to me from out of the gloom, counselling, 'Cheer up, things could be worse.' And so, gentlemen, I cheered up —and sure enough things got worse."

Bert Wheeler says that automobiles in midtown traffic always remind him of a burlesque chorus on a miniature stage: they're bumper to bumper!

"I see your point," said the other bitterly, "if you can conceive of Lincoln as a short, fat, dishonest Abe."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By DIANA BRUCE

The Farther Decision Making Gets From Voter, More Susceptible It Is

The county budget — a mammoth document controlling more than 11 million dollars — sometimes makes one wonder exactly how local is this thing we call local government.

Roughly half the amount budgeted comes from the pockets of Marin taxpayers. The rest is state or federal money "earmarked" for specific uses.

I can remember distinctly that U. S. history courses I took in high school and college made the point that this earmarked money — dubbed grants-in-aid—was a neat and clever system to force backward local governments to undertake costly and "forward-looking" programs.

ONE RECENT example is Marin General Hospital's attempt to finance an addition to the hospital. The hospital administration managed on two occasions to get the state to allocate Hill-Burton Act federal-state money. Both times the grant was forfeited when local taxpayers would not vote a bond issue.

A similar deal is the state Community Mental Health Services Act under which Marin County would foot only half the bill if it set up a community psychiatric clinic.

Another example is the County Welfare Department budget. The county pays only 22 per cent of the two-million-dollar-plus budget.

ONE MIGHT ASSUME that the county had control over its 22 per cent. This is a wrong assumption, it developed at last week's county budget sessions.

The county's contribution to the welfare department budget will increase by $48,540 in the 1959-60 fiscal year and about $40,000 of this will go into the "aid to needy children" program which is controlled by the state.

One could argue for hours about whether direct local control on everything is good or not. Or whether a welfare department should be financed primarily by property tax (the county level) or by sales and iniome taxes (the state level).

The fact remains that local control these days is quite diluted.

THE FARTHER FROM the voter the decision making gets, the more susceptible to pressure groups it becomes, I believe, simply because the pressure group is the only one that cares enough to keep track of what goes on in the state legislature or national Congress.

Postscript: it must be admitted that the general public has been conspicuous by its absence from the budget sessions of the county board of supervisors.

The only faithful attendant has been Mrs. Evelyn McDougall of the Mill Valley Taxpayers Assn.

VICE PRESIDENCY?

Political Spotlight Swings To Pat Brown

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — California's Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown is beginning to get some close attention as a possible 1960 Democratic vice presidential candidate.

Brown's recent indications that he is beginning to take himself seriously in this connection have proved disturbing to some of the more active aspirants for the party's presidential nomination. They would like to annex California's hefty convention vote for themselves.

IF BROWN CAN get divergent California Democratic factions behind him for a favorite son designation he will be nominally in the race for the presidential nomination

As long as he can keep the California delegation behind him, it won't be able to start a swing toward some major candidate for the top prize.

In such a case Brown would be in a trading position that might make him an attractive candidate for second place.

With Brown keeping himself in the picture, presidential aspirants like Sens. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota and Stuart Symington of Missouri have to be content with trying to build up second choice strength for themselves in California.

KENNEDY IS known to be itching for a chance to run in California primary. He thinks he could take any other out-of-state candidate there handily. But he is not likely to tie into Brown at the polls short of some desperate turn elsewhere in his political fortunes.

Brown's possible availability for second place rests to a great extent on what happens to Kennedy. Both are Roman Catholics and no one expects the Democrats to nominate an all-Catholic ticket.

If Kennedy fails to make the grade for the top nomination, how ever, Brown may benefit from the spreading belief that one of his faith has a much better chance of election now than Al Smith had in 1928.

THE RELIGIOUS issue has been explored publicly so thoroughly in the past couple of years that many Democrats now feel they would be inviting charges of bigotry if they didn't pick a Catholic on one end of their ticket.

This is where Brown comes in. If some other senator should beat Kennedy for the presidential nomination, the second man is likely to be a governor to avoid the unbalance of an all-Senate ticket.

In that event the selection of Brown, a Catholic governor, would be regarded as solving two problems at once.

(In Sacramento, Governor Brown told his press conference "I'm not considering the vice presidency." He said he has undertaken "a four year task I intend to finish.)

WHAT A SPOT FOR A WOMAN HATER!

Gaston, secretary to General St. Pe in "Waltz of the Toreadors" and played by Carl Webber, is being amorously pursued by the general's twin daughters, Sidonia and Estella, portrayed by Carol and Stephanie Burns, in scene from the Sausalito Little Theater's production of the French comedy. The "Waltz" will close its run at the theater at 745½ Bridgeway with performances tonight, tomorrow and Saturday at 8:30 o'clock. (Dulce Duncan Ray photo)

State Mental Clinic Fund Hike Approved

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A Senate subcommittee last night approved a bill to increase the state's share of the cost of Short-Doyle mental health clinics from 50 to 75 per cent starting in 1960-61.

Counties would put up 25 instead of 50 per cent under the measure by Sen. Richard J. Dolwig (R-Redwood City).

State aid to local mental clinics was first authorized in 1957 under the Short-Doyle Act. It aimed at nipping mental illness in the bud by immediate local treatment.

Last week the Assembly Ways and Means Committee trimmed $500,000 from a three million dollar appropriation proposed in Gov. Edmund G. Brown's budget for the clinics next year. The cut was made on grounds that counties were dragging their feet in setting up clinics, hoping that the state would increase its contribution.

Sen Alan Short (D-Stockton), co-author of the original bill, has said he would not propose any change in the formula.

W. A. MacDougall, general counsel of the County Supervisors Assn., told the senators the 75-25 split would speed the program.

In the long run it would cut costs at state mental hospitals, he argued.

Dr. Marshal Porter, deputy director of mental hygiene, dissented on grounds the Short-Doyle program had not had sufficient test under the present formula.

Governor Cites 'Critical' State Water Problems

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown today continued his bid for public support in the north-south water fight by listing "critical water problems" all over the state.

His plea came as northern senators continued to claim 23 votes—a majority in the upper house—to change Brown's compromise water plan.

"There are already pockets of real distress throughout the state," the governor said.

Brown said he based his statement on a report from the Department of Water Resources which showed "appalling" water shortages in northern as well as southern California. The report also pointed out urgent problems of ground water overdrafts, loss of water quality, sea water intrusion and subsidence.

Brown's Tax Program Slows Up In Senate

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown's tax program was making slow progress today in the Senate.

The administration's bill to levy a new tax on cigarettes and tobacco products was trimmed back slightly by the Senate Committee on Rexenue and Taxation and sent on the Finance Committee.

Stricken from the bill was a proposed tax of 15 per cent on cigars and other tobacco products. But the committee voted to retain the proposed tax of three cents on each package of cigarettes which would net about 60 million dollars a year.

Amendments to the bill also provide that California smokeds may deduct from their federal income taxes the amount of state tax paid on cigarettes. In addition, the committee threw out the proposed invoice system of levying the tax on wholesalers and substituted in its place a stamp tax.

A different committee, meanwhile, held its first hearing on Brown's proposal to increase the horse race taxes by $12,100,000 a year.

60 Groups Plan For Scout-O-Rama

Stunts, displays and demonstrations are being prepared for the May 23 Scout-O-Rama at Hamilton Air Force Base by more than 60 Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Explorer Units of the Marin Council, Boy Scouts of America.

"The program," said Walter Castro Jr., general chairman, "will delight the many people who will see 'Marin Scouting in Action.'"

Proceeds will be used to aid local unit activity and a year-around program and facilities for the Scouts.

AND THEY SHOULD KNOW

For Happy Marriage, They Say Don't Argue

A happy marriage is worth more than proving your point in an argument.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaston A. Louis, who mark their 50th wedding anniversary tomorrow, have operated on this philosophy for half a century.

Since "Gus" Louis suffered a heart attack two months ago, they have lived in San Rafael with one of their daughters, Mrs. Claire Rudolph of 53 Clayton street.

"Now we hope he gets well—that's the main thing," Mrs. Louis said.

MARRIED IN S.F.

Louis and the former Mary Ingenleth were married May 15, 1909, at a nuptial mass at St. Anthony's Church in San Francisco. Louis was 21 and his bride was two years older.

"We've been happy though," Mrs. Louis said. "Age don't make much difference. No arguments and no quarrels—it's 50-50—you have to give in."

"They say it's the smart one who gives in," she explained.

Her husband went to work at 13 as a plumber's helper. His entire working life has been spent in the plumbing trade and his two sons are in the business now.

$35 A WEEK

Louis was making $35 a week when he married. Thirty dollars went to Mrs. Louis for household expenses and he kept $5.

For many years the Louis family lived in an eight-room house on Dolores street in San Francisco's Mission district. When Louis retired in 1946, he and his wife moved to a house in Clear Lake Highlands, Lake County.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Louis were in San Francisco during the 1906 earthquake and fire.

Mrs. Louis, before her marriage, was a telephone switchboard operator.

"I had to be at work at 7 o'clock and I was just thinking about getting up when it began to shake at quarter to five," she recalls. Her parents' place on Presidio avenue sustained little damage except for broken dishes.

Mrs. Louis was only six months old when her family left Cologne, Germany. Louis is a native San Franciscan. His parents had immigrated from Alsace-Lorraine.

Married life brought eight children, including two sets of girl twins. Six children are living.

Their oldest daughter is Mrs. Frances Clark of Santa Clara; next came Walter E. Louis of Larkspur, who is a San Rafael plumbing contractor; then the first set of twins, Mrs. Lorraine Fitzgerald of San Bruno and Mrs. Loretta Tubbs of Napa; next, Paul J. Louis of Mill Valley, and then Mrs. Rudolph of San Rafael (whose twin died at one year).

They have 13 grandchildren. The oldest granddaughter, 21, is following in her grandmother's footsteps as a telephone company service representative in San Francisco.

Although their anniversary is tomorrow, they will celebrate it on Sunday at a family party. One of the guests will be Mrs. Rose Tooney of San Rafael, sister of Louis and a bridesmaid at the wedding 50 years ago.

Probation Officer Quits; His Case Load Too Heavy

Probation Officer William F. Royse, 38, has submitted his resignation to Chief County Probation Officer Walter Busher, it was learned today.

Royse, who came to Marin County almost five years ago, wrote Busher that he plans to leave June 11 to take similar job in Santa Cruz. Royse said he has made many friends here and is sorry to leave, but the work load is getting to the point where he believes he is not doing justice to each case referred to him.

Airman Hurt In Crash Still On Critical List

Airman Dean F. Scalley, 24, of Hamilton Air Force Base "is beginning to respond to stimuli, but he is still on the critical list," a spokesman at Letterman Army Hospital reported today.

Scalley suffered critical head injuries nearly two weeks in a San Rafael automobile accident which killed two fellow airmen.

5-Year High School, 4-Year College Urged By Candidate

Proposals for a four-year College of Marin, with tuition to be charged students, and five-year high school in the Tamalpais High School District were advanced last night at a school candidates' meeting in Fairfax.

The meeting, sponsored the Fairfax Parent-Teacher Assn., and moderated by Fairfax Mayor Edward A. Smith, was held at Deer Park School.

Candidates who appeared are seeking positions on the county board of education and on the district boards of Tamalpais Union High School, Marin Junior College and Fairfax Elementary School Districts.

PROPOSES DEPARTURE

The departures from present practices in the college and high school districts were proposed by Harry Leff Jr., of Corte Madera, who is seeking a seat on each board.

"I would like to see more than a two-year college," he said. "I would like to see an engineering school, a school of medicine and medical research. I feel we should charge tuition in order to pay teachers better and to provide more equipment. Students could get loans from bankers. I'd like to see more scholarships."

In the high schools, Leff said, he "would like to see an extention of the school term, with vacations throughout the year. I want a reduction of the compulsory age by a year, and a year added to high school. This would prep students for college. It would provide others with a trade. It would be for those who must work with their hands and be good at it."

HIGH SCHOOL EXTENSION

Leff said College of Marin now "is an extension of high school."

College board candidate George G. Washburn countered: "The College of Marin is an accredited college with the same rating as if a student were going to a university."

Washburn, a member of the college board for six years, said the tax rate when the school was started 26 years ago was 35 cents per $100 assessed valuation—and still is today.

Statements by other college district candidates were:

ALLAN D. EWEN: "I'm dedicated to rendering a public service. I was 10 years on the University of Southern California staff and have some experience in college administration. I'm for a better organized and better administered college. We should have expanding vision." He agreed with Washburn that there should be free education and no tuition charge.

ROBERT E. OLIVER mailed a statement saying: "I'm for a more significant college with emphasis on the two years preparatory work to relieve the congestion in the universities."

RUPERT E. KEMPF mailed statement saying: "The function of the college is to provide the first two years of higher education, and provide those with lower grades a continuation of high school, and to provide an intellectual center for the community."

Statements made by county board of education candidates were:

MRS. ADELE J. ALPERS: "My work for the last three years on the county instructional survey has strengthened my qualifications. Volunteer work is my dish, campaigning is not."

MRS. ALCE ANN (NANCY) RUST: "The functions of the county office are not over local school districts. It's an intermediate function between local districts and the state office. Fairfax uses county office dental, audio-visual and central purchasing services among others."

DENNIS V. CAREY mailed a statement asserting: "There is not a meeting of minds between the board and the staff."

EARL G. MARSHALL mailed a statement saying: "The standard in the minimum course of study should be strong. Some elementary and high school districts should be combined where it will benefit children."

MRS. ANNE SMART arrived just after her mailed statement was read. "I would share in the practical standards of administrator Virgil Hollis," said her statement. "I take the common-sense view. We need a practical and economical curriculum guide. The one now is complicated and wordy."

TED V. COLE did not appear or send a statement.

Tamalpais High School District speakers (other than Leff) were:

BOARD CHAIRMAN HOWARD I. McGILL: "The board has operated the district at less cost than other Bay Area union districts. Redwood High School construction costs were low. We're approaching a language laboratory. We will continue to study a math laboratory, and we may have a seven-period day so the academic child can take more electives if he wants."

E. RICHARD DE LEW: Cited his work with youngsters in the Camp Fire Girls and the Boy Scouts, and his work with the blind at Enchanted Hills.

WARREN C. LEFORT: "From what I've seen, affairs of district are well maintained, but a growing district means financial problems. I think by being familiar with finances, I could help the district and pay my debt to the community." Lefort is an accountant.

TOM McDOUGALL: "I'm not satisfied with the school either from an educational or financial standpoint. We must see what kind of an education we're getting for the money paid out. They're being trained but we want them educated."

JOSEPH C. MARSHALL: "I want to de-emphasize the athletic program and instill in the child an enthusiasm and interest in learning."

Fairfax School District speakers were:

VICTOR WATSON: "I believe in strong basic education or we will find people finishing college who don't even belong in high school."

LAURENCE G. HERMANN: "We have an obligation to make better schools, have good, well-paid teachers, good materials, but I'm willing to keep costs down."

MRS. FAY JENSEN: "After nine years on the board I believe continuity in thought and action might be valuable. I believe the unification study and the study on teachers' salaries should be pushed to a decision.

HARLAND B. HENNESSY: "There are pressures on our system from Sputnik. Costs plague educators. The layman should make his talents available in order to relieve these pressures."

RAYMOND ST. LOUIS mailed a statement saying: "I believe in low pupil-teacher ratio, and the continuation of transportation in public schools."

WOODPECKER PERSISTENT, AT ANY RATE

BAKERSFIELD (AP) — A sore-beaked woodpecker went rat-tat-a-tat today at a 70-foot pole on Phil Niederauer's house—as he has been doing for two months.

The woodpecker's beak has been badly damaged by the attack. The brown and white assailant makes the pole vibrate, but that's all. It's a metal TV antenna.

Bay Area Tugboat Strike Scheduled

SAN FRANCISCO — The Inland Boatmen's Union has scheduled a strike against the San Francisco Towboat Operators Assn. at midnight tonight unless a new contract agreement is reached by that time.

A strike would hamper movement of petroleum as well as construction and other heavy materials in the bay and its tributary rivers.

The union is seeking a general wage increase, overtime clause and pension plan. The association has offered a boost of $54 a month and a $25 monthly pension plan.

Woman Battling Rapist Causes Train Collision

NEW YORK (AP)—A woman, who said a youth tried to rape her, pulled the emergency cord on a subway train last night and halted it. Another train ran into it. Twenty-eight persons were hurt, none seriously.

Lucille Lo Bianco, 43, said a blond youth about 17 years old entered a car in which she and an elderly man were seated. She said youth ripped off her skirt and tried to to tear away her undergarments.

She screamed. She said an elderly man, only other occupant in the car, cowered in terror. At the next stop, Mrs. Lo Bianco said, she tried to get off the train but was hauled back by the youth. Fighting free as the train pulled away from the station, she pulled the emergency signal.

Sad Sam Draws Raves For Brilliant 2-Hit Shutout

The smallest crowd ever to watch the Giants play since they moved west sat in on one of their best pitched games yesterday

Sam Jones, whose record had folded to 2-4, blazed a sizzling two-hitter past the Phillies and struck out 12 for a National League seasonal high as San Francisco bounced back into third place with a 6-0 lacing of Philadelphia

But a delegation of only 5,128 was on hand to see Jones hurl no-hit ball until the seventh inning with an overpowering fast one and a curve that broke more sharply than the stock market.

MAYS HOMERS

A three-run homer by Willie Mays highlighted a five-run splurge during the first inning against Ruben Gomez, a former Giant, who did not return for the second frame.

Jones whiffed nine batters during the first five innings and there was the tension of a no-hitter rippling through the crowd until Willie Jones wrecked things in the seventh. Then the aging whiz kid hit a bleeder down the third base line which Jim Davenport got too late to make a play on and that was that.

Pinch-hitter Gene Freese collected the Phils' second hit in the eighth with a line single to left

"Yeah, I was going for the no-hitter from the fourth inning on," said Sam afterward, who was thinking of four years ago this month when he threw one at the Pittsburgh Pirates. "But then Jones hit the curve for that little single I wished at the time that he had hit it harder so Davenport could have thrown him out"

Freese's single came on a fast ball, Jones said.

"But I wasn't disappointed," he added. "The way I've been goin' I was just worried about winning a ball game."

Wally Post struck out three times to help Jones fatten up his whiff column. Wally went down swinging twice and looked at a called strike the third time.

Jones, walked five batters, two of them in the third for his toughest inning. Then he struck out Granny Hamner, who was the third hitter to fan in that session.

A home run by Leon Wagner, his first, added some icing to Sam's cake in the third inning.

NEVER FASTER

"This was the fastest I've ever seen Jones pitch," Manager Bill Rigney said afterward.

The bespectacled manager sent left-hander Mike McCormick (0-2) out to face Roman Semproch (2-1) when the Phils completed a two-day visit in San Francisco this afternoon.

Incidentally, a league record for the lowest total of assists by two teams was registered yesterday. The clubs combined for six of them, matching a mark that the Phils and Cubs set on May 2, 1957. Philadelphia only recorded one assist and Chicago five on that date.

Spahnie Wins 250th, Sets Goal Of 300

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

In the four score and three years of major league baseball, only four left-handed pitchers ever had won 250 games. Now Warren Spahn is the fifth.

The southpaw put it away last night, beating the St. Louis Cardinals 3-2, and hoisting the Milwaukee Braves back into the National League lead.

It was Spahnie's third shot at No. 250. Now 4-4 for the season, he had lost twice since bagging his 249th victory — which also came against the Cards.

Spahn, who joined American League right-hander Early Wynn (253) of the Chicago White Sox as the only active pitchers with 250 victories, was happy, of course, with last night's decision, but he accepted it like an old pro. "It's just a stepping stone," he said, "to the one I really want — No. 300."

He figures he might reach 300 if he can stay a starting pitcher for at least two or three more years. Now 39, his age-to-victories ratio is in keeping with that of the other four lefties to win 250. Eddie Plank, an American and Federal League player, is the top southpaw winner with 325. Lefty Grove won 300. Eppa Rixey (266) and Carl Hubbell (253) are the only National League left-handers who won more than Spahn.

CUBS RAP CINCY

Elsewhere in the N.L. San Francisco beat Philadelphia 6-0 on the two-hit pitching of Sam Jones, the Chicago Cubs rapped Cincinnati 10-0 behind Glen Hobbie's three-hitter, and Pittsburgh beat Los Angeles 6-4.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox defeated Boston 4-0 as Bob Shaw allowed but five hits in his first major league complete game. The rest of the schedule was rained out.

Billy Bruton's eighth-inning home run off Jerry Jackson (1-5), who gave up six hits, brought Spahn home a winner at St. Louis. The Cards were blanked on three hits over the last seven innings as Spahn, who fanned six, finished with a seven-hitter and became the 25th pitcher to win 250 in the majors.

Hank Aaron, who has an 18-game hitting streak, was out of the lineup for Milwaukee because of a sore ankle.

STUART HOMERS

Dick Stuart's two-run homer brought the Pirates from behind as they chased Don Drysdale (3-3) with three in the eighth at Los Angeles and slipped the Dodgers a half-game behind Milwaukee. Don Demeter's solo home run had given the Dodgers a 4-3 edge in the sixth against Ron Kline, but reliever Roy Face (5-0) shut them out on three hits over the last three frames. Face has a 10-0 record since last Memorial Day, the longest winning string now alive in the majors. He also has 19 saves in that span.

Ernie Banks' grand-slam homer triggered a seven-run third for the Cubs against Bob Purkey (4-3) as Hobbie (4-3) handed the Reds their third straight loss. Ed Bailey had two of the hits off Hobbie, who retired the last 12 men in order.

It was Banks' sixth slam—first since 1955, when he set the major league one-season record with five.

Vic Lindskog To Start At Center For Card Alumni

STANFORD (AP) — Stanford asked alumni football players to form a team to play the varsity and 60 responded.

Vic Lindskog, center of the 1941 Rose Bowl "Vow Boys," plan to start at center. His son, Stan, is a sophomore quarterback.

Frankie Albert, late of the San Francisco 49ers, will coach the alums. He was a quarterback on that '41 club.

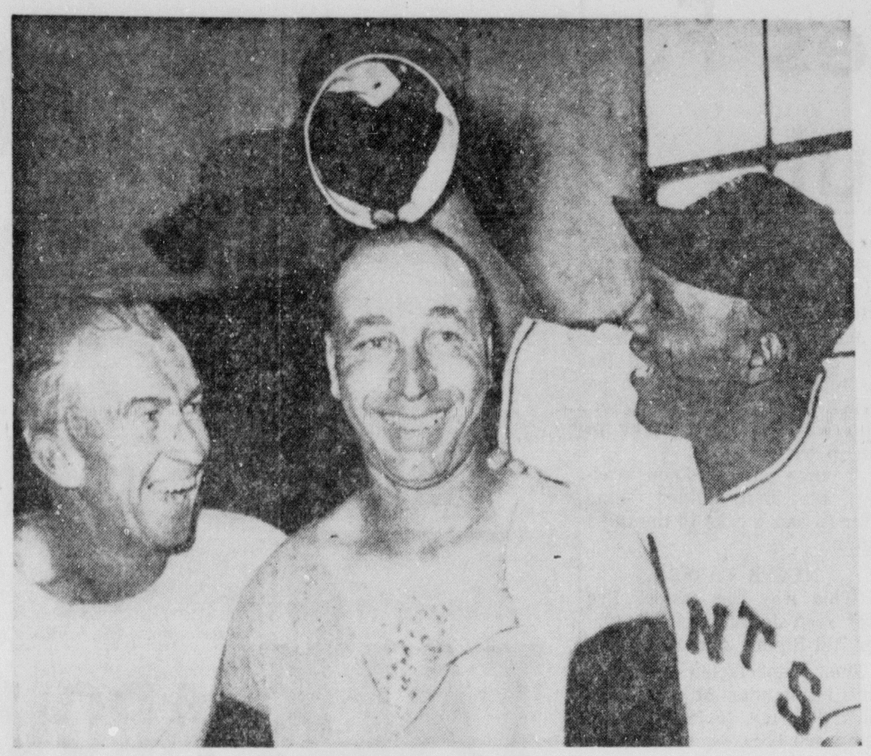
John Brodie, a 49er quarterback, will call signals for the alums. He'll have Bill McColl, a Chicago Bear halfback, and Gary Van Galder, a 1957 graduate, at ends. The other starting backs will be Ron Cook of '53, Jack Taylor, quarterback in '57, and fullback Bill Tarr of '55.

"We'll score 40 points," Brodie said.

Lopes-Salas Fight Postponed 'Til June

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The scheduled 10-round fight between Joey Lopes of Sacramento and former lightweight champion Lauro Salas of Los Angeles has been postponed from next Tuesday until June 2 because of a cut under Lopes' eye.

Five stitches were taken to colse the cut, which Lopes suffering while sparring in training.



'SAD' SAM NOT SO SAD

Giants' Manager Bill Rigney (left), and Willie Mays (right), congratulate pitcher Sam (Sad) Jones after he shut out Philadelphia on two hits and fanned 12 yesterday, the most for a National League hurler this season. Jones had a no-hitter going up to the seventh inning when Willie Jones legged out an infield roller. Mays got a three-run homer in the first inning to get the Giants off to a good start. Final score, 6-0. (AP Wirephoto)

DUPAS MIFFED AFTER CLOSE LOSS TO SCOTT

CHICAGO (AP)—"What do you have to do to win a fight?" fumed Ralph Dupas after losing to Charley Scott.

"I'm becoming known as the split decision kid," added the No. 2 welterweight contender. "Del Flanagan, Sugar Hart and now Scott get split decisions over me."

Dupas was a dejected figure after Scott, ranked No. 7, won a split decision in a 10-round nationally televised bout last night in Chicago Stadium.

Scott, an 8-5 ringside favorite, decked Dupas in the first round. The New Orleans welterweight was up at three, and took the mandatory eight count.

Scott, a 22-year-old Philadelphian, had much more steam in his punches than the fast-fisted Dupas, who set a furious pace. Dupas was troubled by eye cuts from the second round on.

Preliminaries On Cow Palace Card Are Announced

Preliminary matches for the Eddie Machen-Rueben Vargas 10-rounder at the Cow Palace next Wednesday were announced yesterday by Mario Spampinato, assistant matchmaker for the San Francisco Boxing Club.

In lightweight scraps, Henry Berrera, San Francisco, faces little Bobo Olson, San Pablo, and Morris Duran, San Francisco, opposes Tommy Ghan, Oakland.

Paul Machen, Eddie's brother, of Portland, squares off against Johnny Wolmac, San Francisco, in a middleweight affair. Another bout pairs featherweights Freddie Viscarra, San Francisco, and Ronnie Perez, Hayward.

Welterweight Pineapples Pallega, San Francisco, will also appear on the show. All prelims are scheduled four-rounders.

The Machen-Vargas heavyweight battle, televised nationally but blacked out within a 300-mile radius of San Francisco, will go on at 7 p. m.

JACK HANLEY'S REPORT

Close Race All Way, Says Bucs' Murtagh

By JACK HANLEY
I-J Correspondent

Before Danny Murtagh moved on to Los Angeles with his Pirates to make way in Seals Stadium for the Phillies, he made this observation:

"It's going to be tough all the way."

The black-bearded, tobacco-chewing Irishman referred, of course, to the 1959 National League pennant chase.

Someone had suggested that one of the teams soon would break away from the pack and win six, seven or eight straight.

"No, I don't see it that way," said the Pirate field boss who was voted "Manager of the Year" in 1958 and this season has the confidence of Forbes Field fans in Pittsburgh's bid for the first Pirate pennant since 1927.

"The teams are too well balanced for that to happen," he continued. "And all of them have sound pitching."

He said the big difference in the Giants this year and last season was the pitching. He would not be drawn into a detailed discussion on this point but re-stated his conclusion about the Giants in this manner:

"It's the same ball club as last year except the pitching—that's the difference."

THE MILWAUKEE Braves? When the sun bakes and hardens the midwest and eastern infields will Johnny Logan still be as effective at short as he has been on a slow field? And what about Johnny O'Brien at second for the Braves?

"The Braves are always tough," he said. "They went to the pennant twice with Logan and no team can do it without a good shortstop. Logan is a good shortstop. As for O'Brien, he's got competitive guts."

Sensing that the next logical question would seek his rating of Giant shortstop Andre Rodgers, Murtagh switched the discussion back to pitching.

"TAKE THOSE two young fellows on the mound for Chicago," said the cagey Irishman who did not name them but meant Glen Hobbie and Dick Drott, both of whom went into military service last September under the 6-months trainee program. "They'll do."

Then, without pausing, Murtagh asked a rhetorical question which the inflection of his voice answered. It was "And how about those Dodgers and their pitching, especially that (Don) Drysdale's?"

And continuing in the same vein he allowed that Cincinnati had some pretty good pitching with Bob Purkey & Company.

"By the way," he asked, expecting an answer this time, "what was the trouble in Cincinnati?"

He was told that Purkey lowbridged Willie Mays with the first pitch he threw at the Giant center fielder as if to say "Willie, things are going to be just the same as last year" when Purkey put Mays in the dirt several times.

LATER IN that game at Crosley Field, Murtagh was informed, Giant pitcher Gordon Jones potted Purkey in the seat of his pants with a fast ball and drew a $50 fine for it.

The moment now appeared right to direct the discussion back to Rodgers and ask Murtagh whether he thought Rodgers' shortstopping would improve as the infield gets harder like it is in Phoenix where Rodgers played last year.

But Murtagh suddenly engaged Danny O'Connell in conversation, calling to last year's Giant second baseman who back-handed a grounder in Giant infield practice:

"It's about time you stopped one."

The two Irishmen then exchanged a few other needling pleasantries, but the interview with Murtagh was over and he still hadn't gone on record about one other pointed difference besides pitching between the Giants of '59 and '58.

READ SUCCEEDS DE VITO

San Rafael Names New Grid Mentor

San Rafael Board of Education this week named Richard "Dick" Read, former Santa Rosa High School star, as new head football coach at San Rafael High.

He succeeds Sam DeVito who has resigned to accept the head coaching job at Diablo Valley Junior College in Concord. DeVito stayed at San Rafael for just one season—but it was a big one as his Bulldogs won the undisputed North Bay League championship.

Read, 30, comes to San Rafael from St. Mary's High in Berkeley were he was head coach for the past two seasons. Prior to that he was an assistant coach for one season at Pleasant Hills High.

Read was a star end at Santa Rosa High in the mid 1940's. He later attended St. Mary's College and transferred to Tulsa University when St. Mary's dropped football.

He also picked up some coaching experience as a junior varsity coach while doing graduate work at San Francisco State College.

Read's assistants next season, coming back from last year, are Bob Muster, Pete Limm and Jack Sims.

Bare-Footed Kicker Shows Off In Reno

(Special to I-J)

RENO, Nevada—A new world's record was established here last week when the highest football place kick ever recorded was made from the roof of the Mapes Hotel. Barefooted, yet!

Gordon Tovani of Kentfield, Calif., sometimes called "Gordy Sorto" and billed as the world's greatest barefoot place kicker, booted a pigskin off the roof of the hotel to a point 75 yards across the Truckee River.

Elevation of the Mapes is 4,626 feet, making it the tallest building in Nevada.

Tovani, a salesman, also challenged Renoite Pat Brady to a punting and place-kicking contest the next time he is in town. Brady, a former University of Nevada and Pittsburgh Steeler football star who for three years led the nation's pros in punting, accepted the challenge.

The Mapes Hotel plans to make all arrangements for the duel. Tovani attracted considerable attention by booting the ball over the archway leading into Reno.

Mill Valley Rifle Team Sixth In North Cal Match

Mill Valley DeMolay riflemen competing in the Northern California Junior Rifle League match at Sharp Park Sunday placed sixth in the four position team match against 24 other northern California teams.

George Bolles was top Mill Valley shooter as he posted an excellent 184x5 over the gusty wind-swept 50-yard course. Don Marvin posted 171x1, Harry Hersh 165x5 and Robert Joy 161 for their team total of 681x6.

Bolles placed third in the expert class at 50 yards in the individual matches with 194x7.

Harry Hersh carded 192x4 to place second in the expert class at 50 meters His 570x17 was good for the fifth place aggregate medal in his class.

There were 125 individual shooters entered in the matches.

Herm Meister Quits Stanford Grid Post

STANFORD (AP)—Herm Meister, a football coach for 23 years, has quit as a Stanford assistant to become a high school principal.

The ex-Santa Clara, ex-St. Mary's, ex-California coach had been at Stanford two years. He's going to Pt. Arena, Calif. high school next fall.

The BULLPEN

With JOHN J. CONNOLLY

It's Pity Modern Managers Don't Manage From The Coaching Box

CONNOLLY

It's a pity when you realize most modern day baseball managers seem to be losing the knack of getting their clubs all hotted up.

Since bench managing became the rage, the paying public barely gets acquainted with the skipper of the club. The only time they know what he looks like is when he darts out of the dugout like a caged lion to yell and scream at a decision.

Otherwise they only get to see the "boss" when he acts as a messenger boy to pack the lineup to the home plate for the umpire and to discuss the ground rules, if any discussion is needed.

Most of our great managers in major league baseball were coaches and as such developed into managers and characters of a sort. The ball players got to know the manager a lot better as a baseball technician rather than a clubhouse orator.

TODAY IN BASEBALL, all the hooey tossing and psychology stuff emanates from the dugout, and half the time the player to whom the stuff is directed never hears it, or else get it second hand from the coach.

The pep talk and the encouragement Lefty O'Doul gave to his players greatly enhanced his popularity as manager for the San Francisco Seals.

Jack Lelivelt of Los Angeles built up a reputation as a pilot by being the first person to shake hands with his homerun hitters as they passed third base en route home.

"The old cry from the manager at third or first base used to echo through the ball park. I remember one fellow in particular who always shouted, at the beginning of an inning:

"Come on, gang, let's pick up 10 or 12 runs."

Football coaches, even today, in this professional age, prefer to be "near their men" and talk to each player before he goes in or when he comes out of a ball game.

BUT SOMEHOW, for some reason, managers of big league clubs today think they have to master-mind from the bench.

And its all wrong.

I'm for seeing Bill Rigney on first base and instead of backing up his coaches when they kick I'd like to see Rig hauling off on an umpire and bawling the daylights out of him.

I think a manager loses the old zing when he is defending the judgment of his coach on a close play. He'd be much better and fire up his players a lot faster by urging them from the coaching box.

Managers signal outfielders to play deep, swing to the right or left for certain types of hitters Why couldn't they do it from the coaching box instead of the dugout?

I SHALL NEVER forget some of the football trips with the Uclans or Trojans in the old days.

Howard Jones and Bill Spaulding were both good at shoveling out fighting words to their players before a football game.

One time in particular Jones called a secret meeting of his players on the train going to Notre Dame. We missed the speech and later tried to find out what he said to his players.

"What did he say?" I inquired of one player.

"Oh, damned if I know. The public address system went off just before he started to speak."

And that gives us an idea. Why couldn't the Giants wear walkie-talkie equipment?

Rig could give them the high sign faster and without straining himself. And maybe the boys wouldn't be pulling so many skull plays so early in the season.

Native Sons Golf Tourney May 20 At Meadow Club

Devotees, both pros and amateurs, of "cow pasture pool," or, as it is called in polite society, golf, attending the 82nd annual SGW Grand Parlor Convention in San Rafael, May 17-21, will tee off at 7:30 Wednesday morning, May 20, for the Native Sons Golf Tournament at the beautiful Meadow Club in Fairfax.

Vying for the state championship golf trophies of classes A and B will be the winners of the northern, central and southern California regional golf tournaments.

Al Silveria of Washington Parlor No. 169, Centerville (Alameda County), is state athletic chairman for the Native Sons.

At the recent regional tournament, held at the Meadow Club, players from Fairfax Parlor No. 307, NSGW, won the team trophy, while E. Warren McGuire, junior past president of the parlor, walked away with the championship Class C award.

MILL VALLEY NURSERY DOUBLING SIZE

Egger and Son Nurseries will double the capacity of its plant at La Goma and Sycamore street, Mill Valley, with a $60,000 building project now under way. This is sketch of the new design by architect Michael Wornum of Mill Valley. A landscaped and shaded walkway leads to new entrance on La Goma street. The expansion will include over 10,000 square feet of new lath-house. James E. Egger of the nursery firm said construction is slated for completion early next fall.

Youths, Cars Topic For Parents Club

"Young Adults and Cars" will be the topic of a panel discussion at Sleepy Hollow School this evening at 8 o'clock at a meeting of the Sleepy Hollow Parents Club.

Eighth grade members of the panel will be Walter Klenz, Joe Hickerson, Terri Orr, Rick Lais and Linden Press. Mrs. George Benoit and Harry Press will give the views of parents and Paul Zensius, California Highway Patrol officer, will answer questions on the state vehicle code. The moderator will be Millard Morgan, eighth grade teacher.

Election of parents' club board members is also slated for this evening. Robert Taylor and Mrs. Lloyd Politi have been nominated as two of the four chairmen, Mrs. James Smith as secretary, and James Kephart as treasurer. Other nominations will be accepted from the floor.

Engineers Complete College Sites Survey

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Engineers of the state Division of Architecture have completed a survey of all proposed sites for the new North Bay state college, including Novato, preparatory to a final site selection.

H. C. Vincent, administrative secretary of the state Public Works Board, said yesterday the architects' final report was being prepared and should be in his hands in a few days. The Public Works Board has the final say on where the site will be.

"We asked the architects to go over the sites to see if they agree with us on their feasibility," Vincent said.

Next step will be for Vincent and members of his staff to meet with sponsors of various sites in particular areas. "W'd like the various areas to agree on one site, rather than propose a number," he said. "In effect, we think each area should put all their eggs in their best basket."

He said "we know that each area has a good site." By each area he said he meant, Novato, Petaluma, Santa Rosa, Sonoma and the Napa-Solano areas.

"We'd like to get the sponsors to narrow the proposed sites to half a dozen or so, so that the whole Public Works Board will not have to visit two dozen, many of them marginal," Vincent said.

Staff visits to the sponsors should be completed by the end of the month, he estimated.

"We hope to have the board visit the sites and hold a public hearing for final decision after the Legislature adjourns (June 18) and before the first of July," Vincent concluded.

The Seven Seas are the North and South Atlantic oceans, the North and South Pacific, and the Indian, Arctic and Antarctic oceans.

Absent Vote Count Decides Bolinas Utility Winners

Lewis G. Pepper, James Bourne and Sherman R. Smith have been elected members of the Bolinas Public Utility District board, secretary Carl L. Josephson announced after counting seven absentee ballots yesterday.

Nine absentee ballots were taken out but only seven returned, Josephson said. But seven were enough to affect the outcome of the extremely close election. Edward B. Page, who had held a one-vote lead over Bourne for third place before the absentees were counted, was nosed out.

The final count established Pepper, Bolinas builder, as high man with 64 votes, reported Josephson. Bourne, incumbent chairman of the board, and Smith, county fire warden, each received 62.

Page wound up with 59 votes, followed by incumbent Damuel N. Mostovoy with 54 and A. C. Pfefferkorn with 47.

Pepper, Bourne and Smith will receive staggered terms to be determined by lot, Josephson said. They will be seated at or prior to the June 1 meeting of the board, he reported.

The result was a partial victory for the "ticket" of Pepper, Smith and Page, who sought to unseat incumbents Bourne and Mostovoy. Incumbent R. Warren McKinney did not seek re-election.

The district supplies water to the community of Bolinas.

EXPERTS SPEAK

Women Set Mode For Family Diet

It is up to the woman as mother, cook, and meal planner to see that her family is well-nourished, Larkspur gynecologist Harold M. Lyons said at a recent meeting of parents, teachers, school nurses and principals at Lynwood School in Novato.

The physician was one of five panel members discussing "Why Teach Nutrition?" Rounding out the discussion were Mrs. Virginia Porter, county home advisor; Mrs. Frances Dahl, county health department nutritionist; Dr. Ruth Huenemann, associate professor of nutrition at University of California School of Public Health; and Mrs. Margaret Engelhart, San Jose School District school nurse, chairman.

"As teachers, women can influence whether youngsters learn good nutrition and how to plan good meals. And as school nurse, she can see the ill effects of poor diets and recommend improved ones," the doctor continued.

National surveys show that parts of the population are seriously undernourished, even though Americans are among the best fed people in the world said Mrs. Porter. About one in four persons is not getting adequate amounts of calcium and vitamin C in his meals.

Better breakfasts were encouraged by Mrs. Dahl, who presented facts and a film to indicate that co-eds at Iowa State University who skipped breakfast were less efficient mentally and physically during the late morning hours than those who had eaten.

The girls were not able to solve arithmetic problems as quickly, had less endurance on a cycling machine and less steadiness of hand.

Food facts versus food fads were described by Dr. Huenemann, who said "Food fads often mean a waste of money on expensive special foods that provide no better nourishment than ordinary foods available in every food market."

"Beware of products that promise to prevent a large number of diseases, products claiming the average market cannot provide nutritious foods, and food claims made by persons who have a product to sell," she warned.

The program was arranged by the Community Committee on Nutrition Education in cooperation with schools and Parent-Teacher Associations of the San Jose district.

Mrs. Peter Ferrarese and Mrs. Joseph Sereda, P-TA health chairmen served refreshments.

ENGAGEMENT OF MRS. OLIVER, DR. McGANN ANNOUNCED

The engagement and forthcoming marriage of Mrs. Elizabeth Oliver and Dr. William R. McGann was announced at a party given Sunday evening at the bride-elect's home in Terra Linda.

Decorations were in pink and white, and even to the candles on the table, were in heart form.

Cocktails were served in the patio, where guests danced to the taped-recorded music by Bradford C. Collins. A buffet supper followed.

The bride'elect's 11-year-old son, Gregory Oliver, was busy greeting guests and taking pictures of the evening's festivities. George Leftwich, talented banjo player, played many selections.

Guests were Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Duplisea, Dr. and Mrs. Manfred Prescott, Dr. and Mrs. J. Lyman Hurlbut, Messrs. and Mesdames Collins, Leftwich, Harry McGann, Roland Wilson, Randall Ward, Peter Hurst, Gilbert Carr, Myron Elges, Robert C. Taylor, Clyde Curley, Edgar Smith, Francis Fogarty, Mrs. Madeleine Carner, Mrs. Ray Overdick, Mrs. Lela Thompson, and Commander Richard Burtz.

The bride-elect, formerly of New York, is a graduate of the University of Michigan. She is employed as a receptionist at the Ross Valley Clinic. She is the daughter of Mrs. Wilhemie Hass of New York, a landscape architect, and Alexander Haas, manager of the San Diego Symphony.

Dr. McGann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry McGann of San Francisco, is a graduate of the University of California and has his professional offices in Larkspur.

The couple will be married on Saturday, July 4, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon at Holy Innocents Church in Corte Madera.

Dancers Will Hold Party Tomorrow

Southern Marin Folk Dancers' beginning folk and dance students will hold a graduation party tomorrow night at Reed School, marking completion of a 15-week course taught by Mickey McGowan.

All Marin County folk and square dancers are invited to participate in the ceremony and dancing program, which will start at 8:15. Mrs. Fred T. Beckley's beginner's class is in charge of arrangements.

Officers Wives Club Greets Newcomers

The Officers' Wives club extended welcome to 12 newcomers at a recent coffee held in the Officers' club lounge. Introduction of the new members were made by Mrs. Marvin Good, welcome chairman, and included the wives of the following officers: C/WO Herbert Meeks from Tinker AFB, Oklahoma, Major Bob Mundt from Formosa, Lt. Col. John H. Wardle from Japan, Lt. John E. Shama from Azores, Tech. rep. Ronald Raver from Los Angeles, Tech. rep. Garrett Vloedman from Los Angeles, Tech. rep. George Tally from Eglin AFB, Florida, Major Cecil Walton from Anchorage, Alaska, Civilian OCDM Howard Beede from Colorado Springs, Colorado, Civilian OCDM Harry Chapman from Denver, Colorado, Major Arthur H. Wilson from Germany and Col. George Wm. Kroese.

Serving were Mrs. Edwin L. Tucker and Mrs. Edward Monaghan.

Mrs. John Robinson, president, briefed the newcomers on the activities of the club and introduced members of the council.

Lee Wagner Is Awarded Dance Trophy

A dinner dance at the Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito recently terminated the Junior Cotillion's spring season for the eighth and ninth grade members.

The awarding of the trophy for the season generated great excitment. Mrs. Bari Frohlich, director of the Junior Cotillion, awards a trophy to each group at its last dance of the season. The trophy is won by the member who has accumulated the greatest number of points for courtesy and dancing. A three way tie between Tony McGinty, William Shannon and Lee Wagner necessitated a "dance-off". These three young gentlemen chose as their partners, Leslie Ann Davis, Marcia Goldberg and Janet Strauss. Members of the group designated their choice by voting. Winner of the coveted trophy was Lee Wagner, son of Dr. and Mrs. Dallas L. Wagner of San Rafael.

Mrs. Frohlich told the group of a newly formulated policy for the eighth and ninth graders for the 1959-60 season which will include three dances with orchestra and the traditional dinner dance at the Alta Mira Hotel.

Cotillion members who assisted Mrs. Frohlich in planning the evening were Leslie Ann Davis, Janet Strauss, Robert Dahl, Wesley Perkinson, Paul Kruger and William Shannon.

SATURDAY NIGHT

Hayakawa Lecture Inspires Parties

Members of the Tamalpais High School Chapter of the American Field Service are eagerly anticipating the lecture by Dr. S. I. Hayakawa on the "Origin And Meaning Of The Blues" to be given Saturday evening at the College of Marin jazz festival. Proceeds from the lecture will go towards scholarships for the Tam High boys and girls who have been selected for the summer exchange and school exchange programs of the American Field Service. These are Tom Matthews of Sausalito, Candy McDonnell, Brian Muth and Lisa Mibach of Mill Valley.

Dr. Hayakawa's lecture, in which he will be assisted by Jack Sheedy's band, and Claire Austen, vocalist, has been given at colleges and jazz festivals all over the country. This is its first presentation in Marin county.

Several members of Tam High Chapter of the American Field Service are planning social events for Saturday evening: The Donald Fowlers have invited: Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Gregg, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Blayney, Mr. and Mrs. George Wood of Mill Valley, Dr. and Mrs. Leo Wagner of Novato, to a buffet dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mosher are entertaining a group after the lecture, including Dr. and Mrs. Hayakawa, Dr. and Mrs. William Pemberton, Mr. and Mrs. William Hogan and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Strawbridge of Mill Valley, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Clear of Sausalito, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Allen, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Watkins of Belvedere and Dr. and Mrs. Fowler.

In Tamalpais Valley

Nevin Kempthorne, Mill Valley artist, spoke on the "Principles of Art" at the recent meeting of the Women's Society of the Tamalpais Valley Community Methodist Church. He also gave a demonstration of portrait painting with Mrs. Lucy Kenny, chosen by the audience, as his model.

'ALOHA' will be the greeting when Dominican Alumnae and their guests gather at the cocktail party and fashion show on Saturday at the San Rafael home of Mrs. Robert O'Mara. The Hawaiian theme will be carried out in decorations, fashions and menu. Above, a trio of alumnae prepares for the gala event (left to right) Miss Edna Zuchelli, Mrs. Anthony Perez and Mrs. George Goddard.

Hawaiian Note At Dominican Alums Party

"Aloha! Greetings from the Dominican alumnae to an evening of fashion and gaiety" This greeting will be expressed by the Hawaiian poster in the front gardens of Mrs Robert O'Mara's home in San Rafael for Dominican's annual cocktail-fashion show to be held on Saturday, from 4 to 7 o'clock. Mrs. Robert Fair, decorations chairman, has searched "far and near" for the backdrops that will be a salute to Hawaii. Guests will be "greeted" by a huge wooden Tiki god, then walk down the path outlined by flaming torches to the pool, on which gardenias will be floating

In keeping with the Hawaiian theme, Mrs. Edward Perez, refreshments chairman, is providing island delicacies.

Mrs. John W| Rakow Jr., general chairman, has announced that reservations are still open. They may be obtained from Mrs. Walter Coyne, 13 Deer Park avenue, or at the door on Saturday. All Dominican alumnae and their friends are cordially invited to join in this evening of fun and fashions.

Mrs. William Donohoe, models chairman, has selected 10 lovely alumnae to show fashions from the Ross Valley Shop in Kentfield. These are Mesdames Victor Burner, Robert Fair, George Goddard, A. Barlow Ferguson, Arthur C. Latno Jr., and Misses Donna Zander, Carol Haley, Joan Haley and Lynn Mernin.

The fashion show will begin promptly at 5 o'clock with Andrew Swedlund as commentator. Preceding the show Mrs. Robert Hosmer will do an authentic Hawaian dance.

Others assisting are Mesdames Thomas Guerin, invitations; Roman Horak, props; Vincent Sullivan, potables; Pierce Powers, door, and Miss Edna Zuchelli, name tags. All proceeds from the evening will go to the Dominican building fund.

CRAZY HATS will be de rigueur when the annual spring luncheon of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the San Rafael Methodist Church takes place on Wednesday, May 20, at 12 o'clock in Turley Hall at the church. Above, Mrs. Edith Smallman (at left) and Mrs. William W. Reynolds are practicing their artistry on the headgear of Mrs. Philip Bates.

MRS. ROBERT WOODHURST has created a chapeau for the Crazy Hat luncheon which evidently delights Mrs. Bernie Heare, center, and Mrs. James Turner. The latter is general chairman of the event. She announces that prizes will be awarded after the hat show.

Mrs. William Webb Shower Honoree

The Sunbeam Room of the Hamilton Air Force Base Officers' Club was the locale recently for a stork shower honoring Mrs. William Webb, wife of the Officers' Club secretary. Mrs. James Kalmen was hostess for the party.

Highlights of the afternoon were the opening of the traditional "seventh gift" from Mrs. Charles Ratajski and a clever name tag for the baby enclosed in the gift from Mrs. John R. Robinson, club president.

Others who enjoyed the champagne punch and sandwiches were Mesdames J. D. Furhman, Melvin Call, Ralph Hendricksen, James Mulkern, John Ward, Roger Logan, Harry Arendt, George Ceuleers, Rex Swindling, W. J. Lindgren, Gus Colvin, Charles Kipfer, Charles Wells, Jessie Bryan, Rupert Welch, Phillip Coady, Paul Molloy, Joseph Klemovich and Kit Bobzien.

Cook P-TA To Install At Tonight's Meeting

Installation of officers of Isabel Cook P-TA will be held at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium. Mrs. Sam Goldbaum, president of Ross Valley Council, will install Mesdames Henry Allgor, president; William Bovard, vice president; Mr. James Stinchcomb, honorary vice president; Mrs. William During, secretary; Mrs. J. B. Purcell, treasurer; Mrs. H. E. Newlin, historian; Richard Judd, auditor; and Mrs. H. F. Girvin, parliamentarian.

A program will be presented by the school under the direction of Miss Kathleen Small. It will include a clarinet solo by Edward Brown, who will receive a music award pin from the P-TA for his achievement in music while at Isabel Cook School.

Refreshments will be served by mothers of Mrs. Evlyn Nash's first graders following the meeting.

WCTU Will Stress Missionary Theme

The Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet at the home of Miss Irene Barstow, 824 E St., San Rafael, tomorrow. The theme of the program is Mission Lane and will stress the importance of a home and foreign missionary effort to lead children along the highway to abstinence.

The business session at 11:30 a. m. will be followed by noontide prayer and luncheon. Mrs. A. C. King will open the afternoon session with the devotions. Scripture reference in Prov. 22:6: "Train up a child in the way he should go and when he is old he will not depart from it." Mrs. W. A. Marklinger will review three more chapters of the study book: "Merchants of Misery." All members and friends are invited to attend.

Junior Leaguers To Hear British Consul

The May general meeting of the Junior League of San Francisco, Inc. will be held at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow in the auditorium of the California Palace of the Legion of Honor Museum. Guest speaker will be Mr. H. S. Marchant, British consul general, whose subject will be, "Background of the Berlin Crisis."

Members will also have an opportunity to view the Goetz art collection following the meeting.

Tamalpais Druids Fete Mrs. Brashear

At the regular meeting of Tamalpais Circle 183 of Druids held recently at the Odd Fellows hall in Mill Valley, with the arch Druidess Mrs. Edward Beach presiding a surprise party was given for Mrs. Martin Brashear who was presented with her five year pin.

Several of the members wearing fancy aprons brought Mrs. Brashear forward and when Mrs. Robert Davis put one on her, everyone sang, "Tied to Your Apron Strings." Then a skit was given and a beautiful purse presented to Mrs. Brashear.

In charge were Mesdames Norman Frost, Robert Davis and Joseph Zaborowski.

Blue Birds Take Tour

The Cheerful Blue Birds of San Rafael's Coleman School, with their leaders, Mrs. M. F. Scovill and Mrs. Byron Clayton, recently made a field trip to Larkspur to visit the shop of floral decorator Katherine Eubanks. The art of corsage making was explained to the Blue Birds by Mrs. Eubanks, who also took the girls on a tour of her shop. On the trip were Jackie Jenkins, Susan Clayton, Carol Scovill, Julie Jenkins and Donna Presco.

Cancer Film To Be Shown In Novato

The American Cancer Society now has a North Marin Branch of the unit with Mrs. Thomas Wiggin acting as general chairman.

Her appointment was announced by Mrs. Harold Harker, president of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Donald V. Westlund Post auxiliary, the sponsoring organization. Serving with Mrs. Wiggin will be Mrs. Louis J. Cavallero, service chairman, and Mrs. Paul Woodward, education chairman.

The new group will have temporary headquarters at the VFW Hall. Auxiliary members plan to distribute surgical dressings and help with other cancer patients' needs, including transportation.

Two films on detection of cancer will be shown at the Novato Theater Tuesday, May 19 at 2 p. m. All women are invited, Mrs. Harker said. Dr. Leo Wagner, Novato physician, will be present to answer questions afterwards.

Produced for the American Cancer Society and entitled "Time and Two Women," the film is part of a broad ACS program to speed the attack on uterine cancer. The ACS launched the attack on this site of the disease in 1936.

Mortality from uterine cancer has dropped more than 40 per cent in the 25 year period of 1930-1955. But uterine cancer still claims the lives of some 16,000 women annually, the ACS reports.

Genessee To Have Pot Luck Supper

The meeting of Genessee Council No. 180, Degree of Pocahontas, to be held tomorrow night at the Portuguese-American Hall in San Rafael will be preceded by a 6:30 p.m. pot luck supper. Mrs. John Locati, Pocahontas, is in charge of the supper with mbers of the May "good of the order" committee. Members are to bring food for the supper and the main dish will be provided by the council. .

At the meeting, nomination of officers will be held. They will be installed on Aug. 7. Plans will be discussed for an "adoption" on the last meeting in June, which will end the term.

Mrs. Alice Andrews and Mrs. Anna Keelan, Genessee members, were present at the recent Friendship Night in Benicia when Solano Council was hostess organization to councils in the area.

Dad Of Teen-Agers Desperate, 'Almost Ready To Move Away'

Mr. A.K. "I'm almost ready to move away from my family. We have two teen-age daughters. They have at least one boy friend around every evening. We have a two bedroom house. They insist I vacate the living room while the boys are there. They don't do anything bad while I'm gone. But they say my presence spoils their fun. Doesn't a father have a right to sit in his living room and watch TV, after a hard day's work?"

Reply. Of course he does. However, I think a father should check the various alternatives carefully first. If you stay in the living room, will your girls start parking in cars? That leads to necking. Or will they want to go to someone else's home, where worse things might happen? It might be better if you moved the TV set and a comfortable chair into another room.

Mrs. F.J. "Our boy is 12, and in the sixth grade. He does well in school. He's an officer in the student body. Recently he has been running with a questionable gang. He was one of a group which broke into school. They did $40 worth of damage. We are in a stew. Why would a boy who enjoys school do such a thing? Should we make him pay his share of the repairs? How can we rehabilitate that gang?"

Reply. A good boy who runs with a bad gang does bad things too. He feels he must. If he doesn't he's called "chicken." He loses face. Be sure to have your son pay his share of the repairs. Have him work to earn the money. Do the parents of the other boys take an interest in them? I hope so. In that case I suggest you try to get a well-liked high school coach to meet with the boys regularly. Have him divert their interest into sports and other constructive activities. Many bad elementary school gangs have been transformed this way. Often service clubs are willing to finance such clubs, paying the coach for his work. YMCA's, Boys' Clubs, school gyms make good meeting places. This would be a practical type of delinquency prevention for your boy and his gang.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, May 14, the 134th day of the year, with 231 more days in 1959.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning stars are Mercury, Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening stars are Mars and Venus.

On this date in history:

In 1804, Captain Meriwether Lewis and William Clark set out from what is now St. Louis, Mo., on their expedition to the Pacific Coast to study specifically what the United States had acquired in the Louisiana Purchase.

In 1904, the Olympic Games were held in the United States for the first time, the competitions starting on this date in St. Louis.

In 1913, John D. Rockefeller donated 100 million dollars, said to be the largest single gift of money to date, for the establishment of the Rockefeller Foundation for the promotion of the "well-being of mankind throughout the world."

In 1942, Congress established the WAAC, the Women's Auxiliary Army Corps.

In 1948, Great Britain ended its 31-year rule in Palestine, followed immediately by a proclamation in Tel Aviv of the birth of the free and independent State of Israel.

A thought for today: Paul Richard, philosopher, commented: "The vagabond, when rich, is called a tourist."

LITTERBUG MUST HAVE USED TRUCK

Sheriff's deputies are keeping a sharp eye out to stop roadside rubbish dumping, which seems to pick up during spring and summer.

Thus far this year, the violations do not appear quite as frequent as last year, deputies reported. However, one of the largest single cases of rubbish dumping occurred in Forest Knolls last weekend on a fire road between Forest avenue in Forest Knolls and Sylvestris drive in San Geronimo.

Deputy Kenneth Irving said rubbish dumping has occurred in the area in the past, but this is the first time he has seen such a big pile of assorted items—10 mattresses, broken sheet rock, pillows, cans and whiskey bottles. They were dumped along San Geronimo ridge where new homes are being built.

Mrs. Mary M. Furdas of Cadelera road, Forest Knolls, noticed the rubbish and notified the sheriff.

3-District Schools Plan Graduation

Plans are being completed for graduation exercises in the Confederated School Districts of San Anselmo, Fairfax and Kentfield, announced Supt. Harold R. DePue.

San Anselmo will have two graduation ceremonies at separate locations on June 18. 86 eighth grade students will receive their diplomas at Isabel Cook School at 8 p.m. and 115 will take part in 7:30 p.m. outdoor ceremonies at Sleepy Hollow School.

The 75 eighth graders at Fairfax Central School will receive diplomas on June 18 at 8 p.m. in graduation exercises in the Manor School multi-use room.

Kentfield School District's 95 eighth grade students will be graduated June 17 at 7:30 p.m. exercises at A. E. Kent School.

To Plan For Movie

The Tiburon Landmarks Society will meet Saturday at 9 a.m. at the home of Thomas Proctor, 10 Crest road, Belvedere, to complete plans for next Thursday evening's benefit movie at the Tiburon Playhouse, according to Mrs. Robert Bastian, director.

Novato Will Hire Extra 12 Teachers

Trustees of the Novato Unified School District last night have authorized the hiring of 129 teachers for the year 1959-60—an increase of 12 over the current year.

The board concurred with the recommendation of Supt. William J. J. Smith that an anticipated enrollment growth of 400 next year will necessitate the additional teachers.

Smith was also authorized to hire a speech therapist, a district librarian and an instrumental music teacher. But trustees balked at a request to hire an assistant guidance consultant until after they review a recently completed accreditation survey made for Novato High School and meet with the persons who conducted it.

Robert McKeay, high school principal, at the board meeting Tuesday, reported that the survey calls for 14 hours a day of counseling based on an enrollment projection of 700.

Superintendent Smith reported that 13 teachers have indicated they will resign after this year, and that one will retire and another will take a leave of absence.

Trustees Tuesday night also:

1. Heard Dr. Robert Howsom, professor of education at University of California, report that a survey of the school district to establish future enrollment projections could be made at a cost of about $2,500, if conducted by an intern graduate student of school administration from the university. Additional work from specialists would cost $60 extra for each day needed, he said.

2. Called a special meeting for 8 p. m. next Tuesday to discuss budget matters and district policy and hear a report from a salary committee.

3. Approved contracts with the county school department to obtain services of: An assistant district psychologist over a nine-week period; a consultant for adolescent education for the next school year at $2,000, and audio visual materials at $1.40 per student.

Graduation Set For 62 Navigators

Edward V. B. Stearns and Dr. Ronald Newbold Bracewell will be principal speakers at the graduation Saturday of 62 members of the 8500th Reserve Navigation Training Squadron.

The graduates will receive diplomas during observance of Armed Forces Day at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Stearns is an authority on inertial guidance, and will discuss the challenges of space age navigation. Stearns is with Lockheed Aviation Corp. where he established the inertial guidance department and laboratory.

Dr. Bracewell is professor of electrical engineering at Stanford University, and is well-known for his scientific articles and textbooks.

Transit Liaison Group Holds First Meeting

The Marin Rapid Transit Liaison Committee has been organized. More than 30 members, appointed by the county board of supervisors, turned out for the first meeting Tuesday evening in the courthouse.

Joe Lamperti, committee chairman, introduced John C. Beckett, vice president of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District and one of Marin's two members of the district board of directors.

Beckett pointed out that "the early stages of rapid transit planning must reflect the thinking of the local communities." He said this is the main purpose of the liaison committee—to keep informed of the activities of the district, to report to the people of Marin, and to carry back to the district directors the feeling of the people on everything from requirements for service to routes and fares.

Beckett outlined the history of the transit district to date. He and T. J. DeLasaux, Marin's other director, answered questions from the new liaison committee members.

Richard Shepherd, liaison staff member of the district, acted as secretary of the group. He proposed the group form sub-committees to keep close tab on various phases of the transit situation and that a minimum number of general committee meetings be held.

Next meeting was tentatively scheduled June 23, at which time subcommittees will be appointed.

Committees Vote To Junk Law On Bars

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gloomy warnings from the clergy and the WCTU failed to prevent a Senate committee's approval yesterday of a bill to junk the law keeping bars away from campuses.

The Governmental Efficiency Committee voiced unanimous agreement to a measure by Sen. J. Eugene McAteer (D-San Francisco) to lift the 1 to 1½ mile liquor-free area around universities and state colleges.

McAteer said the state still would be empowered to refuse liquor licenses in the immediate vicinity of the schools.

Growth of campuses is threatening investments of many hotels, restaurants and other amusement places, he said.

Mrs. B. W. Parker of Berkeley, spokesman for the Alameda County Women's Christian Temperance Union, said the bill destroys the right "of parents to send their children to schools without cocktails."

Rev. Paul Buchholz of San Francisco, speaking for the Northern California Council of Churches, warned the committee the bill will lead to an increase in drunk driving.

Ralph Baker, an Oakland attorney, predicted college students will spend their leisure in nearby bars.

The committee also approved five other bills sought by other lawmakers lifting liquor restrictions near individual campuses.

What Accreditation Means To You As A Hospital Patient

(This is National Hospitals Week. In connection with the observance, this article is presented on what hospital accreditation means to Marin county residents. All three of Marin's hospitals—Marin General, Ross General and San Rafael General—are accredited hospitals.)

By Marin County Hospital Council
S. Ames Pence, Secretary

As living becomes more and more complex and we become more and more dependent on highly technical products and services, most of us have learned to look for a seal of approval.

If we are buying electrical appliances we look for the "UL" seal. Other identifying seals we have learned to regard favorably are "Good Housekeeping," "Parents Magazine" and American Medical Assn. approval.

Hospitals, too, have a seal of approval even though the seal may not be as widely recognized as it should be. It is hospital accreditation, which is granted by the Joint Commission on Hospital Accreditation. It is a guarantee of a high standard of care.

All of Marin's three general hospitals — Ross General, San Rafael General and Marin General—are fully accredited. Before the present commission was established the American College of Surgeons, a national organization, organized in the year 1918, recognized the need for higher and more uniform standards in hospitals. It began awarding approval to only a few hospitals that measured up to a prescribed set of standards.

Accreditation by this organization became highly sought after because young physicians desiring to be trained more extensively in surgery could only be recognized as bona fide specialists if they trained in an accredited hospital.

Such approval soon became a requirement of many other educational programs in order for the hospital to be an acceptable institution for training. Nurses, dietitians, medical record librarians, hospital administrators, and doctors specializing in accredited hospitals.

Accreditation soon became so broad and important not only to medical education but to the welfare and protection of the patient that a more comprehensive organization was formed in 1952 to investigate and approve accreditation in hospitals.

When the Joint Commission on Hospital Accreditation was established, the College of Surgeons turned its program over to the new group. This new organization, now known as the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals, is made up of representatives from the American Hospital Assn., the American Medical Assn., the American College of Surgeons, the American College of Physicians and the Canadian Medical Assn.

Each group has voting powers in making policies and in awarding accreditation to hospitals. The commission is financially supported by these five groups.

A hospital desiring accreditation is inspected without much advance notice every three years by a physician from the commission. A rigid inspection is made by this physician who meets with the hospital administrator and the chief of the medical staff. He conducts a complete investigation into the hospital's organization, statistical information, qualifications of the medical and technical staffs, as well as the governing board, the administrative and medical policies.

A detailed inspection tour of the hospital is made and direct care of the patient is scrutinized, as are such departments as housekeeping and maintenance. Personnel of the hospital is continually interviewed and questioned, as are patients. The trained eye of the inspector enables him to evaluate correctly the quality of care being given.

The medical record, which is the complete history and accounting of the care and treatment given to the patient while he is hospitalized, portrays an accurate picture of the standard of care extended. The inspecting physician for the Joint Commission on Accreditation carefully reviews a large cross section of charts from the hospital's medical records files.

He rates hospitals highly when all medical records indicate that the patient is given consistent and comprehensive treatment and, when necessary, consultation is held between specialists who effectively study critical and complicated cases.

Accreditation largely depends on the completeness of the medical records department, which shows all of the pertinent facts of the hospitalized patient. It is particularly valuable in the case of recurrence of illness in order that reference can be made to previous care even though a hospital is in an entirely different area.

The chart not only tells of the diagnostic and therapeutic treatment accorded by the doctors, but it records the care given by nurses and other technicians. According to the standards for accreditation, these records must be maintained in an orderly and safe condition for as long as 22 years. An accredited hospital must maintain a special department for medical records and carry out the functions as required by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals in order to qualify for accreditation.

Because most of us know the value of the seal of approval, we should be as careful to insist on this seal when buying hospital care as we would in buying a washing machine or television set or piece of electrical equipment.

Remember when you enter the doors of an accredited hospital you may be confident you will have the advantage of high quality facilities. In addition you will be provided with the highest standard medical care available.

ART SINGER—Sally Davis, Sausalito folk singer, will entertain at the opening of artist Rick Barton's line drawings in the Tides book store, 749 Broadway, Sausalito, at 8 p.m. Wednesday. Barton's art will be on display one month.

Mill Valleyan Gets Post With KPIX

Paul T. Scheiner, 14 Heather way, Mill Valley, is the new account executive of KPIX, succeeding William G. Hunefeld Jr., who has been named to an executive video position in Los Angeles.

Scheiner started his career with radio station KLX in Oakland 14 years ago, and since then has worked for KGO-TV, Ziv Productions and KTVU.

Nicasio Swimming Club Organizing

Pooltime, Inc., a swimming club, is being organized at Rancho Nicasio in Nicasio.

The heated pool will be open to members from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily, with Kitty Schmelzer and Scotty Mallen serving as life guards and swimming instructors.

Wife Says Comedian Winters All Right, Just Needs Rest

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — His wife says there isn't anything wrong with nightclub and TV comedian Jonathan Winters except that he needs a rest.

She had him removed from San Francisco General Hospital last night to a rest home. He was taken to the hospital by harbor police Tuesday after a ticket taker on a museum ship reported his behavior as unusual.

His wife, Eileen, flew out yesterday from Mamaroneck, N.Y. After spending three hours with him in the psychiatric ward, she declared:

"He'll be all right. He's just tired out."

His agent, Martin Goodman, said the ticket taker "didn't understand that the man is a comedian. He's sensitive. He's like a little boy. You have to expect those types to act differently than the ordinary person."

Dr. T. E. Albers, the hospital superintendent, said Winters was "quite disturbed. He is definitely in need of further care."

Hollis To Have Temporary Aide

Raymond J. Simpson, assistant superintendent of San Rafael schools will serve as a consultant to County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis until Hollis can find a replacement for Leland W. Harris, who resigned recently as assistant superintendent.

Hollis said Simpson will serve only on a consultant basis and will be available as needed for such tasks as budget work and handling matters pertaining to state building funds.

Hollis said Simpson will serve until around June 15.

LANDMARK — The Nicasio School, which started classes in the fall of 1871, will be dedicated as a state landmark Wednesday noon by officers of the Native Sons of the Golden West. (Independent-Journal photo)

Old Nicasio School Will Be State Landmark

Today a $3,000 expenditure would not last long. But such an expenditure made in 1871 is going to last more than a century.

That was the total construction cost of the old Nicasio School, which will be dedicated as a state landmark Wednesday noon by the Native Sons of the Golden West.

The dedication by grand officers of the NSGW will be a highlight of the organization's 82nd annual convention, starting Sunday and continuing through Thursday in San Rafael.

Entertainment will turn backward, too, Wednesday noon, as an old-fashioned, deep-pit barbecue at Rancho Nicasio will follow the school dedicatory rites.

The building actually is the second Nicasio School, as the first was established in 1866.

It had been erected as a result of residents petitioning the district in 1862 for a school.

The student population continued growing after 1866 and San Geronimo School started. This school was placed in its own district after the 1871-72 school year.

By 1870, classroom congestion had reached a peak in the old Nicasio School and, says the 1880 edition of J. P. Munro-Fraser's "History of Marin County," a second larger structure (35 by 45 feet) was erected in 1871 at a cost of $3,000.

The history refers to the structure as "the most substantial and handsome school building in Marin County" and indicated the edifice would have loving care and be preserved through future ages.

This was in 1871—19 years before a number of residents met in a hall over the F. E. Rodgers general store in 1890 and organized the Nicasio Parlor, NSGW.

In 1949 the modern Nicasio school arose on a site adjoining the old Nicasio School.

For instance, records show that during the 1868-69 school year 41 of the 81 children in the county were in school. The 81 included 28 under 5 years of age and 41 between 5 and 15 years old. The county school superintendent was A. E. Barney and the clerk, Aaron Schroyer.

Two years later—1870-71, 60 of the 86 children in the county were in school. J. W. Noble was the clerk. And one year, later, there were 118 chlidren in the county and apparently as many or more than the preceding year in school.

If the old 1871 school could talk, probably during Wednesday's dedicatory exercises, it could tell much of the gone but not forgotten past.

It probably would tell of the pupils coming afoot or horseback but certainly not in school buses. It might describe the packed lunches the youths brought, for schools then lacked cafeterias. It might recall the school year was six or seven months and not nine months as today.

But the old Nicasio School would emphasize that its teachers taught the fundamental three R's and graduated classes on whom no favoritism had been showered.

And as it becomes a landmark Wednesday, it might, with a sly smile, point out the wisdom of sound education by saying what it has done was accomplished with an investment of only $3,000.

Small Car Drive

BALTIMORE (AP) — A street in the Roland Park area is theoretically two-way. But one 30-foot section of it is so narrow that two standard American automobiles can't pass, causing considerable backing and bad temper among motorists driving the larger cars. Small foreign cars have no trouble.

Blasts TV

ANNISTON, Ala. (AP)—Police are looking for a house-breaker who appears to have a sharp dislike for television. Joe S. Noland reported that he and his family returned home from an overnight trip and found somebody had broken into their house and blasted their television set apart with a shotgun.

Corte Madera Shopping Center More Than Doubles Town Business

When plans for construction of the multi-million dollar Corte Madera Shopping Center were first disclosed, there were widespread speculation about the impact it would have on the rapidly growing central Marin community.

The evidence started coming in even before all of the 28 stores and services now located at the big shopping center were completed.

The figures were contained in a report by the state Board of Equalization on taxable retail sales for the third quarter of 1958.

Corte Madera's retail sales in that quarter were $960,000 — a whopping increase of 124 per cent over the $429,000 done by the community's retail merchants in the third quarter of 1957.

Retail sales figures for the last quarter of 1958 and first quarter of 1959 are not yet available from the state agency, but there is little doubt they will show a continuation of the dramatic business upswing in Corte Madera.

In the first place, the Corte Madera Center, not yet one year old, has added more stores and services. And secondly, the merchants have formed a council responsible for promoting the advantages of doing business the "shopping center way."

The council's efforts are bearing fruit, as a steady increase in customers from all over Marin County has indicated.

Full potential of the Corte Madera Center will not be realized until Montgomery Ward & Co. has completed a new four-million-dollar store adjacent to the west parking lot. The modern, two-story building is scheduled to open next spring.

Hatteras Sentinel

CAPE HATTERAS, N.C. (UPI) — The famed Hatteras lighthouse, standing sentinel at the "graveyard of the Atlantic," was first built in 1794 but was damaged by shells of the Federal fleet in 1861. Its ruins still stand but a 208-foot lighthouse at the site is regarded as the most famous of America's lighthouses.

Values Galore Offered At 'Dollar Days'

Bargain seekers from all sections of Marin County will find values galore at the Corte Madera Shopping Center during a big Dollar Days celebration tomorrow and Saturday.

One of the many outstanding sales events to be offered by the Center this year, Dollar Days will give customers an unusual opportunity to get quality merchandise at prices designed to accommodate even the tightest family budget.

ONE-STOP SHOPPING

Ray Zierolf, president of the Corte Madera Merchants Council, said the bargain event is a "must" for the growing number of shoppers who prefer the convenience of a "one-stop shopping community."

Council Secretary Louis Malvino said the merchants promise "the biggest Dollar Day in Marin County, with all of the center's stores participating and purposely reducing prices on a lot of the merchandise they regularly have in stock."

For convenience of late shoppers, all stores will be open until 9 o'clock tomorrow night.

28 MERCHANTS

Littleman Market, Louis George's Men's Apparel, W. T. Grant Co., Thrifty Drug Store, F. W. Woolworth Co., J. C. Penney Co. Kramar's Shoes Anita Shop, Jay Vee Store, Kirby Shoe Store, Martin and Harris Appliances, Lady Baltimore Bakery, KallenKamp's Shoes and Toy World.

Harhmony Music Center, Luana's, the Swiss Watchmaker (Eric Mathias), Kerns and Walker Cleaners, Peerless Laundry, Household Finance Corp., First National Bank, Zim's Restaurant and Junior Junction Infants and Children's Wear.

Marina Barbership, Jerry's Chevron Service Station, Friend's Union Service Station, Edgewater Inn and Dr. Shuso Kumata, optometrist.

Changing Weather

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—A University of Wisconsin meteorologist says Grandpa is right about those winters when he was young. They were colder, especially in the eastern part of the country. Reid Bryson, head of the meteorology department, said winter temperatures in the North Atlantic states are up an average of 10 degrees since 1885. On the other hand, the Pacific Coast area is getting cooler. He added that meteorologists don't know why.

The Mail Bag

NOGALES, Ariz. (AP) — Mail service to Nogales has attorney James V. Robins puzzled.

He received two letters the same day. One was from Copenhagen, Denmark, mailed just three days before. The other was from Tucson—some 60 miles away—mailed a week before.

ALBERTO GETS IN FREE—Alberto the Ape takes free ticket to Corte Madera Circus from 4-year-old Jeb Harrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Stewart Harrison of Kent Woodlands. At left is Lisa Glaser, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Glaser of Mill Valley. Ringmaster holding Alberto is Fabian Bocklich. The circus, combined with special bargain offerings, is drawing throngs this week to the Corte Madera Center. (Independent-Journal photo)

Circus Adds To Center's Sale Event

Dollar Days Sales will be conducted literally in a circus and carnival atmosphere tomorrow and Saturday at the Corte Madera Shopping Center, just west of Highway 101.

Ensconced on the center's large east parking lot is a blue and white "big top" housing Fabian's Circus. And surrounding the one-ring tent is a carnival featuring 10 thrilling rides and a variety of games of skill.

Free passes to the circus may be obtained from any of the 28 stores and services at the mammoth shopping center.

Ringmaster Fabian Bocklich will present circus performances tonight at 7 and 9 o'clock; tomorrow and Saturday at 11 a.m. and 2, 4, 7 and 9 o'clock; tomorrow and Saturday at 11 a.m. and 2, 4, 7 and 9 p.m., and Sunday at 1, 4, 7 and 9 p.m.

The array of circus acts includes trained ponies and dogs, a comical stubborn mule and a talented sea lion, plus the antics of Sammy Whammy the clown.

Of all the thrill-producing rides offered at the carnival, none can top the "Mad Mouse" roller coaster for sensational effects. Its two-passenger cars race at breakneck speed around 90-degree turns and zoom up and down steep dips like a dive bomber with a bad case of jitters.

Other carnival attractions include live pony rides, a merry-go-round, ferris wheel, kiddie auto ride, "Tilt-A-Whirl," and "Rock-O-Plane."

For children under 12, all rides except the "Mad Mouse" and pony rides are offered at reduced prices every afternoon until 5:30 o'clock.

NEW YORK (UPI)—The University of California's Institute of Personality Assessment has found that the creative person is both crazier and saner than the average person. He also is both more destructive and constructive, more primitive and more cultured.

New Ward Store To Go Up Soon

Frank Rusalem, president of Madera Gardens Corp., developer of Corte Madera Shopping Center, announced today that construction of a multi-million-dollar Montgomery Ward and Co. store will start at the Center early next month.

Plans call for letting a contract in the near future, with construction to start as soon as soon as conditions permit.

The new 75,000-square-foot addition to the shopping Center is slated for opening next February.

Shop Center Council Plans More Events

At a meeting of the Corte Madera Shopping Center Merchants Council Tuesday night, the members accepted a proposed outline of promotional events for the balance of 1959 and heard the first reading of a suggested budget for the remainder of the year

With Ray Zierolf presiding, the member stores made plans for the forthcoming station wagon and convertible auto show to be held at the "one-stop shopping center" June 3, 4, 5 and 6. San Rafael auto dealers will participate.

There will be no admission charge for the show, which will feature a display of more than 50 American and foreign cars on the shopping center parking lot, Larry Gaisford, chairman of the council's promotion committee, announced.

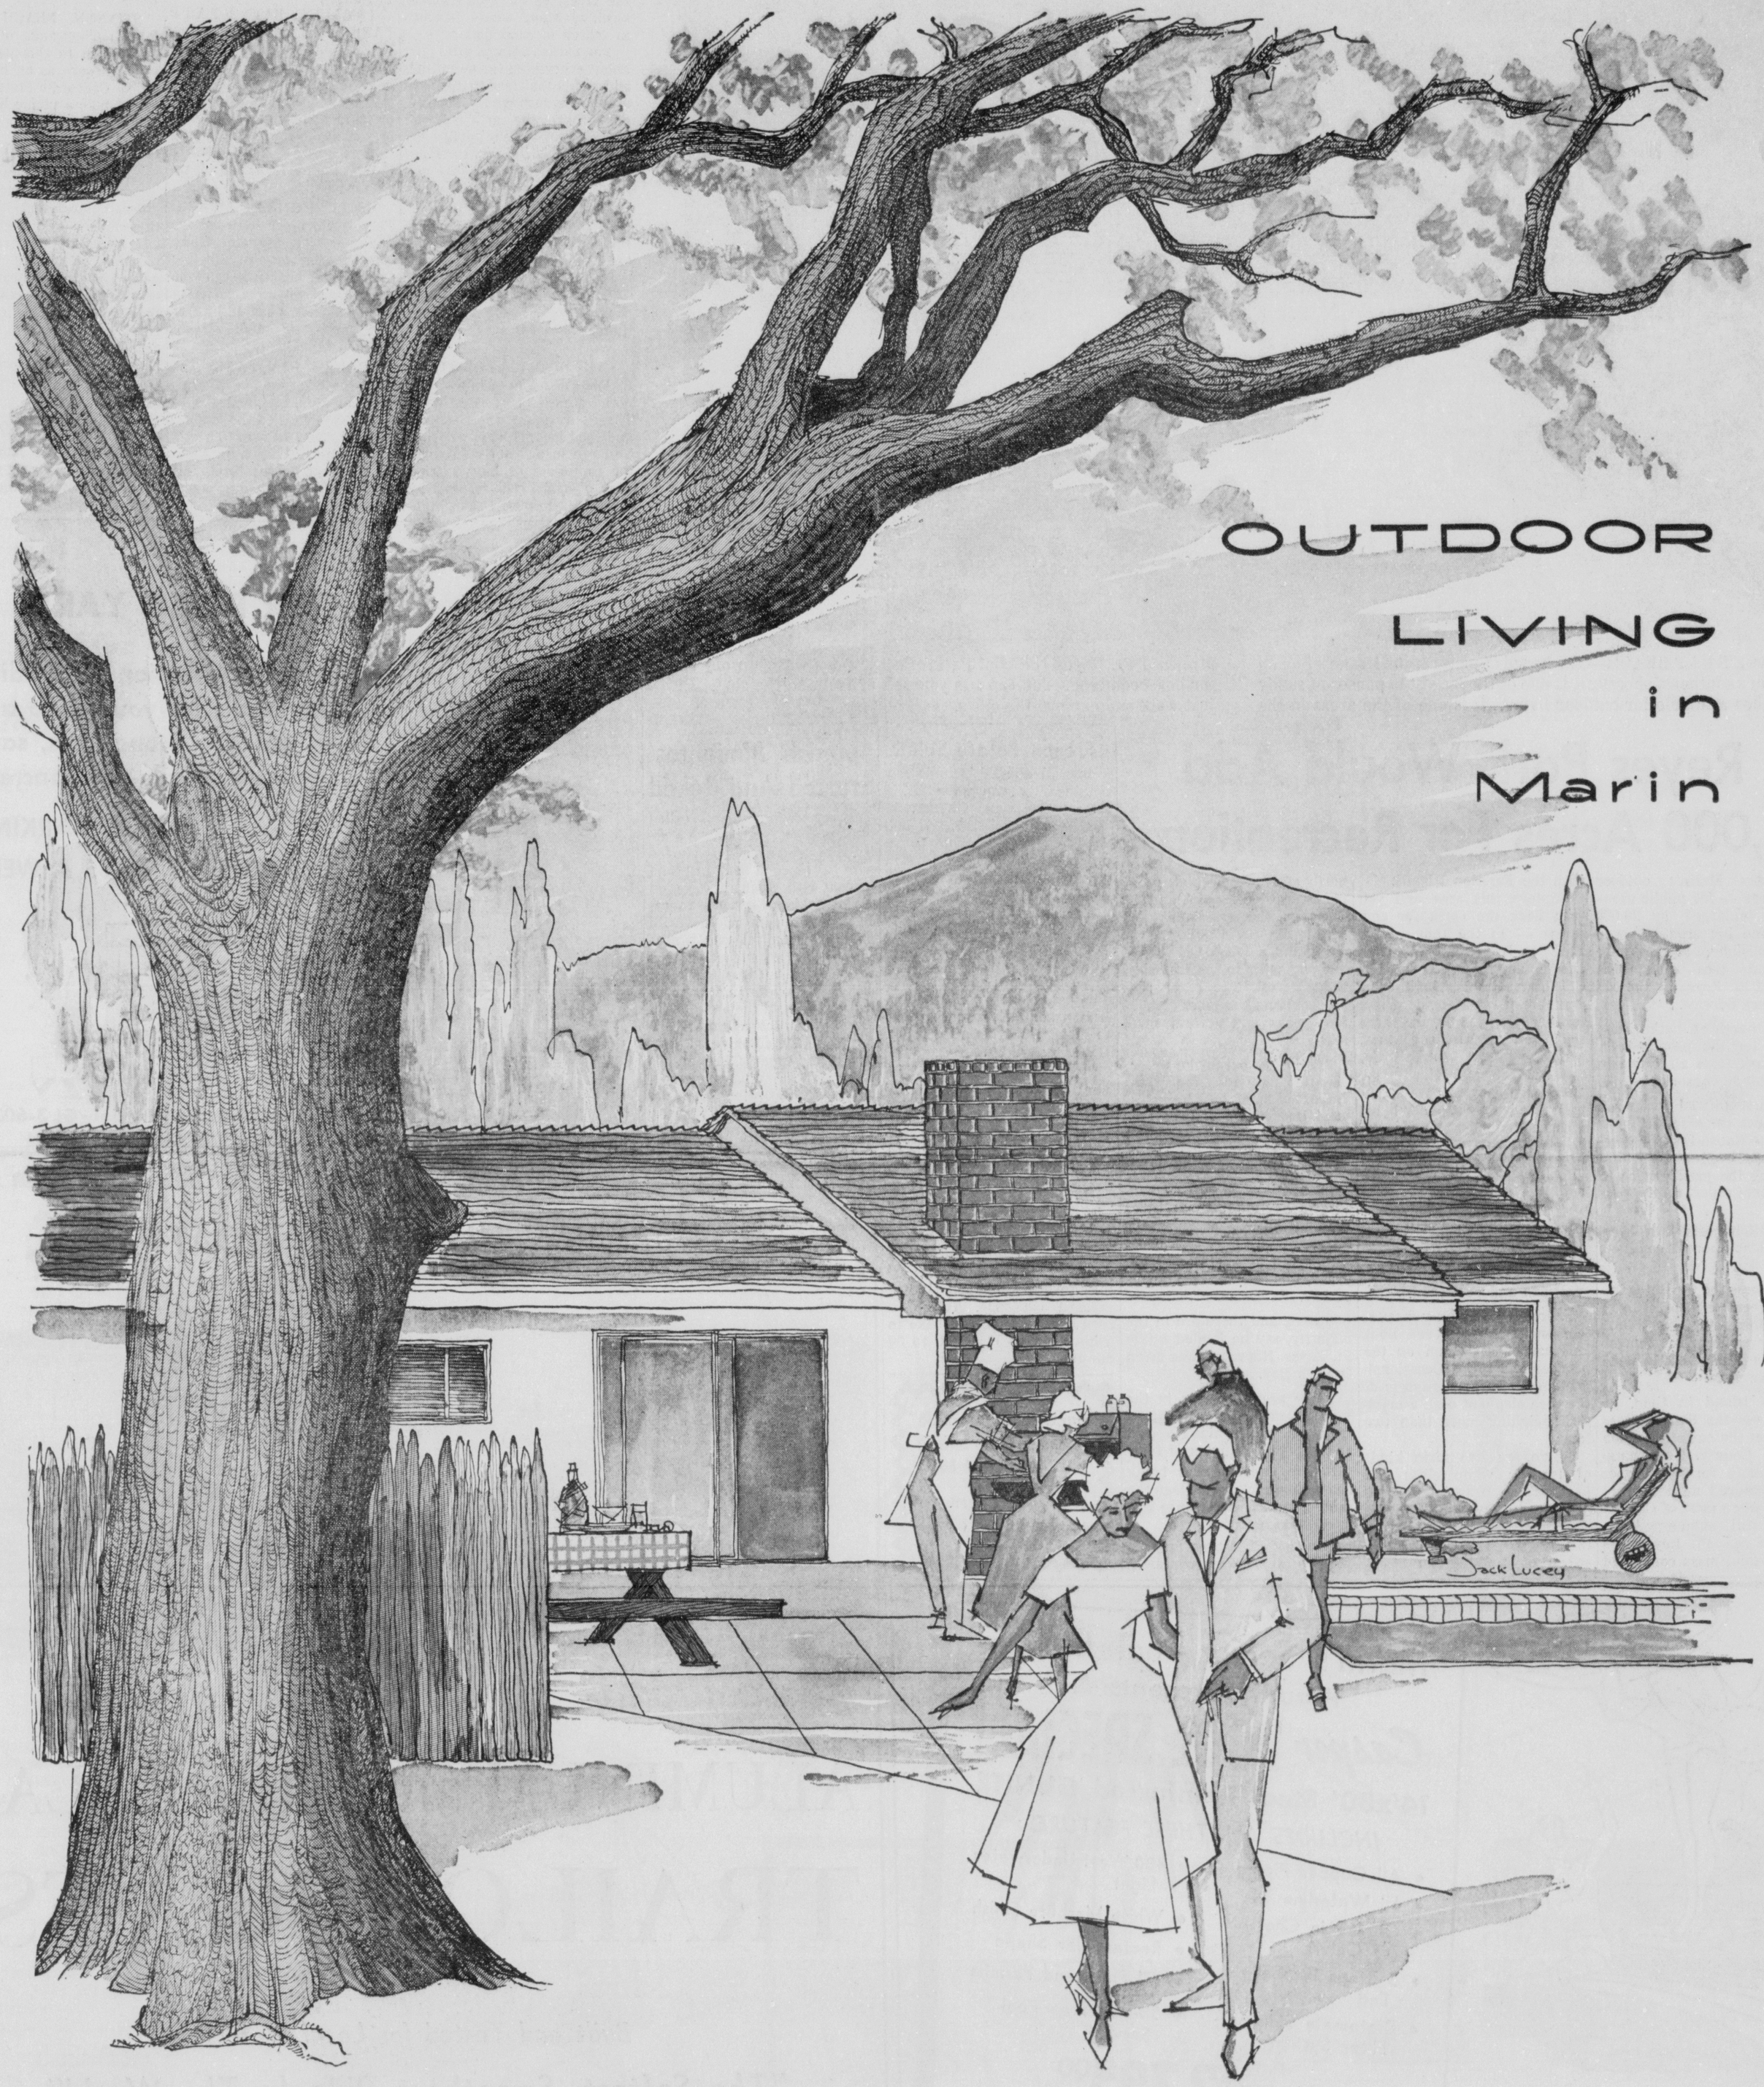
OUTDOOR LIVING in Marin



Independent Journal
SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY
THURSDAY, MARCH 14, 1959, SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA

DRAKE'S BAY BEACH—The beach at picturesque Drake's Bay on Marin's southeast shoreline, is one of the largest expanses of sandy beaches available for outdoor living. It is one of the areas in the proposed Pt. Reyes National Park. Pacific tides wash up objects for beachcombing. You can sun yourself or frolic in the surf. Or just walk and explore the cliffs.

Here's Guide To Pleasant Parks That Abound In Marin County

Do you like camping under the trees, or do you prefer strolling along sandy beaches in search of sand dollars?

The parks in Marin offer just about everything for an outing, and roads that lead to them are scenic. Persons who have traveled all over the earth and who know Marin, say the county has the feeling of the best in views, drives and recreation that can be found in the world.

Here are some examples:

MT. TAMALPAIS STATE PARK: An all-weather highway leads to one of California's most exciting view sites.

There are several picnic and camp places. There are more than 980 acres on which to roam.

SAMUEL P. TAYLOR STATE PARK: You can camp overnight at scores of sites here. There's running water, stoves and food lockers. Fees are low. You can bring your own wood for campfires or buy it from park officials. It is reached by taking Sir Francis Drake highway out of Fairfax to west of Lagunitas.

TOMALES BAY STATE PARK: Here's beauty unsurpassed with a rare stand of Bishop pines. There are numbers of small sandy beaches suitable for sunning or bathing or tieup points for small boating, or any combination of the three. There are Heart's Desire beach, Pebble Beach and Indian Beach.

McCLURE'S BEACH PARK: There's not much here for the swimmer—it's too dangerous. But for that far-away feeling and natural beauty it can't be beat. It's down the road from Tomales Park near Pt. Reyes Lighthouse. A small stream leads to it.

DRAKE'S BAY PARK: The cliffs here reminded English explorer Sir Francis Drake of Albion, so he called the land he touched "New Albion." There's a long beautiful beach for walking barefoot on the sand, and driftwood and washed up items to pick over. The route is beyond the entrance to Tomales park.

STINSON BEACH STATE PARK: Thousands of persons are drawn to this park in as short a space as an hour. Just follow California State Route 1—and take a picnic basket.

Mock Chicken Legs

Many times homemakers are unfamiliar with the term "mock chicken legs." What are they and how are they prepared? Actually they are a combination of ground veal and pork. The ground meat is molded around wooden skewers and then rolled in either cornmeal, crushed corn flakes, or bread crumbs. Usually they are prepared by either braising or pan-frying.

The New Look

Serve leftover lamb slices topped with a tangy tomato sauce for new and unusual appetite appeal.

Pt. Reyes Park Would Add 28,000 Acres For Recreation

Someday Marin's outdoor living area — for public use— may be enlarged by 28,000 acres. The big area is urged for establishment as a seashore recreation area along the shores of Pt. Reyes by the National Park Service.

There has been enthusiastic support for the proposed Pt. Reyes park from all fronts in the world of conservation.

The first official action on the project came in Congress where the House Interior Committee approved a resolution requesting the park service to draft a final report on the project.

Acquisition costs have been estimated at about 12 million dollars.

Right now the project is in outline form only, according to the Sierra Club Bulletin. Here are some of the things an article in the bulletin says about the area:

It's an island in time, located across the San Andreas Fault from the eastern portion of Marin County. The peninsula's granite formation goes back a hundred million years to a time when most of California was still submerged beneath the sea. Pt. Reyes was part of a land mass connected with the Farallon Islands.

Explore this area and you turn back the clock for centuries — to the time of Sir Francis Drake's exploration and landing.

There are ancient land forms and rare plant life. There is a forest of Douglas fir, and there are toyon, wild rose, ceanothus, willow, purple nightshade, sage, laurel and blackberry. There are grasslands that in spring and early summer burst with brilliant displays of wildflowers. People make pilgrimages to the area just to see the yellow lupine.

Add to all this the animals and birds. There are raccoons, deer, coyotes, foxes, bobcats, quail, hawks, egrets, herons, sandpipers, pelicans and cormorants.

There are the busy beaver too, and sometimes sea lions and harbor seals sun on the beaches and rocks. Occasionally, there have been reports of the rare elephant seal, a mammal weighing more than two tons.

There are five main kinds of terrain: white cliffs and beaches of Drake's Bay including a three-mile sandspit enclosing Drake's Estero and the estero itself; a 12-mile sweep of sandy ocean beach north of Pt. Reyes;high rocky headland of the point and Pt. Tomales; the grasslands and wildflower field above the cliffs, and a 12,500 acre stand of Douglas fir in the Inverness Ridge forest. The latter area also contains a number of 1,000 foot peaks and several small lakes.

Along the ocean the water is often too strong for swimming but along both Tomales and Drake's Bays there are good opportunities for swimmers. A more protected area might be along the sandspit.

Drake is known to have landed at a bay along this part of the California Coast. Some historians assert the Golden Hind, on Drake's voyage around the world, touched at San Francisco Bay.

Others, and these are in the majority, say he landed inside Pt. Reyes. His name was given Drake's Bay.

There are variations in the weather in the area, ranging from warm sunshine to cool and intriguing fingers of fog.

Pacific Ocean waves break against the rocks, and clean the sand, and wash up strange and interesting objects.

French Potato Salad

Ingredients: 1½ pounds new potatoes, ¼ cup olive oil, 2 tablespoons wine vinegar, ¼ cup minced parsley, ¼ cup finely chopped scallions (some green tops included), salt, freshly-grated or coarse black pepper.

Method: Cook potatoes in their skins in salted boiling water; peel and slice into thin rounds. Beat olive oil and vinegar with a fork; add hot sliced potatoes, parsely and scallion. Mix in gently salt and pepper to taste. Chill before serving. Makes 6 servings.

Leftover Lament?

If leftover ham is taxing your creative culinary abilities, simply turn to this recipe . . . Ham and Corn — Southern style. Combine 3 cups of diced cooked ham with a 10-ounce package of frozen lima beans, cooked, a 16-ounce can of cream-style corn, grated onion and prepared mustard. Heat mixture through and pour into a greased casserole. Top with corn bread batter and bake in a hot oven (400° F.) 20 to 30 minutes.

Spanish 'Pimientos' Stuffed And Baked

Sweet red peppers, called pimientos in Spain, make a delectable entre when stuffed with a chicken mixture and basted with Spanish olive oil during baking. First brush seeded peppers inside and out with olive oil, then fill with a mixture of chopped cooked chicken and bread crumbs in equal parts plus a teaspoon or so of instant minced onion. Season to taste with salt and dried tarragon, or use commercial seasoned bread crumbs. Bake in hot oven (375 F.) until pimientos are nicely browned about 30 minutes, basting with Spanish olive oil once or twice.

HOW TO SOLVE A POOL PROBLEM

A low-lying yard at the Alf Svendsen residence at 7 Kinross drive, Loch Lomond, presented a bit of a problem for a pool. Landscape architects Paul and Katy Steinmetz solved it by raising the pool area, and in order that it just wouldn't "stick-up" in the yard, planned a curved concrete plateau around it. Sandy MacDonell and Christine Svendsen chat on the broad spacious steps. (Independent-Journal photo)

No Need For Monotony By Outdoor Cook

The backyard barbecue grill has become such a necessary part of warm weather cookery that few outdoor chefs ever seem to have enough suitable recipes. In fact, before the season begins in earnest, many fans begin assembling "foods to try" on the grill.

Luckily, the "grill" cook nowadays can provide virtually as much menu variety out of doors as he can on the kitchen range. In an effort to avoid menu monotony in recent years, many are experimenting with a wide variety of foreign dishes.

Some of the most ingenious are those prepared with an Oriental flair. Many dishes based upon the now-popular Chinese theme, have been adapted to the barbecue grill with taste-tempting results.

SOY BARBECUED CHICKEN BREASTS

Mix ¼ cup light vinegar, ¼ cup lemon juice, and ¼ cup salad oil. Add 1 teaspoon soy sauce, ⅛ teaspoon brown gravy sauce, and a sprinkling of ground black pepper. Blend mixture well. Lay chicken breasts on hot grill. Brush pieces with oil and sear about 3 minutes.

Turn chicken over and brush on sauce. Cook 3 to 4 minutes. Turn and baste again with sauce. Continue to turn and baste chicken with soy sauce mixture until chicken is tender, approximately 25 minutes.

(Six servings)

TANGY DRESSING

Combine 2 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, ⅛ teaspoon paprika, ½ teaspoon celery seed and 2 tablespoons sugar.

Add ⅔ cup vinegar, 1 teaspoon soy sauce and 1 cup buttermilk. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly until thickened. Cover and cook 10 minutes longer. Chill.

Putting Pool On Hillside Solves Sun Problem At Ross Residence

There was fine backyard and a nice level spot at the Woodhaven road residence of John Paul Jones in Ross. But just one thing was wrong. When it comes time to put in the pool the level portion was discarded as pool-idea area.

So landscape architects Paul and Katy Steinmetz of San Rafael put their heads together over the problem and came up with an answer. They decided to place the pool in the sun, even if it had to be put on a hillside.

One of the things they wanted to do was place the pool near the house, and at the same time provide for privacy from traffic on a road that runs below the back of the house.

So a cut was made in the relatively steep slope behind the house. This raised the pool to a level near the house, and put it up high enough so there would be no interference from the road.

To make the area even more intimate a tall fence was constructed of 1 x 2 inch rough redwood. This was placed along the outer rim of a wooden deck. It also serves as an outer boundary of the pool area, and a backstop to an area that falls away rapidly below.

With simple design the landscape architects believe they have achieved a sense of conformity with the design of the house.

There's an unusual treatment in the deck area. More than half of the pool rim, along the solid earth portion, has a deck area of concrete. Around the remainder of the pool is an open work platform of 2x3 inch redwood boards set on edge. The boards are separated at intervals with pieces of quarter-inch waterproof plywood.

A Shrimp Curry From Caribbean

In the West Indies, the influence of many cultures are apparent. Indians brought their curries with them from the other side of the world, the Spanish introduced olive oil, the natives use lime juice in many surprising ways.

Here is a West Indian recipe for shrimp curry: shell a pound of shrimp, rinse well with about ¼ cup lime juice. In a heavy pan, heat 2 tablespoons of Spanish olive oil, add 1 medium sliced onion and brown slightly. Add the drained shrimp, a teaspoon of salt and a tablespoon of curry powder. Saute until shrimp turn bright orange-pink. Add a cup of water; simmer an additional 5 minutes. Serve with rice and garnish with strips of sweet red pepper.

Meat Index

With the approaching summer months, use those meat leftovers in combination with fruits or vegetables in a cold meat salad. Meat salads can afford the homemaker with many avenues of unusual combinations.

Pot-Roast Is Good Even In June, July

Undoubtedly, there would be very few men that would decline an invitation to sit down to a juicy, tender beef blade pot-roast . . . no matter what time of the year.

Meat expert Reba Staggs comments that this particular pot-roast recipe, called Sportsmen's Pot-Roast, was designed with the out-of-doors man in mind. In fact, this recipe could easily fit into a Father's Day celebration. Tomato sauce, oregano, stuffed olives and a garlice clove add the necessary flavor complements to make this pot-roast a definite winner.

Sportsmen's Pot-Roast

- 3 to 4-pound beef blade pot-roast, cut 2 inches thick
- 2 tablespoons lard
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 1 teaspoon pepper
- 1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
- ½ cup water
- 1 teaspoon oregano
- 8 stuffed olives, sliced
- 1 clove garlic, minced

Brown pot-roast in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Season with salt and pepper. Combine tomato sauce, water, oregano, olives and garlic. Pour over pot-roast. Cover tightly and simmer 3 to 3½ hours, or until meat is tender. Thicken cooking liquid for gravy if desired. Yield: 8 to 10 servings.

WATER BRINGS OUT COLOR—Water splashing on the stone mosaic pool in the adult patio of the Felix M. Warburg home at 61 Peninsula road, Belvedere. Warburg is an architect, and designed the home, one wing of which is in the background. He chose landscape architect Lawrence Halprin to design the garden. There is generous use of moss covered stone in the retaining wall. Mrs. Warburg plants near the pool which has a pump-operated fountain. The water brings out the different colors of the stones. Liver-Bacon Twosome Is Last Word In Kabob Cooking; Vitamins, Too

Often served together but not in kabob fashion, this recipe, Liver and Bacon Kabobs, presents just another idea to spark your family's interest in variety meat menus.

An expert in the knowledge of meat and meat cookery, Reba Staggs, emphasizes the importance of including variety meats in the weekly menu. Research has indicated that a four-ounce serving of liver will supply the individual with over 100 per cent of his daily riboflavin, niacin and iron requirement.

In preparing this entree, the list of ingredients is short . . . beef liver, cooked onions, bacon and French dressing. The kabobs require only 8 to 10 minutes broiling time.

Liver and Bacon Kabobs

1 pound beef liver, sliced ½ inch thick
8 slices bacon
16 small cooked onions
½ cup French dressing
8 6-inch metal skewers

Cut liver into 1½-inch pieces. On each of the eight 6-inch skewers, thread 3 or 4 pieces of liver, 2 onions and 1 slice of bacon, weaving bacon between. Set regulator for broiling. Place kabobs on broiler rack. Insert broiler pan so the top surface of the kabobs is 3 to 4 inches from the heat. Brush kabobs with French dressing, using about half the dressing. Broil for 5 minutes or until browned. Turn and brush kabobs with remaining dressing. Continue broiling for 3 to 4 minutes, or until brown. Yield: 4 servings.

Spanish Clam Soup

If you can't decide between Manhattan and Boston Clam Chowder, serve up the clams in a Spanish style soup instead. Peel and mince 1 large onion, cook until tender in 4 tablespoons Spanish olive oil, along with 2 crushed cloves of garlic. Add ¼ cup minced parsley, 1 cup (an 8-oz. can) tomato sauce and 1 can minced clams. Heat thoroughly, serve piping hot to 4.

Unsolicited Thanks

DENVER (AP) — Edward Hirschfeld, a director of the Jewish National Home for Asthmatic Children here, caught a taxi during a New York trip. When the cab driver learned he was from Denver, he said "my kid raves about it. They practically saved his life in Denver." Then he handed a folder of matches to Hirschfeld. It bore the name of the Jewish National Home.

Mosaic Pool Proves Delight In Backyard

Anyone who is clever enough to make a do-it-yourself mosaic coffee table (kits seem to be available at a variety of stores) might be able to build a water-splashed mosaic pool for cool, contemplative reflections in the backyard.

Landscape architects and artists are the experts in this field, but with a little study, anyone might become efficient. Essentially, such a pool is concrete with stones, preferably of different hues and colors, set into the concrete in an artistic and pleasing pattern.

There's a variety of stones to choose from. Big ones, little ones, smooth ones, ragged ones. It all depends on the texture and design that is being sought.

The idea is to design something that will be a pleasant lasting addition to a garden—and at all times covered with water so that the color of the stone can be brought out more vividly. If you've ever fished in a rocky stream, you've probably noticed how the rippling water brings out the color.

Stones need not be used. Pieces of wood, porcelain, glass or metal — anything with a pleasing design—can be used. Perhaps, through the years there is a great collection of family keys, no longer usable, but worn to a pleasing texture. They may have sentimental value, and if placed in such a pool they would have lasting significance — a conversation piece when the family gathers outdoors and wants to remember when.

The idea of using rocks in a garden is an old one, and the idea of using them in a pattern, either as a pool or as a courtyard with running water dates back at least to Roman times. The Spanish brought the idea to a high degree of finish — whole courtyards would be set with stones, and water flooded over them for a cool and sightly outdoor area.

While such pools might be constructed on a do-it-yourself basis, there are some important things to remember. Concrete sets fast, and very likely if you try it yours might set while you are making up your mind on design.

It's best to have a design first — it can be planned on paper—to scale or actual size. Too, there are retardants that can be mixed with the concrete, for work at a more moderate speed.

Art-Garden Fair A Eulogy To Outdoor Living In Marin

Marin County's most fabulous exposition of outdoor living will be revealed when the Marin Art and Garden Fair opens a five-day show in Ross the evening of July 1.

The 14th edition of the annual event, called by officials of the state Fairs and Expositions Division the "most charming and unique of all California county fairs" has been designed around a contemporary theme.

William L. Kapranos, San Anselmo landscape architect and designer of the 1959 fair, is transporing and adding to the extensive naturally landscaped acreage of the Marin Art and Garden Center, turning it into a background for "Patterns for Paradise."

Plans, already being executed, call for an entire redesign of the main entrance to the temporary county fairgrounds. The new concept will include spectacular, large professional garden exhibits well toward Sir Francis Drake boulevard and some distance in front of the actual gates to the grounds. The center's permanent fencing has been removed to give an open and different effect to the frontage.

The center plaza, the wide open space just beyond the magnolia tree, will be changed to feature the fair's own exhibit. For this Kapranos has designed a new walled bank with integrated redwood seating; a centerpiece arrangement to include boulders, trees, water effects, shrubs and flowers; and free-form redwood pergola to accent the entire exhibit. This architectural and landscaped exhibit will set the tone of the fair theme.

Placed under the oaks in the shady area to the right of the entrance with some throughout the grounds, will be model gardens and floral art entries from leading nurserymen and florists in the Bay Area.

Categories of design include "contemporary outdoor living area featuring container plantings and background structures"; "a garden featuring vertical treatment of moving water and appropriate plantings"; "a garden in full sun"; "a garden effect in filtered sunlight with water effect illustrating a foreign influence"; "a garden featuring tropical plants as a lush spot for relaxation and informal dining"; "a garden sitting area featuring color in shade-loving plants with ferns as important background greenery"; "garden borrowing from the traditions of the past"; "a fern garden," and artistic arrangements of floral art.

Marcelle B. McCoy, fair manager said today a record number of professional nurserymen, landscape contractors and florists who have signed up for the show include Birchlane Gardens, East Bay Nursery, Frank B. James, The Garden Spot, Sunnyside Nursery, Rod McLellan Co., William Muller, Cagwin and Dorward, El Marin Florists, Katherine Eubanks Floral Decorator, George Murata, Lila Lillie, Nix Nursery, E. L. Egger and Son, Robert W. Graves, Reedstrom's Nursery, Orchard Nursery and West End Nursery.

Massive collections of flowers, including begonias, fuchsias, roses, pelargoniums, geraniums, hydrangeas, and orchids, as well as succulents and ferns will also add to the beauty of the show. These collections, grown and entered by professional growers, will also be in competition for prize money.

Because the Marin fair is noted for its community participation and for its lack of outright commercialism, amateur gardens are important in the show. The Mariners' Group of the First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo will compete with Pixie Parents and the Church of the Nativity of San Rafael in "a commuter's garden"; St. Raphael's Mothers' Guild and Pixie Parents will vie for prize money offered for "a playground garden"; the Sculptors' Group and the Potters' Group of Marin Society of Artists will each enter an "artist's nook"; Junior Social Service, San Francisco City College Horticultural Center and the Catholic Youth Organization will compete in the "roof garden" category; Redwood Fuchsia Society and the American Fuchsia Society will enter a "fuchsia garden illustrating the proper use of various fuchsia types in a small suburban garden"; Redwoods Presbyterian Church and the Inverness Garden Club will compete in "a garden area making use of cast-off articles as decor"; the Weaver's Group of Marin Society of Artists will be the sole entry in the category calling for a "Workshop garden adaptable for use as an outdoor hobby center."

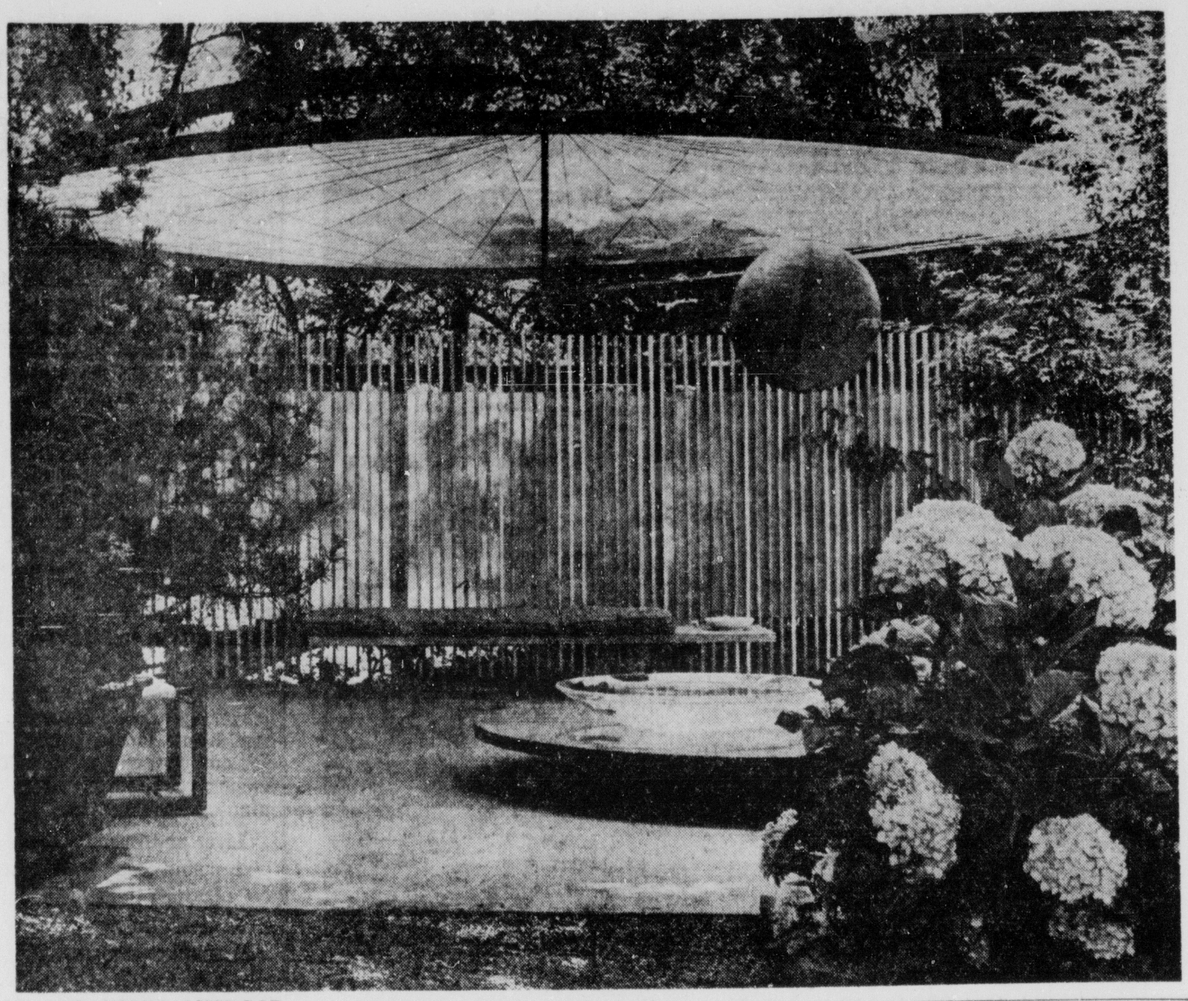
Flower growers will delight in a new cool outdoor bower created over the creek across from the wishing well on the grounds. Here, in literally a "Green Mansions," flower arrangements, cut flowers, vegetables, fruits and berries will be placed to their best advantage for the pleasure of visitors.

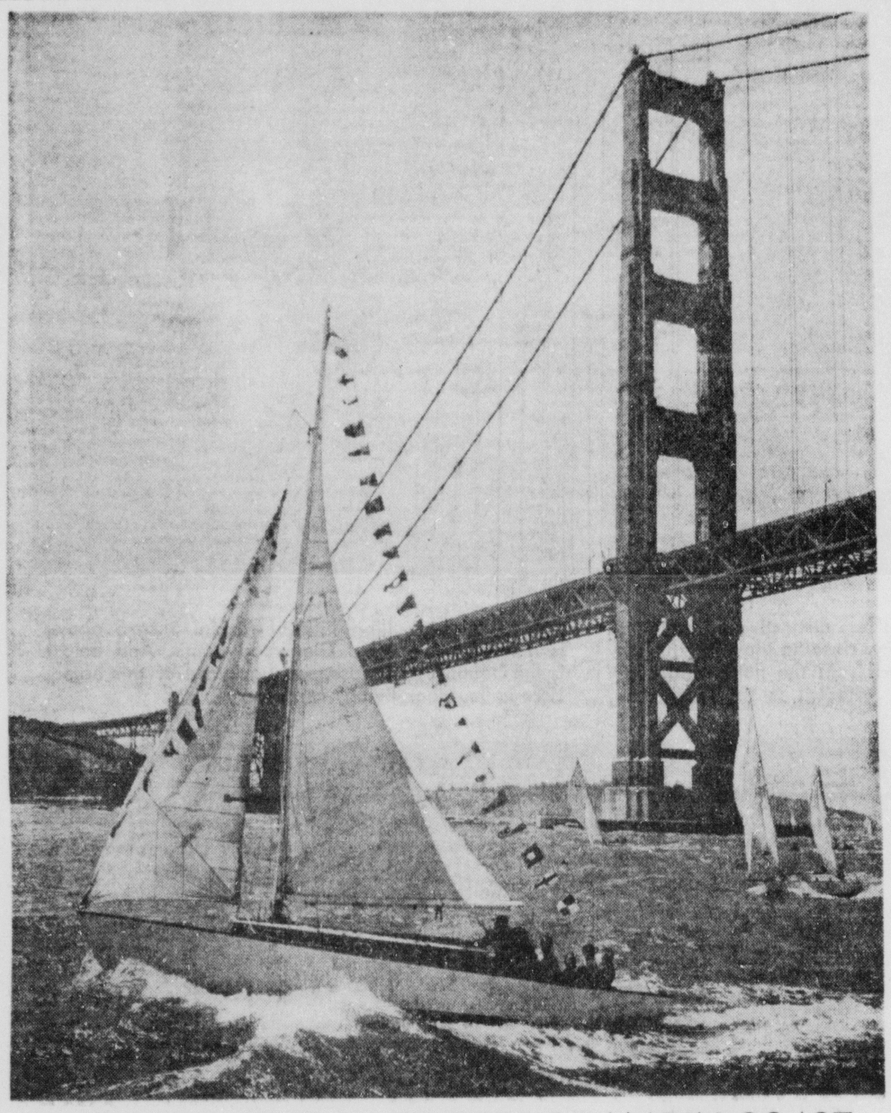
Specimen plants such as ivy geraniums, dwarf conifers, ruffled petunios, African violets, hydrangeas and fuchsias grown by amateur gardeners will be placed here and there and every-on the grounds to fill out the general fair pattern. Premiuims are offered for these exhibits which will be judged with all other entries the afternoon of July 1.

Other features of the show will be a garden-like commercial area, a photo exhibit, an open art show in an outdoor gallery on the barn terrace; an art-in-action and art show in the Marin Society of Artists' gallery and art area; an expanded Pixie Place with baby sitting and new playground facilities for tiny tots; the Ross Valley Players Outdoor Restaurant; concessions run as usual by Marin service, youth, church and other community groups, and entertainment daily for all age, at all hours.

The fair opens 6 p.m. July 1. Hours on July 2, 3, 4 and 5 will be from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Admission will be 75 cents for adults. Children under 12 will be admitted free when accompanied by adults.



DAY AND NIGHT OUTDOOR LIVING — Garden of advanced design created for the 1958 Marin Art and Garden Fair is typical of professional exhibits under way for this summer's show to be held in Ross July 1-5. The above design was designed by Cagwin and Dorward, San Anselmo landscape contractors, and won first prize.



BOATS FROLIC IN WATERS OF MARIN COAST

There's hardly an outdoor sport that can't find its proper setting in the Marin countryside. And one of the sports for which Marin is most famous is sailing. Here boats wheel through the waters near the Golden Gate, heading out to sea.

Hamilton Field Folk Recall Outdoor Living In Varied Parts Of World

Outdoor living of the sliding-glass-door, fenced patio with grill, and bright specialized clothing is most particularly Californian. This is as it should be, what with the climate and all. Say the words "outdoor living" to a random selection of Hamilton Air Force Base folk, however, and they immediately speak of the whats and hows of eating in the open wherever they have lived.

M/Sgt. Robert Jacobson says that back "home" in Connecticut fences have not caught on as a means to privacy, but are rather apt to mean poor relations between neighbors. Backyard picnics are common pleasures. The West coast practice of BYO-whatever (bring your own) is not observed, either. Hosts in the Nutmeg State furnish all the refreshments.

Mrs. Alexander Kiertanis observes that outdoor eating is popular in Pennsylvania, but the affairs are usually known as "cookouts." Maj. Wallace Forsythe has an enthusiastic nostalgia for a dish they serve in his native North Carolina. When some 20-30 relatives gather, Brunswick stew is prepared in a huge iron pot over an open fire. This is a savory concoction of chicken, lima beans, corn, salt pork, potatoes, with proper proportions and seasonings.

While T/Sgt. James B. Tavender was stationed in England, he says the elements of his organization which made for good community relations were the rescue squadron operations, the USAF band, and the outfit's cooks who could, and did, barbecue. Frequently food for the soul and for the body were combined in one activity—a concert and barbecue.

Mrs. Orville L. Burwell hasn't lived in her native England for some time, but she well remembers how precious were the sun's appearances. The minute it came out, so did the people. Eating out around the home was not so much in vogue, but picnics and beach activities were. Food taken on such outings included more pastries than we use, both meat and sweet. Sandwiches all had hot mustard in them, and a sausage called "maids of honor" was a favorite.

Transportation was usually by bicycle. Young people went in for slacks and capris, but the women, and even elderly ones ride, wear skirts and hats. Mrs. Burwell also lived in a small village in Denmark where the populace enjoyed weekend camping in rugged fashion with bedrolls. Weekday eating, however, was an inside job.

Tea in the garden was a delightful diversion for M/Sgt. and Mrs. Jack Kane while they were in England. Mrs. Kane was particularly impressed with the way whole families picnicked together and made use of the rivers. They would frequently take a punt way up river and float down for a vacation.

Connie Talbott, wife of Maj. Philip Talbott, observed that many German people had portable picnic gear which could be brought out for a long or short haul for any meal. They particularly liked to have 7:30 breakfast sitting outside the fence of the Rhein-Mainz Airport (German name, "Flughaven") to watch the planes take off.

While her husband spent all but the short winter months in Saudi Arabia escaping the out-of-doors, Mrs. Robert Margison and children lived in a country chalet in Switzerland. Their dwelling boasted a cabana which overlooked the village and lake and was a most enchanting place to linger over meals.

The villagers spent much time outside, but they had none of the equipment we would use for a picnic. They carried cold foods rather than cook outside and walked to most activities, wearing backpacks. The menu usually consisted of sausages, cheese, hard crusted bread, wine or fruit juice, and desserts. These were individual sweets like French pastry, or rich, heavy cake or tart. Whether they ate inside or out, they never hurried a meal and served each course separately.

The Norwegians whom Col. and Mrs. William Banks got to know loved to get outdoors, winter or summer. City dwellings in Norway are most often apartments or row houses without porches or patios. The natives generally believe regular eating should be inside.

They, too, like the beach and sun and their northern latitudes give them long, long summer days. Norwegian sandwiches have no tops — open faced. Mrs. Banks was impressed with the fine "eye-appeal" of their foods. Everything was beautifully prepared and always in exquisitely clean surroundings. An item with phonetic spelling of "varne polsa" is somewhat equivalent to our hot dog.

Instead of being served in a bun, it is wrapped in a pancake. The Banks introduced friends to turkey for Thanksgiving and the use of a grill for outdoor cooking. The food and outdoor life there must be about perfect because the Norwegians Mrs. Banks saw always had good muscular figures, no fat.

For peoples of poverty ridden areas such as much of Libya in North Africa, living outdoors is necessity, not pleasure. When S/Sgt. Russ Knoebel was in Tripoli he observed that the average people at the oasis lived outside most of the time. Their homes were meager and full of the day's heat. Sleeping out at night was the only way to cool off. Drivers on by-roads had to be careful not to run over the sleepers.

The custom of Arabian women not going out until they are 14, and even then usually veiled, means that social picnics are unknown. Religious differences mean food differences, and only a few young boys dared to come to a mixed gathering. Wealthy persons and the Italian settlers in the city are apt to have a "villa" which is built around a court. High walls keep their outdoor life private.

At Hamilton itself many arrangements are made to encourage the service man and his family to enjoy California's great outdoors. Special Services have for loan every kind of equipment for short or extended periods of living in the open.

Senior M/Sgt. Francis J. Phelan, secretary of the NCO Club, has fixed it so no member family need forego a picnic just because mom is disinclined to "fix all that food" or a single man quails at the thought of preparing it. Box lunches of finger foods (look mom, no dishes) including fried chicken, and fresh vegetables and fruits will be put up on demand seven days a week.

Local barbecue specialists can be found among Hamilton's personnel, too. Capt. John Vesowait, aide to Maj. Gen. Hugh Parker, has a barbecue built into the family room of his Mill Valley home. This means wind and rain are no deterrents to fixing his specialty, half chicken with Texas sauce. It's not just show off because he does it for family, not parties solely. The Texas sauce is used only because it tastes so good, not because Mrs. V. is a Lone Star native. In fact she readily admits, in an admiring tone, "There's no place like California."

Barbecue? Here's A Good Side Dish

WALNUT PAN BREAD

Ingredients: 1 cup sifted flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup enriched yellow cornmeal, 1½ cups ready to eat bran, 1 cup milk, ½ cup golden shortening, ½ cup dark brown sugar (firmly packed), 2 large eggs, 1 bag (3 ounces or ¾ cup) walnut pieces.

Method: Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and cornmeal. Add bran to milk and soak until milk is absorbed. Cream shortening and sugar; beat in eggs thoroughly, one at a time. Stir in soaked bran, then flour mixture stirring just until dry ingredients are moistened. Break walnuts into uniform pieces (about the size of green peas) and fold in. Turn into buttered baking pan (9 by 9 by 1¾ inches). Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven 25 to 30 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Cut into squares in pan and serve very hot. Any leftover may be reheated.

Put This Dish On Picnic Table

Friendly flavors put together with a new twist are bound to tempt anyone's appetite. Disciples of fine food, epicureans and connoisseurs place Bologna-Sauekraut Mounds on the list of recipes titled, "Plain Good Eating with an Unusual Angle."

There are simply three ingredients . . . bologna, sauerkraut and cooked mashed potatoes. For summer fun when eating, try this dish .

Bologna-Sauerkraut Mounds

1 pound bologna (about 2½ to 3 inches in diameter)
1 can (1 pound) sauerkraut

Cut bologna into 12 slices approximately ½ thick. Place 6 slices bologna in a greased 8x12-inch baking dish. Top each with approximately ½ cup sauerkraut, another bologna slice and ½ cup mashed potato.

Pour in any remaining sauerkraut juice. Bake in a moderate oven (350 F.) for 25 to 30 minutes, or until heated through. Yield: 6 servings.

Steaks Sizzlin' In Early Morn

Want to spend a whole day at beach or lake, even breakfast time? Then take a tip from the people who live in the sun all year 'round, and cook and eat your breakfast outdoors right at the scene.

Of course, have a little something to eat very early in the morning before you start, perhaps juice, cereal and coffee. After you arrive at the shore, make the main part of your morning meal outdoors, like a Hawaiian "luau" or native feast. Then you'll still have lots of sunny hours before you.

Here's an easy menu for your cook-outdoors breakfast:

Grilled Individual Steaks with Grilled Bananas in Peel
Coconut-Topped Rolls
Campfire Cocoa

Get the coals going, set the steaks to sizzling, put on maple-drizzled bananas in their peel—and a wonderful feast is under way with the very least work imaginable.

The liquid sweetener for your beach breakfast, maple-blended syrup, gives an exotic glaze to the bananas and enhances their flavor in a new way.

The rolls can be glazed with maple-blended syrup and topped with coconut the night before the breakfast, and then just barely heated in aluminum foil at the coolest part of the grill. Conveniently enough, the cocoa is made at the scene with portable milk — that's rich, evaporated milk that comes in cans — and since you've got your maple blended syrup along with you to make the bananas, use it to sweeten the cocoa, too. It's a delicious outdoors treat.

BANANAS GRILLED IN PEEL

Take a banana that has all-yellow or slightly green-tipped peel. That's because a less-ripe banana will stay firm during cooking. With a knife, make a lengthwise slit in the banana peel just a little with knife or fingers, drizzel in a little maple-blended syrup all along the slit. Now put the banana to grill on a grate over the glowing coals. The peel will turn black. The fruit inside will develop an extra-delicious, mellow flavor everyone will like. To eat the fruit, you just pull aside the peel and with a fork or spoon, eat the cooked fruit inside.

CAMPFIRE COCOA

⅛ teaspoon salt
2 cups water
1 tall can (1⅔ cups) evaporated milk
¼ cup maple-blended syrup

Combine cocoa and salt in campfire pot. Add water and bring to a boil, stirring constantly with long spoon. Simmer 2 minutes on back of grill (away from the hottest coals.) Stir in evaporated milk and maple-blended-syrup. Bring to serving temperature but do not boil. Yield: 3 servings.

SPUR OF THE MOMENT

Pull A Pre-Packed Picnic From Freezer And Just Go

If you're interested in time saving picnic foods or if you're a "spur of the moment" picnicker, a freezer will provide short order assistance. Menus planned around frozen foods can assure ease in preparation as well as in packing.

Attractive to see and delicious to taste describe appealing foods. A meat main course, a vegetable, salad or relishes or both, dessert and beverage usually provide a satisfying menu for hearty picnic appetites. Ground beef patties or ground beef shaped to serve on a finger roll or bun and sandwiches with sliced or ground cooked beef, veal, pork or lamb or ground cooked meats are ideal for freezing. Mayonnaise, catchup, mustard, olives, pickles and pickle relish may be packed for the "as you like" extras. Corn-on-the-cob can be the vegetable. Baker's cup cakes, cookies (including brownies) are dessert suggestions and tea or coffee are beverage ideas.

Ground beef patties or ground beef rolls may be shaped for individual servings before freezing. To be at their best, seasonings should not be added before freezing. The individual servings are properly wrapped and quickly frozen for storage. When desired, they can be taken from the freezer and transported, as wrapped, to the picnic; ready to be unwrapped and grilled or broiled. For variety, bacon may be wrapped around the servings just before cooking.

Sandwiches with sliced cooked beef, veal, pork and lamb freeze well. Butter the bread or not, as desired, make the sandwiches, wrap them carefully for freezing, freeze quickly and store until ready to use. The sandwiches should be removed from the freezer long enough before serving to become defrosted. Allow 2½ to 3 hours defrosting time at room temperature. Allow about half this time if sandwiches are defrosted at slightly higher than room temperature.

Many delicious sandwich fillings also lend themselves to freezing—two easy ones to prepare are (1) Dried Beef Sandwich Filling and (2) Ham and Raisin Sandwich Filling. The fillings may be frozen separately or as sandwiches.

DRIED BEEF SANDWICH FILLING

1 jar (2½ ounces) dried beef
1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese
1 teaspoon prepared horseradish
1 tablespoon minced onion

Cut dried beef into thin strips with scissors. Combine remaining ingredients and mix thoroughly. Yield: 1⅓ cups filling.

HAM AND RAISIN SANDWICH FILLING

1 cup finely chopped cooked ham
2 tablespoons chopped raisins
2 tablespoons chopped nuts
¼ cup finely chopped celery
2 teaspoons finely chopped onion
¼ cup salad dressing

Combine all ingredients and mix. Yield: 1⅓ cups filling.

Most cup cakes freeze well. The cup cakes may be frozen with or without frosting. If frosted, freezing them quickly before wrapping will prevent crushing the frosting.

FROM THE FREEZER

With a freezer filled with these foods, there is little left to do for picnic preparation. The time period between the time you pack and the time you eat will determine how far in advance of packing the foods should be removed from the freezer. Plates, cups, napkins, milk, coffee or iced tea and relishes may be packed: then, sandwiches or beef patties and buns, the corn-on-the-cob and the dsesert may be taken from the freezer and like magic all is ready for a picnic!

FREEZER PICNIC—This outing is already for the word "Let's Go!" Foil-wrapped bun-wiches are simply lifted from the freezer, along with cupcakes, also frozen, and whatever you like for nibbles. All will be thawed and ready to eat.

High-Flying Baby

FARMINGDALE, N. Y. (AP)—Baby-care items are used to keep Republic Aviation Corp.'s F105 Thunderchief in flying trim. Diapers are used to wipe down canopies and instrument panels; talcum powder is used to ease friction when tight fitting fuel cells are installed and castile soap is used for pressure hoses and connections.

Reverse Procedure

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Police found themselves working in reverse. They uncovered a cache of stolen goods, then set about the task of trying to find the theft victims.

In Safe-Keeping

LOCKPORT, N. Y. (AP) — A sudden gust of wind deposited a $300 bank draft which Mrs. Lewis A. Denison was carrying. In fact, the draft is so securely deposited that no one has been able to get at it. It was carried into the display sign of a drug store, and authorities say the huge sign would have to be taken apart to get the draft.

Means Keep Off

SHIPSHOAL ISLAND, Va. (AP) — Warning signs on this and neighboring Plumtree Island in Chesapeake Bay really mean keep off. Unexploded bombs have been accumulating since the days of Billy Mitchell and the Air Force says they are a major hazard to any person who might go ashore.

Lecture Due

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Stephen Cox, 5, provided a twist to the usual story of a lost boy found by police. When found, he was taken to the police station and held for his mother—policewoman Betty Carlson.

Tax Recovery

PETERSBURG, Va. (AP) — On the way to the bank, John Spain, city tax collector, dropped a deposit bag containing $26,000 of the taxpayers' money. A number of persons stepped over it before Raymond Valentine, an attorney, picked it up and returned it.

When To Season

It's worth remembering that roasts may be seasoned before, during or after cooking. However, chops should be seasoned after cooking. In preparing chops or steaks, salting will tend to draw out some of the juices, thereby retarding the browning process.

Dining Al Fresco Offers Delights And Drawbacks

By BETSY M. WOODMAN

Looking back, I have a sneaking suspicion that my mother's enjoyment of my joy in eating outdoors was not purely delight in my delight. During that first age of poor spoon-to-mouth coordination, the grass could take it better than the floor or furniture.

The age of the birthday party on the lawn had its beauty—and problems. Every child whose mother could see the site of the fete was invited lest someone feel snubbed. Beauty came to the party, but no one knew how long she would stay.

The table was a lovely pastel garden and the guests gay butterflies in their party clothes. At a certain moment the darling happiness grew shrill and the pretty vittles fed the greensward. Both esthetic and practical purposes for eating out were justified though it ended as much al fescue as fresco.

My first age of eating on the run began the summer after kindergarten when being out was the only reason for getting up. This age ran intermittently through school days but for different reasons. In the beginning a handful of crackers, leaving a Hansel and Gretel trail, was the perfect morning snack. Nothing was more thirst-quenching than a drink from the hose, especially if it wet us on the outside, too.

The luncheon sandwich, handout at the door, was best. Variety's spice of life was not our concern. The stability of routine meant peanut butter and jelly. One non-conformist whom we tolerated for his afternoon contribution of cookies, doted on peanut butter and marshmallow. Our reflexes were conditioned for dessert by the ice cream man's bell as he dispensed his frozen rainbows.

There was a pre-adolescence age when self-consciousness consumed me. Doing anything where it showed was fraught with agony. This was especially true of carrying uncamouflaged shoes to the cobblers, or eating on Aunt Harriet's porch.

It jutted into the oak shadows, perfumed by a shaggy garden. I felt it practically bordered the sidewalk 100 yards away where the constant public could hear me chew my celery.

This was when the wish to be a boy was most fervent. Males my age ate out, too, but in the wonderful secrecy of some tree house or blanket tent. My brother escaped the healthful soup and salad meals simply because he couldn't transport them to his lair. I couldn't even enjoy my two carbohydrate-laden passions, devil's food cake drowned in cream or peppermint ice cream buried in hot fudge sauce.

Running through the ages were always picnics. They were so intermingled with things like three-legged races, enduring the scalding beach sand and frigid water of Lake Michigan, or fishing with a long cane pole that the food taste was one with the event. The taste of potato salad today brings a vision of sunburn and vigorous tan.

The sophisticated age arrived simultaneously with my eye-blue picture hat, the knowledge that tripe was not seafood, and a date for luncheon in a Boston sidewalk cafe. Alternate moments were anguishing. Did I follow the waiter or my escort? Was a la carte the whole meal or separate itmes? Should I order first? Lobster? Why, yes, I guessed that would be nice. I had never eaten any.

The sight of a whole, bright, shining, red lobster on my plate was most literally stunning. I look back in wonder at my accomplishment of holding the big hat on in the sea breeze, mastering the technology of cracking lobster claws, and still feeling romantic. So this was al fresco. Dreamily I forgot myself, and used two hands to butter a roll. The saucy breeze plopped my gorgeous hat into the fishpond. Al fiasco.

Much too suddenly maturity set in. I was repeating the eating out ages with my own progeny. But there were snags I hadn't remembered. Children like to help get ready to eat outdoors, especially when it was spilly stuff. My daughter executed the most precise maneuver of her childhood when she marched to the door with her plate of two poached eggs (no toast, mommie) looked back lovingly, slanted the plate exactly enough for the eggs to follow gravity, and stepped first in one and then the other without missing a cadence.

Bees, birds, dogs and raccoons we have shooed from the table al fresco. Once in Alaska a horde of mosquitos sat so thickly on the hamburger bun that we were afraid we would bite THEM.

One nice part of this maturity—eating out doors is a matter of choice and inclination. You can stand in a homesteader's muddy clearing cleaning seven-inch razor clams for a chowder to be cooked over a log fire in the open. It will taste better than anything you ever remember eating on a damask cloth.

And you can look with amused tolerance at a neighbor on his Alaskan back porch, grilling steaks. His breath more visible than the charcoal smoke, and he wears an overcoat and earflaps for the temperature is minus 20.

GOURMETS OUTDOORS—The most particular of epicures will enjoy his outdoor fare when it is laced with the subtleties he enjoys otherwise. From 'burgers to beans this menu has finesse.

Lucky Reminder

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Harold Orbach was reading a newspaper when an item caught his eye. It said he was guest soloist that afternoon at a chorale. He had forgotten the engagement, but made it in time.

COOKING TIME

Tongue is always prepared by cooking in liquid. Always allow 1 hour per pound for the tongue to become tender. Most beef tongues will average 3 to 4 pounds in weight.

Meat Facts

Remember, price does not determine the food value of meat. The less-demanded cuts afford just as many of the minerals, vitamins and protein as do the more demanded cuts.

Hidden Treasure

Barbecue Bound To Make Gourmand Out Of Gourmet

The millions of Americans who are so thoroughly and happily addicted to picnicking: Are they gourmets or gourmands?

In our opinion they are both. They are gourmets, we opine, for like the gourmet the picnicker is "devoted to the pleasures of the (picnic) table."

And surely they are gourmands for what picnicker can keep from being a gourmand when there's plenty of appetizing food and when fresh air and sunshine have sharpened his appetite.

Featured on this menu, meant for service before the backyard fireplace, on the patio or porch, are: Barbecued Italian cheeseburgers, chili cole slaw, gourmet baked beans, assorted relishes and frosty glasses of iced tea.

Like all good picnic sandwiches these feature fresh, enriched yeast-raised buns. They're split in half, then toasted to give them a golden glow. The hamburgers, fashioned from freshly ground round steak, are broiled slowly over hot coals. Hickory chips smolder beneath, providing a favorite smoky taste. For a novel touch they're basted frequently with Italian dressing. Before completion, a slice of cheese is placed atop. As it melts its goodness dribbles through the meat.

BARBECUED ITALIAN CHEESEBURGERS

Ground beef
Italian salad dressing
Slices of sharp process Cheddar cheese
Round buns, split and toasted

Shape ground beef into patties. Broil slowly until brown on both sides, brushing frequently with Italian dressing. Top each with a cheese slice and return to the grill until cheese melts. Serve on toasted buttered buns.

CHILI COLE SLAW

1½ quarts shredded cabbage
1¼ cups diced celery
3 tablespoons minced onion
⅓ cup chili sauce
¾ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
¾ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing

Toss cabbage, celery and onion together lightly. Mix chili sauce, salt, pepper and mayonnaise. Spoon over the cabbage mixture and toss ever so lightly. Yield: 6 servings.

GOURMET BAKED BEANS

4 cups uncooked beans
⅓ cup chopped onion
¼ pound salt pork, diced
½ cup dark brown sugar
½ cup catsup
1 teaspoon dry mustard or curry powder
2¼ teaspoons salt
1 cup boiling water
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce

Soak beans in water to cover overnight. Bring to a slow boil, in the water in which they were soaked. Simmer slowly until tender, 2 to 3 hours. Or cook in pressure cooker following manufacturer's directions. Transfer beans and liquid to a greased casserole. Stir in remaining ingredients. Bake at 250 degrees F. 6 to 8 hours. Add additional water if the beans become too dry. Uncover during the last hour of baking. Yield: 10 servings.

Now's The Time For Barbecue Suggestions

A patio picnic seems out of style at this time of year but there's no reason why you can't keep a few good suggestions filed away for approaching summer festivities.

Barbecued spareribs are usually a well-liked pork dish . . . a meal that can be classified as finger food. Instead of the barbecue sauce, however, an apricot glaze is applied to these spareribs.

In some cases . . . Apricot Glazed Spareribs might appeal to more people than the nippy flavor of the barbecue sauce.

APRICOT GLAZED SPARERIBS

1½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
⅔ cup apricot preserves
2 tablespoons lemon juice

Have the spareribs sawed across the rib bones so individual servings may be carved easily after cooking. Place ribs, rib ends down, on a rack in a baking pan.

Cover tightly and bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for 1 hour. Season with salt and pepper. Continue baking uncovered 45 minutes.

Combine apricot preserves and lemon juice. Spread over spareribs and bake 30 minutes longer, or until spareribs are done and glaze is set. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Add a little ginger to the salt and pepper mixture that is to be rubbed into a lamb roast. Good flavor partners!

Spaghetti 'A La Dente' Is Old Continental Secret

The secret to good spaghetti is in the cooking.

Make it al dente (just tender, but firm). Use a large pan so there is plenty of room for the strands to cook separately and for the water to bubble briskly. And use lots of water for cooking—three quarts of water for eight ounces of pasta. Some Italians recommend four quarts of water.

Add about one teaspoon salt for each quart of water, and have the water boiling vigorously before adding pasta. You may also like to add a teaspoon of olive or salad oil to the water to prevent sticking.

Instead of breaking long spaghetti, hold a handful at one end and dip the other into the bubbling water. As the spaghetti softens, curl it around in the pan until the whole length is dunked, the magazine advises.

DON'T COVER

Don't cover; stir at the start of cooking to prevent sticking. Cook until tender, but firm. The thinner the pasta, the faster it cooks, so be a pot watcher. Drain immediately when done.

To keep spaghetti hot, the magazine says to drain in a colander and set the colander over a pan containing a small amount of boiling water. Coat spaghetti with three of four tablespoons of butter or margarine for six servings, to keep the strands from sticking together. Cover the colander.

Or for a short time, you may return drained spaghetti to the empty cooking pan, add butter, then cover to keep it warm.

JIM AND JAY HAVE EXCLUSIVE
B-B-Q FOOD TREATS

SPECIALLY PREPARED BARBECUE MEATS THAT ARE BEST BECAUSE . . .

Jim and Jay's meats always taste better — and there's a reason. First — Each bit of meat purchased is personally inspected. Twice each week Jim or Jay make special buying trips and personally select the meats they know are superior. Second — They sell nothing but properly aged meats — insuring better taste. Third — A modern storage plant not only keeps meats at their proper temperature, but infra-ray lamps make it impossible for any bacteria to exist on their meat. These extra services make Jim and Jay's Quality Meats — Best. Once you try — you'll always buy!

BONELESS PORK LOIN
for outdoor spit or rotisserie. You have missed a taste treat if you have not tried it before. Tasty and reasonable, too.

I CAN'T KEEP THE FAMILY OUT-OF-DOORS
Since we brought so much light and air inside our house with 1959 spring patterns in carpets and linoleums — planned and installed for us by Rafael Floor Covering and Appliance Co. Suggested patterns and colors were blended with the color scheme of each room to bring out hidden attractiveness. Small rooms look larger . . . large rooms look warmer . . . Both outside and artificial light are used to full advantage. Best of all this planning cost us nothing . . . nor did the estimates. Why don't you see Marin's largest dealer in —

INVITING SPOT FOR OUTDOOR LIVING

POOL REFLECTS POOL SHELTER

A pool shelter casts a reflection in the pool at the George Helms residence at 224 Laurel place, San Rafael. Plastic lanterns provide light, and the shelter itself is a screen from adjoining property. The whole of it, including the raised planting area, was designed by landscape architect Henry Cole of San Rafael and San Francisco.

Picnics Are More Fun If You Keep Photo Records Of Them

Picnics are fun for everyone —and especially for children. Why not play up to your youngster's pleasure in outdoor eating, and make your next children's party a picnic? You'll enjoy it too, for there will be no fuss that goes with an indoor party.

Perhaps there's a warm weather birthday in your family. A backyard party will delight young guests. Plans should include outdoor games to give vent to their boisterous spirits, and simple foods to satisfy those ravenous appetites.

A hobo theme will eliminate most of your clean-up job. Prepare a picnic bucket lunch for each child, and include a bandana "tablecloth" in each bucket. Keep the menu simple, so it may be eaten by hand. Sandwiches of whole wheat and enriched white bread with nourishing cheese fillings, potato chips, carrot and celery sticks and apples will pack easily into the individual picnic buckets. Chocolate and plain milk may be poured into paper cups. Then when it's time for dessert, bring on the ice cream cones — assorted flavors of course, just like a roadside stand.

For this picnic menu, here are recipes for cheese fillings, and directions for making the "wooden" picnic buckets.

COTTAGE CHEESE SPREADS

1 cup creamed cottage cheese, sieved
2 tablespoons sour cream or milk
Salt and pepper
One of the following:
¼ cup deviled ham or ½ cup minced ripe olives or ½ cup chopped nuts or
⅓ cup chopped pickle relish

Mix together the cottage cheese, sour cream, salt and pepper. Blend in one of the flavorings listed. Store in covered jar in refrigerator. Makes about 1½ cups of spread.

DEVILED CHEESE SPREAD

½ pound shredded American cheese
¼ cup soft butter
1 tablespoon chili sauce
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1 tablespoon finely minced onion
Dash of salt and pepper

Blend all ingredients thoroughly. Store in covered jar in refrigerator. Ot least one hour before using, remove from refrigerator. Spread buttered bread with mixture. Makes 2 cups filling, enough for 8 sandwiches.

PICNIC BUCKETS

1 dozen 1-quart size paper freezer containers
4 yards of cotton upholstery cord

Purchase paper freezer containers at your local grocery, hardware or paper goods store. The thick upholstery cord is available in the drapery section of most department stores. To make each bucket, punch holes in opposite sides of paper container, close to the top. Using approximately 1 foot of cord per bucket, thread cord through one hole from inside, then through second hole from outside, knotting ends on inside of holes.

Sunday Supper Salad

Cut thin slices of cold roast beef in slivers, marinate in a mixture of Spanish olive oil, wine vinegar, salt, pepper and dry English mustard to taste. Combine with quartered tomatoes, thinly-sliced onion rings, green pepper rings and diced cooked potatoes. Just before serving, add lettuce or other salad greens which have been torn into bite-size pieces, toss thoroughly, serve accompanied by plenty of crusty bread.

Forgetful Borrowers

SAUKVILLE, Wis. (AP)—Saukville's volunteer fire department is wondering whether it was such a good idea to play the good neighbor during recent floods here. The department allowed flood victims to use fire department equipment to battle the water. Few of the borrowers returned the equipment.

Like Posies? Baseball? You'll Find Both In Parks

If you are among those who hate baseball, but like to walk amid the posies and the redwoods, parks in Marin's cities are for you.

But if you like baseball, and the sight of flowers makes you break out in spots, parks in Marin's cities also are for you.

There are a lot of them to pick and choose from. And if you like to swim there are at least three large pools at high schools especially earmarked for public use during summer months.

There are all manner of plans and plots especially constructed so that all members of the family can enjoy outdoor recreation.

At San Rafael's Bret Harte Park children can have barrels of fun with play equipment, and there is a picnic area and a barbecue for families on outings. It is located at Irwin and Hazel.

Also in San Rafael, one of the biggest city parks in Marin is Albert Field at B and Treanor streets. There is a lighted baseball and softball field, lighted tennis courts, badminton courts, archery range, bocci ball court, horseshoe pit a wading pool and slides.

At Gerstle Park in San Rafael there are flower gardens, a barbecue and picnic area. This park is located at San Rafael avenue and Clark street.

At Sun Valley Park at Solano near K street in San Rafael there is also ample recreation area with playground equipment.

Boyd Park in San Rafael at B and Laurel boasts a large grove of trees, flowers, barbecue facilities and picnic area. Also there are tennis courts.

The pool at San Rafael High School is open to the public under the direction of the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Department during the summer.

The recreation program for the summer is an ambitious one .You can choose from badminton, archery, dramatics, arts and crafts, ball games, bowling and music.

Memorial Park in San Anselmo at the rear of the Isabel Cook Elementary School has space for tennis, basketball, softball and volley ball. The pool at Sir Francis Drake High School is open to the public, and the city recreation department runs a program for youths at city schools.

Soon the city will be studying recommendations that it buy up to 30 acres of property at the end of San Francisco boulevard for development as a community center with emphasis on recreation and leisure. Such a project would be for all age groups.

Near Deer Park School in Fairfax is Marin Municipal Water District lands known as Marin Meadows. The outdoor lover will find this area surrounded by redwoods to be one of the best in Marin. There are trails leading off for exploration by hikers and horsemen, in the picnic area are barbecue pits. There's a ball field too.

For those who wish to browse in the area of the ships and the sea there is a playground with swings and things in Belvedere.

Mill Valley boasts a large number of parks and shaded dells. Redwood Park on the city golf course offers barbecue pits, a playground for children and a ball field — and then there's golf too. At Boyle Park there is a group barbeque pit, an enclosed tot-lot, handball courts and tennis courts.

At Freeman Park there is a lawn and trees, play boxes, a basketball area and a horseshoe pit. Molino Park has a large paved play area where bike riders can two-wheel it all over the place and keep off the streets. There also is playground equipment and a sandbox.

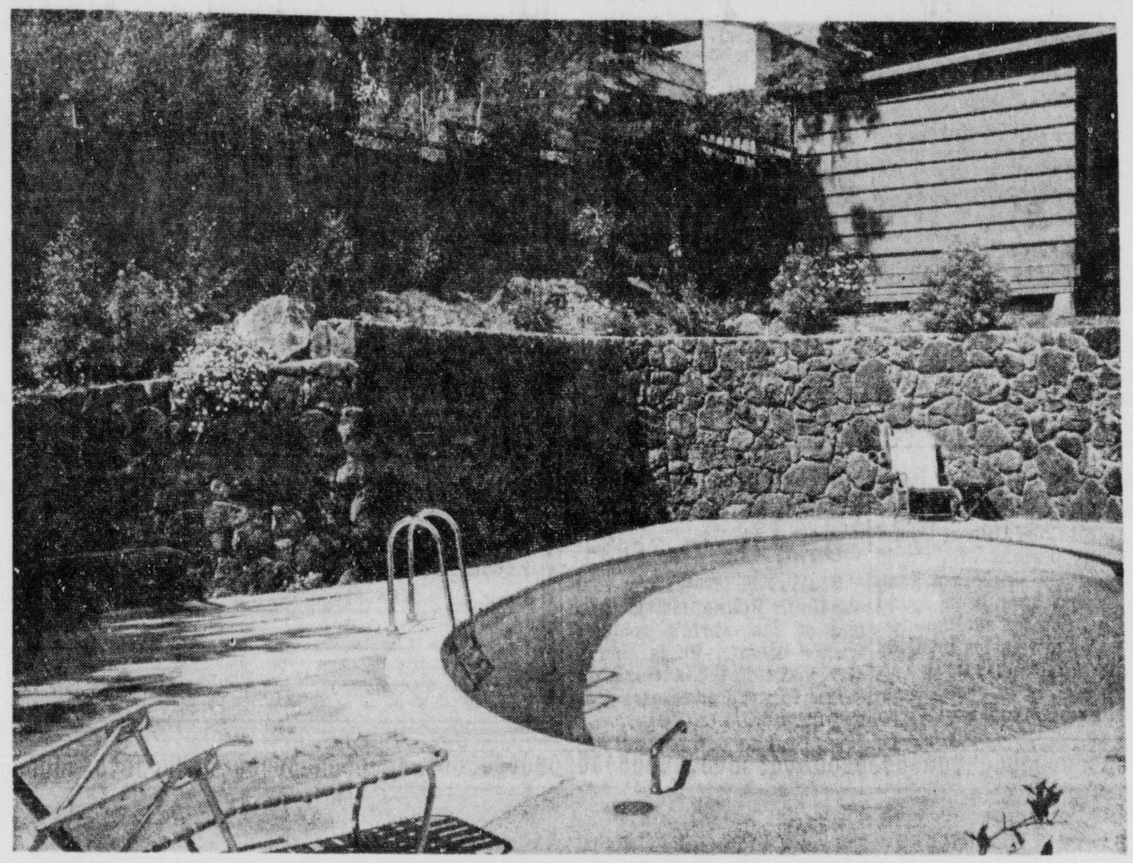
Tamalpais High School has a pool. And in the creek area at Miller Redwood Grove you can saunter through. Choose your weapon — baseball bat or walking stick — city parks are for recreation.



KNOTTY POOL PROBLEM SOLVED HERE

Beautiful stonework in the retaining wall topped by planting graces the pool at Dr. C. H. Peterson's residence, 220 Berryl avenue, in the El Monte area near Mill Valley. A knotty problem was solved here. Mill Valley landscape architect Herman E. Hein designed the area so that a pool could be placed and be usable on a hillside. (Independent-Journal photo)

Harbor Loan Bill Passes Committee

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The Assembly Ways and Means Committee has approved a bill designed to make it easier for cities and counties to get loans from the state to build small boat harbors.

The measure, by Assemblyman Robert Crown (D-Alameda), was sent to the lower house floor for additional action.

However, Crown amended the plan to require the state Department of Finance to approve only the loans which appear likely to be repaid.

Steel Comes In Handy For Garden Structures

With new designs in light steel framing for homes and with the attraction of more livable in and outdoor area, comes a unique use of steel in garden structures.

The garden shelter that allows openness of structure to match the openness of the new home design is now being developed with the simple combination of a landscape architect and a home owner who desires something different.

The sunshade arbor designed by Henry Cole, landscape architect for the Henry Pierce home of Terra Linda, needed to match the contour of the home without detracting from the general design of the entire garden and house.

The sunshade was designed to unite with five heavy wooden beams that support the house and extend into the patio area as projected overhangs. Because of these heavy beams, it became a fundamental necessity to use wood for framing the entire roof. However, due to the extensive use of glass throughout the garden area, it became imperative that new material be introduced to cut down on the number of view blocking columns, yet contrast with existing wooden structure.

A simple steel post and beam construction, utilizing a small steel beam to carry the load to the steel pipe columns, was employed.

Rank Is Same

MAGUIRE AIR FORCE BASE, N.J. (AP) — It looks as though one husband and wife team will always have trouble deciding who's boss. Last September, David F. Peterson was promoted to senior master sergeant. Recently, his wife, Grace, was promoted to the same new enlisted grade. They are the first senior top-kick team in the Air Force.

Judge Takes Breather

DENVER (AP) — After Don D. Bowman was sworn in as a Denver district court judge to fill a vacancy, he had to disqualify himself from the first case assigned to him. The defendant's attorney was the judge's son, Arthur Bowman.

Tiburon-Belvedere Area Is Dream Of Outdoor Living

Sports, Recreation Facilities Opportunities Are Unmatched

By DEDEE ABRAMSON

For a community only a few miles away from one of the most sophisticated cultural centers of the world, San Francisco, to have the recreational facilities of the Southern Marin peninsula is perhaps unique.

And so the Tiburon Peninsula and Belvedere are. Here are found sports facilities and recreational entertainment, both natural and man-made, to satisfy the most ardent sportsmen's request for outdoor living.

Where else can you get up from the breakfast table and take a dip year-round in a land-locked clear lagoon?

Where else can you step off the patio into a sailboat and spend the afternoon enjoying the sun and the water?

The sport for which the Tiburon, Belvedere and Richardson Bay area has become nationally known is of course, boating. And boating in all its forms.

The tiny El Toro and others of its size has a field day sailing on the Belvedere Lagoon and the giant power cruiser can be found each weekend racing on the San Francisco Bay. The unruffled waters of the lagoon are dotted each summer weekend with the bobbing white sails of Sunboats, Snipes and Wood Pussys.

Both Corinthian and San Francisco Yacht Clubs in Tiburon have berthing facilities filled with all types of boats, racing and pleasure craft, which are used during all months of the year. Motor-driven craft and sailboats of all sizes are anchored side-by-side and tended carefully by loving hands of all ages during the year.

For the fisherman who prefers his sport on a larger scale, there are launching ramps in Tiburon for pursuit outside the Golden Gate of the Salmon during the run.

Each weekend Belvedere Cove, Richardson Bay and Racoon Straits are filled with the hardy water-skiers that do not mind an occasional dunking in the icey San Francisco Bay Waters.

For the small-fry and the fisherman that likes to "take it easy," the rocky shores of the Tiburon Peninsula and Richardson Bay provide a bountiful harvest of pearch and smelt. The sportsman who anchors his boat off the rugged tip of Belvedere Island will also be rewarded with a variety of rockfish.

Tennis enthusiasts may use the two peninsula clubs, the Belvedere Tennis Club and the Southern Marin Recreation Center, that have courts. The center also has a regulation swimming pool and a children's playing field in the area surrounding the main buildings which are used by community organizations for social affairs and meetings. The Belvedere Tennis Club, which recently completed its two courts, has plans for a clubhouse and a pool in the future.

For those who enjoy the quiet solitude or nature study and hiking, there are the rolling brown hills filled with irregular trails that wind among ancient rock formations and wooded glens.

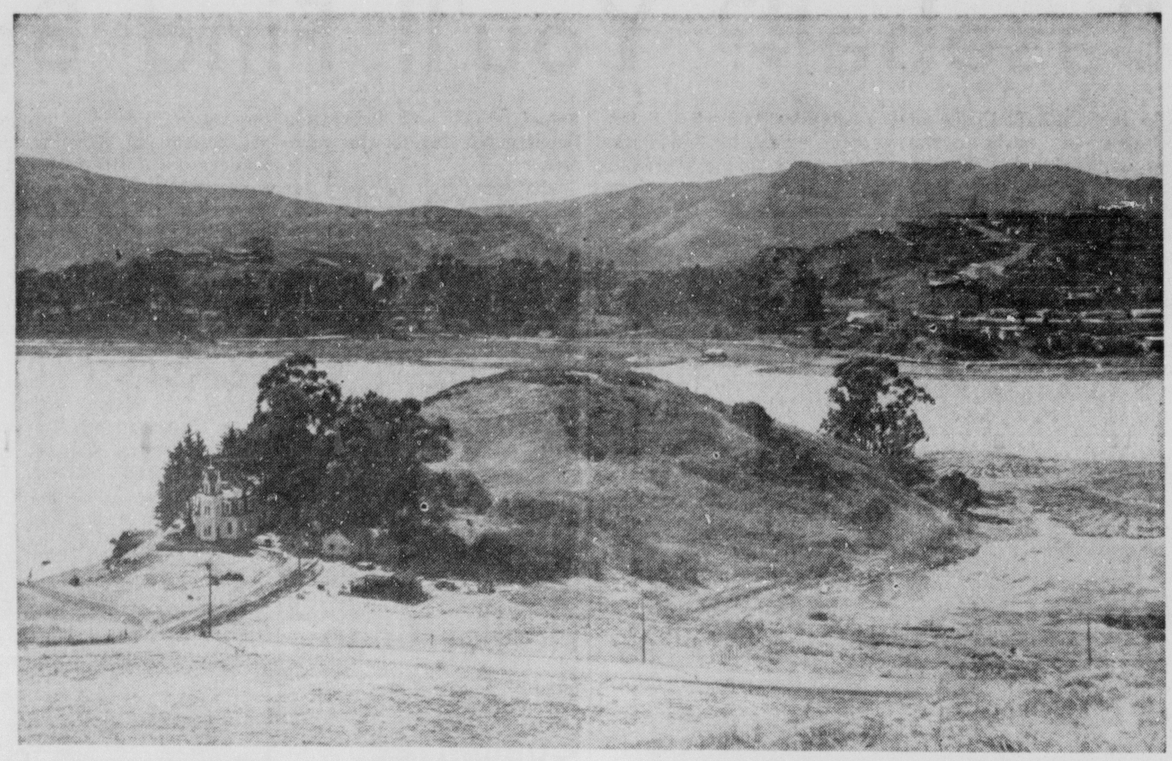
Less active sportsmen who prefer window-shopping and dining enjoy Tiburon's Main Street, which is lined with antique and contemporary shops that fill the streets with sightseers year-round. Gourmets may choose a Polynesian menu or eat seafood on a landing over the water where boats dock continually for their owners to partake of the refreshments offered. Even a soda shop may be found for the younger thirsty set.

All types of homes are found on the peninsula, from the quaint and colorful water-front apartments perched over on the Belvedere seawall to the palatial rambling edifices on Belvedere Island. The one facet they all have in common is the patio, the primary basis of all outdoor living. On summer evenings, the wafting aroma of barbecuing dinners blend into the bay breezes from the lagoon to the top ridge of the Tiburon hills.

To enjoy the recreational activity of swimming in their own backyards, peninsulaites have had to carve swimming pool sites out of steep hillsides, project them out into space and even jack-hammer into rocky abutments. Some lagoon residents have even built them in the yards facing on the waters.

But where there is mind there is will and dotted along the peninsula are all sizes and shapes of pools, a tribute to the owners' ingenuity and determination to enjoy the outdoors.

The fisherman, sailor, swimmer, water-skier, hiker, whatever the age, who lives on the Tiburon peninsula has in addition to his particular outdoor activity, the one that can be enjoyed at any time during the year... the spectacular, breath-taking always-changing panorama of the San Francisco Bay Area. As one resident succinctly sums it up, "You can't beat the peninsula as a place to live."



HEART OF CONSERVATION PROJECT—So that the Tiburon Peninsula will retain its charm of outdoor living, the Richardson Bay Foundation and National Audubon Society have purchased vast acreage of tidelands to be retained as a wild life refuge. Headquarters for the operation has been set up in the old Lyford mansion, seen here nestled against a knoll overlooking Richardson Bay.

Barbecue Hint

With the barbecue season just around the corner, we give you this little hint for seasoning. Make a powder of several herbs, rubbing them between your fingers, mix with salt and fine dry bread crumbs. Sprinkle this over chuck steak which has been brushed generously with Spanish olive oil. Wrap the whole thing in waxed paper and leave in the refrigerator all day or overnight. Then broil over charcoal for a wonderfully fragrant repast.

Qualified Vote

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Rep. Charles E. Hoffman of Cincinnati got lost in a tangle of amendments and questions about a measure being voted on in the Ohio Legislature. When polled on a roll call, he responded: "Yes — on whatever we are voting on."

Gambling With Lives

DENVER (AP)—Colorado Highway Patrol Chief Gilbert Carrel says many persons who would not be caught dead in a gambling casino have been found dead in unsafe automobiles. "Many of the vehicles involved in fatal accidents last year were in need of mechanical repair," he says. "The people who were killed in these accidents gambled their lives and lost."

Down On The Farm

TROY, Ala. (AP) — Three-year-old Keith Rolling claims to be one of the world's youngest tractor drivers. He is able to start and stop the machine, put it into forward or reverse gear, and drive it.
